You can not always gauge the importance of man by the angle at which he wears his hat.

Gumption on the Farm.

The farmer gets his crop out of the ground, his money out of the crop, and his pleasure out of the money.

The open-air treatment is good for consumptives but it isn't beneficial for farming machinery or tools.

The Chinese try hard to pay all debts before New Year's day; and it is a mighty good plan for all farmers to follow.

Somehow or other we have a good deal of respect for the man who keeps the walks clear of snow, whatever faults he may have.

Have you done your best and been beaten? Keep a stiff upper lip. Do a little better than your best this year. You will win; only be true, fair and square.

Work up all old fence rails, useless boards, dead trees and limbs out of the orchard into stove wood. This will keep the farm free of litter and help solve the fuel question.

Give the boys something practical, such as a box of carpenter's tools, a soldering set, or a drawing outfit, instead of guns, drums and toy pistols. Teach creative not destructive force.

If the politicians were half as solicitous for the welfare of the farmer after the election as they are for his vote before it, he would soon get all that is coming to him, including the postal savings bank.

"The well-being of a people is like a tree: agriculture is its root, manufacture and commerce are its branches and its leaves; if the root is injured, the leaves fall, the branches break away and the tree dies."

Don't fight yourself in the evening when you are sleepy after the day's work is done. Just lean back in your chair and take a few winks of sleep. Then when you wake up you can read and think a great deal better.

Have you saved a little money this year? Invest some of it in the old farm; do something to make the place better. You could have no better bank than your own farm. Every dollar thus invested will come back with tenfold interest.

If a farmer wishes to find out the amount of corn he has on the ear, multiply the length of crib in feet by width in feet, and divide by two and one-fourth. The easy way to divide by two and one-fourth is to multiply by four and divide by nine.

A neighbor who is visiting in the city since corn-husking is over, writes home about taking chances on a six-cylinder motor car, and last summer he objected to his wife buying a gasoline stove because he was afraid to have the pesky thing around.

It is very annoying to telephone subscribers to find during the very busy hour in the evening, when they want to use the phone, that some young couple is sparking over the wire, or somebody else is holding a long, gossipy conversation. Some people use the telephone almost any time for almost any time for almost anything.

From December Farm Journal.

The Perfect Fence

If you want your farm to look neat, fence it with PITTSBURGH PERFECT FENCE. Why?

Because: the strands and stays are electrically welded. Because: it stretches up perfect and even. Because: it stays tight in summer. Because: it adjusts itself perfectly to uneven ground. Because: being electrically welded the stay wires cannot slip. Because: no top and bottom board required; and because it has no wraps to hold moisture and cause rust. Sold by
