Services at the M. E. church Sunday morning have been dismissed on account of the baccalaureate services at the Friends church. The usual services at night.

Owing to the fact that the water must be kept low in the new reservoir while it is being covered, the old reservoir will be drawn on heavily for the next five days, and consequently it is requested that during the interval water may be used as sparingly as possible. Remember the danger from fire and act accordingly.

Glen Winslow and family, of Pendleton, who are off for their annual vacation, stopped off here Wednesday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Larkin.

There will be no preaching at the Baptist church next Sunday morning. Rev. F. C. W. Parker, of Portland, will preach in the evening. Sunday school and Young Peoples Meeting at the usual hours.

F. H. Green, formerly with the Spaulding people spent a few days in town this week. His family is still at Black Rock, but he has been at Ranier for several weeks where he is running a hotel.

Few strawberries will be canned this season as the short crop has made the price soar too high for housekeepers, who must buy, and the growers prefer to accept the price, rather than use the berries at home.

John Larkin, N. C. Christenson and L. G. Kneeshaw are now the owners of the milk condensing plant, with Mr. Larkin as manager. They report the business to be in a very good condition.

H. I. Baird made a business trip to Newport the first of the week, where he found it very pleasant on the beach, and clams enjoying the long vacation since the rush of last season's diggers.

A. T. McNay has a rose bush growing in his yard, away from the house, that stands fourteen feet high and measures forty-nine feet nine inches in circumference. It is covered with a wealth of red roses.

Mrs. Effie Tolson Brodie, formerly a student here, who, in company with her husband was on the way from Tacoma to Corvallis, where they are locating, visited at Rex and Newberg this week.

In answer to a number of inquiries, the date of the annual school meeting, held for the purpose of electing director and clerk, is Monday, June 21. We hear the names of G. W. James and T. E. Wright mentioned as probable candidates for director.

Rev. N. Welter, who has been doing evangelistic work for the Free Methodist church during the past year has been transferred to a pastorate in Ashland for the coming year. He says he dislikes to leave Newberg and hopes to return by another year.

Emory Hodson made a short visit home Wednesday, returning to his work in Seattle the following morning. He advises people, who are intending to visit the A. Y. P. to wait several weeks, as the exhibits are not all in and the grounds are not in the best shape.

Miss Caddie Hooker, of Portland, and Mrs. A. M. Vassall, of Falls City, were visitors last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Haskell and Mrs. Browning west of town, and with birthday celebrations and surprises carried out, the ladies report a very enjoyable time.

The new church in upper Chehalis valley will be dedicated next Sunday morning. Pastor Stannard will have charge of the services and Rev. Parker of Portland will preach the sermon. Dinner will be served at the church and the services will be concluded in the afternoon.

A large crowd was in attendance at the Friends church on last Sunday evening to listen to the excellent music furnished by a mixed choir, made up from the different churches, and under the leadership of I. A. Hanning, and also to hear the most excellent address to the graduating class of the High School, by Rev. W. S. Gilbert, of Astoria. It was not only a highly entertaining talk of fifty minutes, but it was full of good things for the class, having the right ring all the way through. Chaplain Gilbert has never failed to make good before a Newberg audience, and he can always count on a full house when he speaks here.

The Presbyterian church will join in the union Baccalaureate services at the Friends church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The evening services will be held as usual at 8 o'clock. The pastor will speak on the Men's Movement, "What There is for Men to Do."

Miss Alta Gumm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Gumm, was awarded the Pacific College scholarship in the Springbrook school. The offer of these scholarships serve as an incentive to diligent work on the part of the pupils, and while only one can win in each school, the others gain, rather than lose in the race.

On the return of a rig from St. Paul or some other seaport town in wet territory, Tuesday evening, the buggy was overturned at a conspicuous place on First street, when a fairly good supply of bottled goods rolled out and the team took a shy down the street. Of course it was a bit embarrassing, but you can't always tell when a loaded gun will "go off."

The children's day exercises of the Friends Sunday School were never better or more enjoyed than on last Sunday morning. Happy, eager, bright-faced children, blooming flowers and a beautiful June morning furnish a combination which makes us all young again. The exercises evinced much careful preparation and those who were responsible for it should feel themselves well repaid.

Two class days will be the distinctive feature of this year's college Commencement exercises. The Senior exercises come off as usual Monday evening. On the following evening the alumni will break away from the moorings of precedent and likewise present a medley class day program—echoes of the class days of the past. Their program will also be given in the gymnasium. "Welcome one and all."

The High School Juniors acquitted themselves in fine style Tuesday evening in the presentation of Sheridan's "The Rivals." It was more than a mere dialogue, which such ambitious attempts by students are apt to be, the characters for the most part being very well sustained indeed. We really found a long lost friend in classic "Bob Acres," and other parts were equally well interpreted. A fair audience only greeted the young actors.

Mrs. W. W. Nelson returned from a visit with her sister at Lebanon the first of the week, full of enthusiasm for a strawberry and rose fair for Newberg next season. Such a fair was held at Lebanon while she was there, the first one they have had, and it was such a success that they have decided to make it a feature every year. Newberg could easily make a hit with a fair of this nature and it is well worth considering.

It is apparent that dame fortune is smiling on our old friend, W. J. Stater, now of the county seat. He was in town Wednesday in his own auto, wheeling county commissioners Booth and Cummins around the corners at about the same rate he puts up a talk to a prospective buyer of Yamhill county real estate, which is going some. He says the machine is a great time saver, and then it enables him to throw dust in the other agents' eyes, a consideration worth while.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rankin, who have been out from their Iowa home for several weeks, visiting in Texas and California, arrived here the first of the week and are visiting with their son, Dr. John S. Rankin. Mr. Rankin was in Oregon on two former occasions a number of years ago and he notes many changes, especially in Portland. They will remain for some time, and we shall hope Newberg can be made sufficiently interesting to them to make them want to remain permanently.

Justice T. Brouillette received a hurry up call at ten o'clock last Sunday night from Dundee, by telephone, and responded with due haste. Arriving at the home of C. H. Parrett he found Charles F. Livegood and Mary J. Johnson in possession of the necessary legal documents, signed and sealed by the clerk of the county of Yamhill, of the commonwealth of Oregon, and at the hour of eleven o'clock he made them man and wife.

J. L. Hoskins and wife are at home from their trip to Eastern Oregon and Washington and report a very pleasant time. They made stops at Echo, Pendleton, La Grande, Caldwell, Idaho, and Walla Walla, Washington, taking drives into the country at the various points in order to get the lay of the land. They found a great inland empire, with money plentiful among the people, but after all they say nothing looked so good to them as the country about Newberg does since they arrived home.

C. B. Wilson received his commission as postmaster Tuesday morning and on Wednesday he assumed the duties of the office. Miss Mabelle Gardner will remain in the office as assistant, and Mrs. J. T. Smith will continue to help in the distribution of mails. There is little doubt but that the postoffice department will take a five year lease of a room in the new concrete and brick building being erected by C. J. Edwards across the street from the present location, in which case the office will be removed to this location as soon as the room is completed and a new box outfit is installed.

Unusual interest is being taken in the annual baseball game, which is to be played Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock between the College and alumni. The latter are determined to break their long string of defeats and will have a strong team on the field.

C. D. Ross has sold his half interest in the milk condensing plant to N. C. Christenson, taking in the trade the residence property of the latter on North Main street. Mr. Christenson has removed to the Charley Larkin property a little farther up the street, which he bought a short time ago, Mr. Larkin removing to his property out in the country a little ways from town. Mr. Ross has accepted a position with a real estate firm in a big promotion scheme and the location of his family was not determined when he was in town a few days ago.

Rev. H. T. Nave, field representative of Albany College, preached at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning, and on Monday evening preached the sermon installing the new pastor, Rev. John F. Lyons, who recently came here from Brownsville. Rev. Nave came to Oregon from Indiana a year and a half ago. He grew up at Danville, Indiana, and is a son of Attorney Nave, who had a reputation all over the state as one of the best criminal lawyers of his day, and was well known to many of the readers of the Graphic. On finding so many former Indiana people in Newberg, Rev. Nave said he felt very much at home, and we shall expect to see him back again.
