THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1909.

President E. D. Ressler, of the Monmouth Normal has accepted a position on the faculty of O. A. C. His work will be that of professor of industrial pedagogy, a branch of study which will be taught next year for the first time in that institution.

The character of the men Mayor Simon has named to serve on his executive board of ten members, is pretty good evidence that he meant what he said when he made the statement that he expected to give Portland his best efforts for a good city government during his administration.

The dispatches bring the news of many prostrations and deaths from the extreme heat throughout the area east of the Rockies, while here in the Willamette valley we are sleeping under winter blankets and fires are needed of mornings and evenings to properly temper the atmosphere. Verily it is good to be here.

Fogle of the Monmouth Herald answered a recent article published in the Graphic in which reference was made to his spiel for Normal schools, so we have been informed, but he did not favor this office with a copy of his paper. His exchange list is confined to six papers and naturally he takes a very narrow view of things.

The executors of the estate of Jack Powers, a deceased Portland saloon keeper, have brought suit against certain prominent business men in the city, charging them with being silent partners with Powers in the booze shop. "Silent partners"—willing no doubt to share in the profits of the business, but none of the opprobrium if you please.

The number of cases of lock-jaw caused by toy pistols, already reported, indicates that the "Sane Fourth" we have been reading about is still several removes in the dim future. Noise is the larger part of a boy's religion along about the time Independence day is scheduled to arrive, and most of the older heads must admit that it is orthodox, if their memories are good.

A private citizen from Eastern Oregon caught two pickpockets in the Union depot in Portland last Monday and after a severe struggle one of them escaped, while the other was turned over to a policeman, who managed to let the prisoner make a get-away. Better fire the present police force and send out on the range and fill up the ranks with men who can do things.

We shouldn't like to train with the pessimist and stand on the street corners and proclaim that the world is growing worse, but a case like that at Hood River where a young, able bodied man entered a house in broad daylight and murdered a helpless woman for a few paltry dollars, is convincing proof of the theory of the total depravity of man—at least of some men.

The commercial club has closed a contract with the publishers of the Sunset Magazine for some extensive advertising of Newberg and adjacent territory, and George M. Wister, the official photographer for the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific was here last week taking pictures to be used in the pamphlet to be issued. Besides the 20,000 copies of the booklet the contract calls for an extensive write-up in Sunset and an advertisement to be carried for a year in the magazine.

The Willamette Valley Chautauque Association, which convenes yearly at Gladstone Park, near Oregon City, will hold sessions this season from July 6 to 18 inclusive. A splendid program is offered and here is an opportunity for combining a summer outing with a feast of good things, both musical and of a literary character. The transportation companies have granted a one and one-third round trip rate from all points in Oregon to Gladstone Park on the certificate plan. Patrons purchasing tickets should be careful to get a certificate from their home office and have it signed by the Secretary of the Assembly before starting home.

Gus Gudat, of the Rex neighborhood, who owns the Andy Winter's farm, brought in some fine samples of Bing cherries Tuesday, the clusters showing the trees to be wonderfully prolific this season. He says he has about forty trees of this variety that are loaded down to the limit. The original Bing was a Chinaman, but that is little to the discredit of this, the best cherry that grows, for he was so faithful a Celestial while in the employ of Mr. Lewelling, the originator of the cherry, that he gave it the name of the son of the Orient.

The Oregon Statesman of date of June 15, 1888 in commenting on the election returns of that year said: "Yamhill county although giving a black republican majority, contains as sterling democrats as any other county in the Territory. Everest's Brass Band, Chehalem valley, deserve praise for their patriotism on election day, in marching to the polls with their instruments where they performed to the admiration of all present, besides their support of the straight democratic ticket." Thus it will be seen that Chehalem was on the map in the early Territorial days.

There are lots of people in the world who appear to have the brains of a mule. All they seem to be able to do is to eat, sleep and kick.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
Suggestive Quotations on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

JULY 4th, 1909.
Paul's Second Missionary Journey.—Antioch to Philippi. Acts xv:36 to xvi:15.
Golden Text.—Come over into Macedonia and help us. Acts xvi:9.
Verse 36.—Is it generally necessary to follow up any good work which we have commenced if we would make it a success?
Verses 37-39.—Would it have been wiser if Barnabas had first consulted Paul in the matter of taking Mark?
Barnabas was a relative of Mark; are we as good judges of the fitness of our relatives for an office as we are of the fitness of others? Why? Why is nepotism in government appointments, looked upon with suspicion?
Had Paul, probably, good reason for objecting to taking John and Mark with them? (See Acts xiii:13.)
If a man shows lack of courage, or tact, or faithfulness, in one position, does that disqualify him in any measure, from getting another, or from success when in another position?
If both Paul and Barnabas had been dupli-cal of the man Jesus, would there have been this quarrel between them, and how would the matter have been settled?—(This question must be answered by members of the class.)

When two Christians fall out, is one or both always to be blamed?
Verses 40-41.—Did the dispute between these men work out for good, as it resulted in two missionary deputations instead of one?
By any process of reasoning can you conclude that God was back of this dispute, between these two godly men, so as to better work out his purposes?
Chap. xvi:1-3.—Should ministers, and other Christians, be on the lookout for young men who are fitted for the ministry, the same as business men are for good subordinates?
What can you say for, or against Paul circulating Timothy, in view of the decision of the council at Jerusalem? (See Acts xv:23-28.)
In matters of habit, or ceremony, or non-essentials, is it well for us to give way to the views of others, making our own professions when we can accomplish good by so doing. For example you may oppose wearing "pig tails" in this country, with wisdom, and yet to refuse to wear one in China may be great folly.
Verses 4-5.—What were the "decrees . . . of the elders which were at Jerusalem," and are these binding upon the church to-day? (See Acts xv:28-29.)
Is a church better with or without an elaborate creed?
What did Jesus teach which is not included in righteousness, and the constant vision of God?

"Will a church sound 'in the faith,' always to a magnet to draw others to it?
Verses 6-8.—Why did the Holy Spirit forbid them to preach in Asia and Bithynia, and would they have listened had they done so?
When we are hindered providentially from doing certain good works, is that the Spirit hindering us?
Verses 9-10.—How many methods does God adopt in leading us?
Does God in every emergency give us some sure guidance as to what we ought to do?
Was this vision just as clear a call from God, as though he had spoken personally?
Verses 11-12.—Does God direct the course of the Christian with absolute certainty, notwithstanding wind or sea?
Verse 13.—What is one of the first things an earnest Christian looks out for, when he moves into a new community?
Are women generally in the majority as earnest Christians?
Verse 14.—Are busy women generally more spiritual than those who have but little to do? Should all girls be taught to earn their own living?
Is it easier for God to open the heart of an industrious person than that of an idler?
Verse 15.—If a person is inchoate, or stony, is that a sure sign of ungodliness?
Lesson for Sunday, July 11, 1909. Paul's Second Missionary Journey.—The Philippian Jailor. Acts xvi:16-40.

SAVES TIME AND GRAIN

Twine is a small item, but good twine saves a lot of expense in harvest time. Every time your machine is stopped the delay costs you money. Time in harvest season is always valuable, and sometimes extremely precious on account of the condition of weather or grain. Be sure you use the best twine.—PLYMOUTH TWINE. Then you will be safe from the annoyances, delays, expenses, which ordinary twine causes. Plymouth Twine works perfectly in every machine. More of it is made and used every year than any other kind, because it is known to be the best and has been for years. Binds more sheaves with less expense, no knots, no breaks, and is guaranteed full length and extra strength. Get Plymouth Twine from the local dealer. Look for the wheat-sheaf tag.
