Local Events.
Scott Obey of North Yamhill, is the guest of B. F. Allumbaugh this week.

L. M. Parker and wife are off for a visit with A. T. and Ernest Hill in Union county.

E. Crede has opened a fish and poultry market on First street opposite the Imperial.

G. W. James has bought the property on First street recently vacated by A. E. Wilson.

Mrs. D. Tallman came up from Portland Saturday evening and spent Sunday in town with former neighbors.

Vernon Gould was over from Forest Grove the first of the week visiting with some of his young friends.

D. D. Coulson came up from Portland last Sunday morning and spent the day with his sister who is in college.

Ernest Hofer has sold his barber shop to Ed. Hess who is having the room overhauled and put into good condition.

H. C. Paulsen has bought lots of Jesse Edwards on Sixth street and will build in town in order to have the children at home while in college.

Rev. A. J. Weaver and President Kelsey went to Salem Wednesday, to attend a conference of the ministers of Newberg and Salem quarterly meetings.

L. J. Butterfield who recently sold his home on the Wynoski road has bought a small tract on Chehalem creek in the southwest part of town and is building a residence.

A recent number of the Whittier Cal. Register announces the election of our friend John B. Weed, as Principal of the Bailey street school in that city for next year.

S. E. Hillman, whose home has been near Sherwood, died at the home of Frank Jones the first of the week. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. George Ritchey.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Galland came home from St Vincents hospital Monday evening where they had been for five weeks. Mr. Galland is improving slowly but will not be able to get out for some time.

H. M. Williams' brother who was here recently from Jamestown, North Dakota on a visit bought a three acre tract of land at Gladstone and will return with his family to make Oregon his home.

Clarence Butt, Morris and Smith, Lin Ferguson and others have bought the James Heater farm a mile east of town of J. D. Gordon, and will divide it into small tracts at once and put it on the market.

Mrs. Mabel Douglas arrived home from Pasadena, California, Tuesday morning and at once resumed her work in the college. Mr. Douglas remained with his father, who is in a low condition, and no hopes of his recovery are entertained.

B. C. Miles and little daughter Eva were in town Tuesday after an absence of five months from Newberg. He is looking well and seems to be getting along nicely. He and Mrs. Miles will return to Newport to spend at least another month.

Mrs. Francis Morse who went to Western Springs, Illinois, a short time ago on account of the sickness of her mother, Mrs. Kelsey, arrived home Wednesday evening, bringing her mother, who it is expected will remain, her husband coming later.

Jesse Edwards has sold his First street property, occupied by J. H. Mills and Ernest Hofer, to Tom Tindall for $2600. Mr. Tindall has also bought a quarter block of Charley Bristow out toward the railroad track near Meridian street, where he will build.

E. R. Horton and wife left here this week for Southern California, expecting to spend a month or more visiting at Corona and other points. They have no time limit and expect to remain long enough to see all points of interest.

The First National Bank has bought the store building on the corner of First and Washington streets, occupied by J. C. Porter & Co., and we understand the intention is to remove the building to another location and erect on the site a new home for the bank.

Demsey Smith, who has been located in the Goodnough hills country on the upper Columbia in Washington for the past year and a half, has been about town during the week. He says they have a melon growing club in his neighborhood and he expects to plant five acres to melons this season.

C. J. Edwards has let the contract for his new building on First street to the Newberg Manufacturing and Construction Co. It is to be 46x60 feet and will be built of concrete blocks, with pressed brick front and cement floor. Work is to begin within a few days and rushed to completion.

Arthur Hale and Harry Harvey, who are former neighbors and friends of Mack Kaufman and Thomas Rood, arrived here with their families on Tuesday evening from Wabash, Indiana. They came with a view of locating and are sizing up the situation, which means of course that they will remain.

Ecks Bothers of Dundee were in town Tuesday driving a three year old Clydesdale colt that attracted a good deal of attention on account of his great size and fine form. When put on the scales he weighed 1700 pounds. They have another colt a year younger which they think will be equally as large.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gordon and son Harry left here on Wednesday morning for a trip to Scotland. They are also expecting to see England, France and Germany before they return and will not be back before August. On the morning of starting Mr. Gordon stated that he would probably buy and import a car load of horses if he found some that looked good to him.

The city council has set Friday and Saturday of next week for cleaning up the town. A general cleaning up should be made about every home and business house. All rubbish that will burn should be disposed of by fire, while tin cans and everything of this nature should be boxed and set out on the street where it can be easily reached by wagon for hauling to the dump heap.

Rev. J. E. Blair and wife sent a bountiful supply of roses and calla lilies up from their new home near San Francisco, for easter decorations at the Presbyterian church in Newberg. Mrs. Frank Bryan very kindly presented a liberal share of the same to the Graphic scribe after the exercises were over, which were appreciated. Mrs. Blair writes to her friends that they are enjoying the work in their new field very much.

C. B. Wilson has been receiving the congratulations of his friends during the week on account of his appointment as postmaster, to succeed J. C. Hodson whose commission expired the latter part of March. Charley has a laudable ambition to have an office fitted up in keeping with the spirit of progress that is being shown in Newberg all along the line, and on Monday he was in conference with Postal Inspector E. C. Clement, who was in town, relative to plans for the same. The department has a decided preference for brick or stone buildings for postoffices, and it is likely that one of the new rooms to be built across the street from the present location by C. J. Edwards will be selected for the office.

Rev. F. L. Young arrived home from a trip to Lake county last Friday where he went to take a look at the country. He was so well pleased with prospects for the future of that section of Oregon that he filed on a claim located about a mile from L. B. Charles' claim, and expects to go there in the fall to take possession of it and make a home. He says the land is being taken very rapidly, there being thirteen filings made the day he filed.

F. A. Elliott came home from a timber cruising trip over in Washington Wednesday evening, bringing a very small cub bear, which he and Charley Cavit captured while out in the timber. The old mother bear was out making fashionable calls, no doubt, as she failed to show up in response to the little fellows earnest calls for mama when he was caught. At first he showed fight, but soon responded to petting and is now perfectly contented if the bottle of milk is presented with satisfactory regularity.

Sometimes the auto-experience comes very suddenly, as in the case of the city clerk and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Weed on Tuesday night as they were enroute to Los Angeles to see a basket-ball game. Near Montebello the "chug wagon" took a shy at a balloon, or something else, and struck for the ditch, spilling the occupants on the mesa. A number of compound bruises, sprains and spraws resulted. Getting home goes into a chapter by itself. All are improving—the rest—cure.—Whittier Cal. Register.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Houser, who have been residents of San Diego, California, for the past three years, arrived in town Tuesday evening. They subscribed for the Graphic a few months ago and their coming to Newberg is a result of the information they received about our town and the country by reading it, so Mr. Houser says. He likes the tone of the editorials, as he says he admires a newspaper man who has opinions that he is not afraid to express through his paper. They are delighted with the country and will rent property for the present, with a view of buying later.

M. Motschenbacher has a new cottage well under way, which he is building on his property at the intersection of Fifth street and the Dayton road. It will be for sale or rent. Mr. Motschenbacher informs the Graphic that as soon as the schools close he will remove to Klamath county where he has four sections of land in the irrigation district, all of which can be irrigated. He has a large family of boys and he says he thinks he will be able to find them something to do when he gets located. Of course he is reading with much interest the talk of railroad building in that section of the state, and with others, thinks our friend Harri-man extremely deliberate.

While in town Tuesday Charles K. Spaulding had the boys in the office dig down through a ten bushel box of old papers and was rewarded by finding the first bank check he ever issued. It bears the date of January 6, 1890, and was made in favor of James Colestock, payable at the Bank of Newberg, the amount being some twenty odd dollars. The bank had been doing business but a few days and the date of payment was written across the face of the check in red ink by Moses Votow, the first cashier of the bank. The bank was located in a small building on Center street immediately south of the old abandoned store building now standing on the corner of First and Center. Charley says he would not part with the check for the amount it was written for.
