Local Events.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Noble on March 25, a daughter.

Chester Dimond is at home from Willamette spending the spring vacation.

Rev. M. C. Wire was down from Albany the first of the week for a short visit with his son on the prune farm north of town.

L. J. Butterfield has sold his home on the Wynooki road below town, consisting of nine acres, to a man named Spann.

C. B. Wilson made a trip to Dallas on the log train Monday with his father-in-law, T. H. Gardner, who is the man at the throttle.

Mrs. Rankin, wife of Dr. John S. Rankin, in company with the children, spent last Sunday in Portland visiting with her parents.

W. H. Brooks, the father of W. B. Brooks who is foreman in the Graphic office, moved up from Portland the first of the week with his family.

Walter Ingman, who returned to his former home in Hamilton county, Indiana, some months ago on account of the death of his mother, is back again.

A brother of our fellow townsman, H. M. Williams, is here from Jamestown, North Dakota on a visit. This is their first meeting in twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Evans were down from McMinnville Wednesday visiting with a brother of Mrs. Evans who is out on a visit from North Dakota.

The Douglas boys have word from their parents at Pasadena that the attending physician tells them that Rev. John Henry Douglas has a fighting chance for his life.

Owen Maris, who has had a position in the United States National bank in Portland for the past two or three years, was in town last Sunday visiting with the Graphic household.

Mrs. F. A. Elliott was called to the home of her brother, D. P. Price in Portland, Tuesday evening on account of the serious illness of the babe that was only recently born into the Price family.

A new baby girl is reported in the family of Prof. Harvey D. Cumly.
Born on Monday, March 23, to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kirk, a son, Foster Newton.

Calvin Blair, Orin Macy and Cecil J. Hoskins were down from McMinnville last Sunday.

Porter Skinner went to the hot springs at Carson, Washington on the upper Columbia last week to try the healing qualities of the water at that popular resort.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding will spend next Sunday at Newport with Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles. Word from there reports Mr. Miles to be gradually improving.

W. J. Stater was down from McMinnville one day the first of the week with a man from Oklahoma, whom he was showing the best part of Yamhill county.

Mrs. Phoebe Hammer has been over from Scotts Mills during the week attending the course of lectures by President Sharpless, and visiting with her son, and daughter who are in college.

The members of the Friends church at Springbrook are building a new parsonage near the store building. When completed it will be occupied by Rev. E. L. Requa, the new pastor, who arrived from Westfield, Indiana the first of the week.

Postmaster H. M. Hoskins and wife were down from McMinnville last Sunday to hear President Sharpless lecture, and he came again on Tuesday. He spent a year at Haverford under the venerable president and he greatly appreciated the opportunity to again hear him.

Henry Moss who left his home below Rex several days ago, saying he was going to Newberg, has dropped out of sight so effectively that no trace of him can be found. Many theories are advanced regarding his disappearance, but time alone will tell which of them is correct.

W. H. Jenkins, traveling passenger agent for the Southern Pacific, was in town Tuesday in the interest of his company. He remarked that Newberg had always been a good point on their system for revenue and he noted that it was making a rapid increase in business during the past few months.

S. W. Potter arrived home from his trip to Berkeley, California, Tuesday morning where he went to visit with his brother, who held revival services in Newberg a year ago. He went and returned by steamer and had a very pleasant voyage. The weather south he found about the same as we are having here.

Seth A. Mills has bought a farm of 115 acres, located nine miles north of Salem in the Springvalley neighborhood on the Polk county side of the river. It is a well improved farm and he got a good bargain. He gets possession in a few days and will it once take up the white mans burden on the farm again.

The three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fletcher, who was so severely scalded last week by falling into a bucket of hot water, was relieved from suffering by the kindly hand of death on Tuesday. The sorrowing family have requested the Graphic to say for them that they greatly appreciate the many kindnesses shown them in their time of affliction.

Alexander Hull gave a music recital in the college chapel on Friday night of last week which was well attended, and those who were privileged to hear him speak in the highest terms of the program rendered. Mr. Hull has been very much handicapped since coming to Newberg last fall on account of his health, but he is much improved and he is now prepared to begin work in earnest. He will issue a circular announcing an outline of his work very shortly.

As a result of an accident which occurred at the sawmill on last Saturday, Parker Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bryan, lost his life. He was acting as one of the off-bearers at the saw and in an effort to handle a heavy slab which was heavy at both ends and of slender strength in the middle, he was caught by one end of it and his head crushed, killing him instantly. County Coroner C. Tilbury came down from McMinnville in the evening and impaneled a jury which found that the case was purely accidental. Funeral services were conducted from the home at ten o'clock on Monday, after which the remains were taken to LaFayette for burial.

Twenty ladies representing one of the ladies clubs of McMinnville, came down on the morning train Wednesday and spent the day with the members of the ladies club at Newberg at the home of Mrs. F. A. Elliott. Refreshments were served and the smiles the ladies carried away with them indicated that they had a pleasant day.

Colin Eberhard, a grandson of the late O. H. Cone and a Yamhill county lad who studied law and afterward went to Wallowa county where he opened a law office at Enterprise, has been appointed to the office of Receiver of the land office at LaGrande. He has had some experience in the newspaper business, he has the hustle in him to make good and his Yamhill county friends will be pleased to hear of his good fortune. The Graphic predicts that we will hear more of him later.

The series of four lectures delivered by President Isaac Sharpless, of Haverford College, Pennsylvania, in the Friends church, from Sunday to Wednesday evening were well received by appreciative audiences. He discussed the relation of the Friends to moral reform, education, government and creed. All the lectures revealed the speakers broad knowledge of the subject, and profound scholarship. Seldom does one hear a speaker with a more discriminating use of the English language. President Sharpless is a congenial friend and his social intercourse with the people was no less appreciated than his lectures. On Tuesday afternoon the members of the board of trustees and the faculty of the college met him in an informal reception at the home of President Kelsey, at which time he expressed his favorable impression of the college and his belief that there is much ground for hope and encouragement for the future. He stated that Haverford College, of which he has been president for over twenty years, went through a period of hardships and struggle before it reached its present state of great efficiency.

A Riley Recital.
Chas. Riley McCalley, violinist and reader of James Whitcomb Riley's poems, is billed to give an entertainment at the M. E. church on Saturday night of this week. Anyone who can properly interpret the writings of Riley, meets with a hearty response from the public anywhere in the country, and Mr. McCalley is well recommended, both as a reader and a violinist.

The Oregon City Courier says: "He played to the largest audience ever in the city, and from the enthusiastic reception given him we conclude that standing room would be at a premium were he to repeat his performance tonight. Irrigon Irrigator: "But while his violin work was good in the extreme, we consider his numbers from James Whitcomb Riley, the best of all. Taken all in all, it was a performance long to be remembered, and we hope he will appear here again."

The Revivals Continue.
The revival meetings at the Christian Tabernacle conducted by Ritchey and Shaffer continue with unabated interest. Prof. Shaffer's two large choruses have been furnishing excellent music and will continue to do so each night of the revivals. Meetings each night at 7:45 o'clock except Saturday night. April 8th is the celebration of the second anniversary of the organization of the Christian Church of Newberg. Program of day announced later. Supper will be served in the basement free to all. Revival meetings will likely close with this anniversary service. All, most cordially invited to these services, both by the church and the evangelists.

Chehalem Center.
Rev. Mulheron of Portland visited with his daughter, Mrs. H. C. Paulsen over Sunday a week ago. Miss Gladys Paulsen also made a visit home at the time.

Don Chase, who has been compelled to remain indoors for the past two weeks with an attack of bronchitis is some better at present. He greatly enjoyed the visits of a number of his Newberg friends who came out to see him and helped dispel the loneliness.

Miss Blanch Davis who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Enos Ellis left last Sunday morning for her home in Kansas.
