Rev. F. L. Young went to Portland Monday to attend the ministerial meeting of the pastors of the M. E. churches.

Mrs. Hill who lives on Meridan street fell on a slippery step at her home one morning this week and fractured the small bone in one of her ankles.

Gus Guddat, who owns the A. J. Winters farm in the Rex neighborhood, is expecting a half dozen or more families out from his former home in the east soon.

Miss Beulah Spaulding, who is a member of the executive committee of the college debating league, went to Monmouth last Saturday to attend a meeting of the committee.

F. A. Morris and J. C. Duncan have bought thirty feet frontage on First street adjoining the Hagmann blacksmith shop on the east, where they are expecting to build a real estate office in the spring.

Walter Inman who left here for his former home in Hamilton county, Indiana a short time ago, on account of the illness of his mother, arrived there in time to see her buried. She died while he was on the way.

Ernest Jackson who teaches in the East Side High School, Portland, and who has been a frequent visitor among the Newberg young people, went to Wichita, Kansas, during the holidays and on his return brought a bride with him.

The revival services which were being conducted at the M. E. church by Evangelist Van Marter have been merged into union services and owing to the large attendance the meetings are now being held at the Friends church. A good degree of interest is being shown.

In order to comfortably seat all who may desire to attend, the Conwell lecture will be given in the Friends church. Those holding season tickets for the course may call at either of the drug stores on Friday or Saturday and select seats. Others will be accommodated on Monday and Tuesday. The price of admission for this lecture will be seventy-five cents for reserved seats and fifty cents for general admission.

Jesse Edwards has sold his residence, which has been their home in Newberg for more than twenty years, to W. H. Whitten, the lapidary man. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will go to Portland to take care of their son Walter's children while he and his wife make a trip to California, but it is understood that they will build a cottage more in keeping with the size of the family, across the street from the old home in the spring.

Charles Midlam, aged thirty-eight years, who was drowned in the Willamette river below the falls at Oregon City last week was the husband of a stepsister of Mrs. T. B. Duncan, of Newberg. He was a millwright at the pulp mills and in the performance of his duties was crossing the river in a boat when in some way he fell overboard and was drowned. He leaves a wife and two small children. Three years ago the family lost an eight year old boy by drowning in the river above the falls at Canemah, when he slipped from a log raft where he was playing.

S. B. Moffitt started on a trip to California last Saturday, but got no further than Portland where he found railroad connection with the south was cut off for the present by floods in the Sacramento valley.

It is not known certainly that J. C. and Wm. Duncan are operating a coon farm out on the sunny side of Chehalem mountain, but the number of fat and toothsome hind quarters they have been furnishing their friends in town of late arouses such a suspicion.

At the Christian Tabernacle Sunday Jan. 24th at 11 a. m. the pastor, Geo. C. Ritchey, will discuss the question of, "Why observe the gospel ordinances of baptism and communion?" All persons interested, of whatever church or of no church are very welcome to attend.

Mrs. M. C. Saltus, of Middleton who is principal of the Tualatin school, spent Thursday of last week in town as the guest of her assistant, Miss Jessie Gardner, and also visited the public school in town during her stay. Mrs. Saltus is an experienced teacher and has taught in Washington county for a number of years.

Pete Christenson who is now a member of a real estate firm operating at Lexington, Morrow county, was in town the first of the week visiting with relatives. He circulates between Portland and Lexington and keeps an eye peeled for the Scandinavian trade. He says they have a good prospect of landing two or three good sized colonies.

The feeding of birds during the recent cold spell was so universal about Newberg that it appears there was no loss of life among the little songsters around town, but reports come in from the country that many quail and other birds have been found since the snow melted that were unable to withstand the cold and hunger combined. The wind which came with the first fall of snow blew the snow under logs and trees, covering every spot of earth and making it impossible for them to find food or necessary shelter. Many farmers did all they could by way of putting out feed but of course only a small per cent of the birds could be reached and hundreds must have perished.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank the following were elected as a board of directors: J. D. Gordon, president; Amos Nelson, vice president; N. C. Christenson, secretary; Thomas Prince, J. M. Crawford, A. R. Mills, L. B. Ferguson, Bernard Groth, Chas. Larkin.

High School Items

(By Press Committee of Pioneers Society.)

The High School was instructively entertained last Thursday during assembly period, by Mrs. Douglas of Pacific College faculty. An appeal was first made for the protection of our feathered friends; ending with a vivid description of affairs in Turkey and Persia; and of the successes of the common people in their pronounced actions regarding liberal constitutions in these two countries.

There is a good deal of rivalry between the girls to see who is to fill first team basketball positions. We believe that this rivalry will put out a good first team for our High School.

The boys' game between Vancouver High School and our own was one of the fastest of the season and resulted in a score of 9 to 33.
