Mrs. Jennie Remington and daughter, Miss Hallie have gone to Grass Valley, Sherman county to visit with relatives.

Mrs. H. A. Cox and little daughter have been here from Eugene during the week, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Newhouse.

Miss Bell Newhouse and a lady friend were out from Portland last Sunday to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Newhouse.

J. D. Gordon has bought the Jim Heater farm located a mile east of Newberg which he will cut up into small tracts and put on the market. This is a fine laying piece of land and will make a number of nice small home tracts.

N. F. Byers has a force of men at work remodeling his building on First street which has been occupied for some time by the Newberg Land Co. It is being fitted up for a confectionery store and is to be occupied by John McDonald when completed.

Charley Hadley whose home is at Mooresville, Indiana, was in town the first of the week in company with his sister, Mrs. T. S. Townsend, of Portland, visiting with former Indiana and Iowa people. He has been with a daughter in Portland since the first of January and is expecting to remain until some time in March, when he will return to his home.

Dan. J. Gilbert went to Tillamook last week to look after his dairy ranch. This was one of the places that was pretty well covered with the tide a short time ago, when all the low tide lands from Coos bay north were washed by an exceedingly high tide, such as is not often experienced, though no damage resulted to the ranch. Dan went around by water.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferguson, L. B. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nelson went to LaFayette last Sunday to attend the funeral of D. V. Olds, a brother of Mrs. C. C. Ferguson, who died at his home in Seattle as a result of poisoning from eating canned tomatoes. The deceased was fifty four years of age and as nearly all his life had been spent at LaFayette he was well known to a large number of people in the county.

On last Saturday evening John Crosby gave a delightful party at their home at Dundee. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music, after which a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Inez Martin, Portland, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fuller, the Misses Anna Bliss, Dorothy Hull, Olive Stratton, Mabelle and Jessie Gardner, Ruth and Katherine Romig, Bernice Woodward, Emma Dorrance, Messrs Sherman Seeley, Dr. Geo. Larkin, J. G. Bennett, W. A. King, W. A. Newlin and L. G. Kneeshaw.

During Leap Year a number of Newberg maidens past the meridian of life got busy and landed husbands, for better or for worse, and in connection with one of these romances one of our furniture dealers tells a pretty good story on himself. He says a lady who had seen the frosts of more than seventy winters stepped into his place of business one day and seating herself in an easy chair, asked if he would make her a present of the rocker if she would get married. "Sure" he answered at once without hesitancy, feeling sure the "statute of limitations" would govern in her case, but imagine his surprise and consternation, when two days later she called again at the store, announced her betrothal and carried off the piece of furniture in high glee.

Mrs. J. B. Parker has been up from Portland during the week visiting with friends and canvassing for the sale of useful household articles.

F. A. Elliott has bought the Thumberg farm of fifty acres near town on the southwest, which is that part of the David Ramsey donation claim south of the road on which the old farmhouse stands. The price paid was $5000.

Mrs. M. E. Curdick's class of little folks in music gave a recital at her home on Sheridan street February 13. The grades are as follows: Wanda Clemenson 99%, Florence Ward 99, Eva Glass 98%, Lela Burgess 97, Blanch Beckner 97, Ruby Larsen 97.

W. H. Hitchen and son who paid $9000 for the L. W. Harger farm in West Chehalis a few years ago, have sold the place to a gentleman named Cooper and a local capitalist for $21000. The farm consists of about 320 acres and is considered a very desirable piece of real estate.

Mrs. Alice Noel who has been keeping house for her brother, L. W. Charles, during the winter has gone to Montana to be present at the wedding of her son. She took the three older children of Mr. Charles with her, and following the wedding she intends to go to Lake county with the children to begin life on her claim.

This is the harvest season with the hothouse men and they are now making hay. John Gower the lettuce grower is furnishing the local trade as well as shipping to Portland fine crisp lettuce in great quantities, while Miles and Sims are appealing to the tastes of lovers of the beautiful by supplying the trade with carnations.

The recent floods in Northern California have brought results here in Newberg that are appreciated. The Southern Pacific had a hurry up order for some long piling to stem the heavy current of the Sacramento river at Marysville, and the unsightly pile of long poles that has been an eyesore to everybody having business at the railroad depot for the past two years or more, is being shipped away to that point.

L. N. Campbell, a Hood River apple grower who recently sold out there at a good figure, was here with his wife last week taking a look at the country. They were so well pleased with the outlook that they purchased of Mr. Patterson who came here a short time ago, the twenty acre tract out on the road to West Chehalis, formerly known as the James Lawrence place. They bought the place for a home and expect to return to take possession of it in about a month.

The Misses Ione Hill and Olive Stratton entertained at a thimble party at the Stratton home last Thursday evening. The young ladies proved themselves delightful entertainers and the evening soon passed. Dainty refreshments were served. Those present were the Mesdames W. E. Terrell, C. A. Hodson; W. S. Parker, C. E. Fuller and the Misses Esther Andrews, Jessie Britt, Myrtle Gause, Pearl Cummings, Mabelle Gardner, Leora Thorne, Lida Wilson, Emma Dorrance, Lenora Parker, Ruth and Katherine Romig, Sibyl and Bernice Woodward.

In spite of the stormy weather a good audience was out to attend the Lincoln anniversary exercises held at Friends church on last Friday, under the auspices of the local Grand Army Post. There was good music by a mixed choir, who sang a number of the old patriotic songs that made glad the hearts of the soldiers on many a weary march during the long period of the civil war, and Rev. Young delivered a splendid address on the life of Lincoln which was well received. Between fifty and one hundred gray haired veterans were in attendance, as well as a large number of members of the W. R. C.

Walter Mills will remove to his fathers residence on south Meridan street and the latter will retain a room in the house with them.

W. W. Nickell was down from his farm above McMinnville last Saturday selling a lot of clover hay to the Wright Feed & Implement Co.

Postmaster H. M. Hoskins and wife were down from McMinnville last Sunday visiting at the home of his parents near town.

Miss Gussie Crawford has gone to Oakland, California, where she expects to enter one of the large hospitals with a view of taking a nurses course.

Jo Carr who recently sold his property near the steam laundry to a Dayton man, is building a new five room cottage on the corner opposite the Allen Smith property.

Lowell Bristow who recently made a trip to San Francisco, is at home again. He saw the big city on the bay, but not finding a ready opening in electrical work he returned.

The revival services being held at the Friends church by Evangelist Esther Cook whose home is at New Castle, Indiana, are being well attended, sessions being held each afternoon and evening, and the plain gospel truths of the speaker, which are being given without any special demonstration, are given the closest attention. The meetings will continue for several days.

Philip S. Bates, editor and publisher of the Pacific Northwest who was in town a day or two the first of the week, said he expected to see more people come to Oregon in the next few months than can be well cared for, as the low rates are sure to bring the people, and he says there are no towns in the Willamette valley, but that are already crowded, with scarcely a vacant house in them.

The subjects for the sermons at the Christian Tabernacle for February 21 are as follows: 11 A.M. "Baptism of the Holy Spirit," (3rd of series) 7.30 P.M. "The End of Sin." On March 6 at the Baptist church, Dr. Royal J. Dye the famous African missionary of the Christian church will give a very interesting address of his ten years' experiences with cannibal tribes of Central Africa. A lecture well worth 50 cents free. All are invited to these services.

GEO. C. RITCHIEY, Pastor, Christian Tabernacle.

The following excellent program will be rendered at the Baptist church next Sunday afternoon in memorial of Frances E. Willard. Opening song by congregation. Scripture reading, Rev. Stannard; Prayer, Rev. Weaver; Song, Oregon; Rec., two little girls; Song by the L. T. L.; Frances Willard as a teacher, Prof. Wiley; Frances Willard as a Philanthropist, Mrs. Kelsey; Solo, Battle Cry, Mr. Nebwy. Address, "The Present Status of the Liquor Question," Rev. Young; The Memorial Fund, Mrs. Morrison. Free-will offering. Song, Male Quartette; Benediction, Rev. Ritchey.

The Portland evening papers last Tuesday gave an account of the sudden death of Mrs. Phoebe E. Vander Kelen, aged 33 years, at her home at 813 Savier street, Portland. The deceased grew up in this community and was known as Miss Phoebe Mitchell, daughter of Charley Mitchell. At 4.30 in the morning the mother-in-law of the deceased was awakened by the crying of her five-months-old grandchild, which occupied a cradle at the bedside of its mother, and on going to the bedside found her daughter-in-law hanging head-down out of the bed and showing no signs of life. The physician called found that her neck was broken and he supposed she had fallen in an epileptic fit, her head striking the floor. The husband is a member of the street cleaning department and was away at his work.
