A Dream.

The man behind the spray nozzle is a factor that has to be reckoned with in these days of reformation, not only by the enemies of the orchard, but of society as well, as the following dream will illustrate.

My dream commenced with the spraying of a hen house or some other foul place and then proceeded to a booze shop literally filled with men and women. In my dream I told them I was ordered to spray that saloon, and not wanting to be too harsh on the people I opened out on one corner of the ceiling and in three seconds the house was cleared of all except the proprietor who protested against the operation. I told him I had my orders from the government, and God was behind the government and it was "Not for me to ask any reasons why; but simply go and do, or die." I thought that Matthew was at the pump outside and as he was anxious that a good job should be done he gave me a heavy pressure and my nozzle was singing like a swarm of bees.
Also that the Devil contracted all saloons and if he has no power to protect, you will have to take it, for the fight was between God and the Devil. I tried to console the saloon keeper by telling him it would be a benefit to the walls as it would kill the moss and microbes. Upon this I awoke with the wish that it might be as real as it seemed. G. W. A.

A thin purse makes a person feel flat.

The horse is the most contrary creature alive. He says neigh to everything.

Another fact to take note of—a horse may pull with all his might but never with his mane.

The last thing a woman does before leaving a house is to gaze into a mirror to reflect.

Odd as it may seem, three tongues are required in hitching a span of horses to a wagon.

Johnny looking at the specks on the potatoes asked: "Mama, are those specs for the potatoes' eyes?"

but often half that number will make a man a foolish and disreputable spectacle.

Many a man has paid a lawyer $5 and $10 for poorer advice than his wife would willingly have given him for nothing.

Talk about woman's vanity!

The Perfect Fence

If you want your farm to look neat, fence it with PITTS-BURGH PERFECT FENCE. Why?
Because: the strands and stays are electrically welded.
Because: it stretches up perfect and even. Because: it stays tight in summer. Because: it adjusts itself perfectly to uneven ground. Because: being electrically welded, the stay wires cannot slip. Because: no top and bottom board required; and because it has no wraps to hold moisture and cause rust. Sold by
