Local Events.

Miss Alda Metcalf of Portland, has been in town during the week visiting with Miss Amy Heater.

Mrs. Wm Odekirk, of Woodburn, was here the first of the week visiting with Mrs. R. B. Bass.

Miss Mary Minthorn was up from Portland last Sunday visiting with Miss Bernice Woodward.

Mrs. Stewart was up from Portland Sunday visiting with her daughter, Mrs. John S. Rankin.

Herbert J. Cox was down from Eugene the first of the week visiting with his uncle S. W. Newhouse.

D. D. Coulson, Maynard Redmond and Paul V. Maris were up from Portland last Sunday visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Cecil Brown arrived home from LaGrande the first of the week where she spent a couple of weeks very pleasantly visiting with relatives.

C. C. Cady who was down from Willamina Wednesday, expressed the opinion that Newberg was still several lengths in the lead as a desirable location for a home or for business, and of course we all agree with him.

The funeral of Mrs. Bell E. Driscoll, who died at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland of cancer of the liver, was conducted by Rev. H. J. McDevitt of the Catholic church from the Hollingsworth funeral parlors on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon and son Harry arrived home from Southern California last Sunday evening. They failed to find the weather conditions very favorable at Los Angeles and consequently they went to San Diego, but finding it little better there they shortened their trip by returning home.

Carrol Kirk has resigned his position in the Y. M. C. A. work at North Yakima, Washington and has returned home to take charge of the farm in the Chehalem Center neighborhood for a time and take a needed rest from indoor work. He and his wife arrived last Saturday and his mother has returned from Independence and will live with them.

Jacob L. Jones who came here from Nebraska a few months ago and who had been sick for some time with heart trouble died last Saturday, leaving a wife and a large family of children to mourn his loss. Deceased was 58 years of age. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church, of which he was a member on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. C. Stannard, the pastor.

In the High School debate between the local team made up of Vernon Motschenbacher, Dale Trew and Kathryn Bryan, and the Astoria team composed of Mary Kelley, Alex. Sigurdson and Lawrence Dinneen, the home team were easy winners, the subject discussed being: "Resolved that the school funds should be appropriated on the basis of the number of teachers employed, rather than on the school census. The judges were Rev. F. C. Stannard, Dr. R. W. Harrold and Pres. Kelsey. All the debaters acquitted themselves with credit, but the sixteen year old lad, Lawrence Dinneen proved to be the real Patrick Henry of the occasion. Music was furnished by the Hull family who gave an instrumental trio, a High School quartet composed of the Misses Gregory, Stannard, Moffitt and Miller, and Miss Iola Gorman and Charles Fuller who each gave vocal solos.

The Jack Noble farm in West Chehalem has been sold to Wm Buncle at $77 per acre.

Fred McDonald was up from the lower Columbia country to spend Sunday with his wife.

Cecil J. Hoskins was down from the county seat last Sunday for a feed at his mother's table.

Miss Mary Williams is at home again, after having spent a month visiting at Portland and McMinnville.

Arthur Chapman was here from Goldendale, Washington, the first of the week visiting with the Hinshaws.

Mrs. R. Eggers returned home from Portland the first of the week where she spent some three weeks visiting her daughter. She has returned to the city however on account of her daughter's illness.

John T. Haworth has bought a thirty acres tract located on the side of what was formerly known as Bald Hill, on the side of Chehalem mountain, the larger part of which is in bearing orchard, prunes and cherries.

We are glad to note that Miss Eunice Lewis who has been taking hospital treatment at St. Vincent's in Portland is getting on much better than her physicians had expected. They now hold out strong hopes for her ultimate recovery.

The small boys have been doing their best for the past two weeks trying to usher in springtime by playing marbles on the streets, but with very poor success. A shipment of fishing rods arrived Tuesday and if this don't settle things we will give it up.

H. Harlan, a member of the Christian church and a G. A. R. man from Walla Walla, came to Newberg the first of the week and found things so much to his liking that he rented the property recently sold by Jo Carr and will be here next week with his family.

James Clemenson, the Portland druggist whose fancy runs to poetry in writing copy for advertising his cure-alls, was in town Sunday visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clemenson. "Jimmy," as he was known as a lad in Newberg, is broadening out as the years go by and he is now about as hefty as his sire.

Noah Heater has sold his home in the east part of town, including the residence and seven lots to P. N. Skinner who bought it as an investment. He paid $1600 and was offered $100 for his bargain the following day. We understand the Heaters contemplate removing to Newport or Corvallis. They are numbered among the oldest residents of the community and we are sorry to see them go.

Wm Ray and family who came here recently from Humboldt county, California, are pleased with the country and are expecting to locate permanently. They were in the earthquake belt and say they have had all the experience along that line they want. They saw small houses moved by the quake from the lots they stood on and dumped onto other lots, and property generally piled up in a promiscuous manner that was very disconcerting to property owners, and they have had all they want of that sort of thing.

C. E. Bascom and L. M. Krick, two gentlemen from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, who have been looking Yamhill county over with a view of making an investment, have bought a sixty-three acre tract out in the Springbrook neighborhood which was formerly owned by Edmund Robinson. Mr. Krick will send for his family and go to improving the place at once, while Mr. Bascom will return to his home to continue work with the Rock Island, he having a position as traveling passenger agent with that company. He is fascinated with our country however and says he expects to come out later and make this his home.

Frances Willard memorial services will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday at three o'clock in the afternoon.

A gentleman named Shaw arrived here from Texas on Wednesday with a car of personal effects. He was on the road two weeks.

Rev. J. E. Blair is so well pleased with his new field of work at San Bruno, California, a suburb of San Francisco, that he has sent for his family.

Clyde Atkins has sold his fruit and berry tract located just outside of town on the road to West Chehalem to Thomas Patterson who came here from North Dakota a few months ago. The price paid was $400 per acre.

Mrs. Capitola Cummings has sold her residence on the corner of Third and Meridian streets to a gentleman from McCoy named Kely, and she already has plans matured for building a new bungalow on College street in the middle of the block directly south of the Friends church.

Guy Heater arrived home from Fresno, California, on Wednesday evening where he has been for several months. He has been with an uncle and has been an all round man, working in a store a part of the time and also turning his hand to farm work as occasion demanded.

Levi Lewis has bought the Isaac M. Polluck tract of forty acres near Springbrook. Mr. Polluck paid $1600 for the place a few years ago and he now sells it for $7000. He has improved it by setting and cultivating trees and berries but it shows a very nice profit on the investment. In a few days he will leave for a visit with his father in Oklahoma.

L. B. Charles, who went to Lake county last fall and located on a claim arrived in Newberg Tuesday evening and expects to remain in the valley for some time if he secures a satisfactory job. He left his family to hold the claim down and started out with his team and wagon. He sold the outfit however on the way out and came the balance of the way by public conveyance. Lake county is all right he says and they are well pleased with their location.

C. N. Marsh has sold twenty-eight acres of his farm a mile and a half out on the road to West Chehalem, the part on which the buildings stand, to C. C. Ferguson and Dr. Littlefield. When Mr. Marsh bought this tract of land, which is known as the S. M. Woodward farm, he was told by the knockers that he had made a bad buy, but he is now several thousand dollars to the good and he still has two ten acres tracts left. He and Mrs. Marsh expect to leave here in a short time for a visit with relatives in New York city. They will go by the southern route, traveling by day and at easy stages, and will spend some time in Florida.

I. N. Campell, of Hood River, who recently bought the James Lawrence twenty acre tract a mile and a half out northwest has been in town this week making arrangements to plant ten acres to walnuts. He says he looked the whole Willamette valley over for a location for a walnut orchard and he is satisfied that this locality has advantages ahead of any other he has seen. He makes this statement too in face of the fact that when he came to the valley he had already said he would not locate in the vicinity of Newberg. Of course we will forgive him since he has acknowledged his error and has become a booster for the best town and locality in Oregon. Mr. Campell is a trained orchardist who thoroughly understands the value of care and cultivation and we are glad to see him locate here. He has a force of men putting the house in order and he expects his family to join him soon.
