Workmen are engaged in installing the new boilers at the electric light plant this week.

Mrs. H. R. Morris and little one went to Portland the first of the week for a visit with relatives.

Miss Mabel Vantress has been up from Portland during the week visiting with Miss Pearl Cummings.

Rev. Joseph Hepp was down from Salem the first of the week visiting with his son on the farm east of town.

Berlin Davis was up from Portland the first of the week visiting with his brothers, Dr. A. M. and Harry Davis.

T. Thumburg, who returned from the Seattle fair the first of the week, speaks in high praise of the Oregon exhibit.

Vin Vincent went to Spokane the first of the week to get his name on Uncle Sam's roll for the drawing in Indian lands.

Mrs. Oliver Vanoose was down from McMinnville the first of the week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hall.

Dr. H. A. Littlefield has been spending considerable time in Portland lately with his father who is in very poor health.

A number of the Odd Fellows, of Newberg, went to Dayton Thursday morning to attend the funeral of Thomas Warner.

J. C. Nelson has gone to Collins on the upper Columbia on the Washington side, to visit his daughter, Mrs. Tom Belcher.

Rev. M. T. Wire, of The Dalles, will preach in the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Union services in the evening.

Mrs. Mary E. Allen returned to her home at Eugene Wednesday, after spending two weeks visiting with relatives in town.

J. W. Hobbs, the revenue officer, who always comes without previous announcement, dropped into town Wednesday evening.

F. H. Rogers and family left for Newport the first of the week with a complete outfit, expecting to remain three or four weeks at the seaside.

E. Crede made a business trip to Seattle the first of the week and as a result, he is making big shipments of poultry to the city on the Sound.

Mrs. A. J. Weaver, who has not been in good health for some time, will probably go to a Portland hospital for treatment the last of the week.

Dr. R. W. Harrold is at home from his vacation and is down to hard work again. His father whom he had hoped to see, died before he reached him.

Mrs. M. H. Bowerman went to Portland Wednesday evening to meet her sister, Mrs. Mary Ridgeway, who is out from her home in Iowa for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher in company with their daughter, who is out from the east on a visit, went to Seattle the first of the week to visit with relatives and see the fair.

A. E. Bowman returned home from the Alberta country last week where he made a purchase of land, with the intention of returning with his family to locate and improve it.

Delano Estle in company with his Indiana friends, who were here visiting, left for Spokane the first of the week to register for the Indian land drawing.

Nelson J. Sykes in company with his father, George Sykes and a brother of the latter, who is out from Michigan on a visit, spent last Monday in town.

F. A. Elliott left for San Francisco Wednesday morning, and will spend some time working for the Central Pacific in the timbered district in the eastern part of California.

Mrs. Alden Chamberlain and little daughter came up from Portland Wednesday morning for a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Craven, north of town.

J. H. Rees left on the evening train Tuesday for the Sound country. He expects to visit with Dr. Clough at Sultan and will also see the big show at Seattle before he returns.

Mrs. Maude Winterfield, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Glass, in company with her niece, Miss C. Winterfield, from Harris, Iowa, arrived here Tuesday and will remain for some time visiting.

Perry Clark and family, of Georgetown, Illinois, left for Seattle Wednesday morning after spending two weeks here visiting. F. A. Elliott and family went with them as far as Portland.

Miss Charity Cannaday, who had been visiting with Miss Nora Parker for the past two weeks, started on the journey to her Illinois home, Tuesday. Miss Parker going with her as far as Portland.

Henry Parrett, one of the pioneer settlers of Parrett mountain, died at his home on the farm last Sunday at the age of 83. He had a rugged constitution and had been in good health up to a few months ago.

L. J. Stanley, whose home is at Whittier, California, where he owns valuable Los Angeles newspaper routes, is in town visiting with the Graphic family, and other relatives. He spent a week at Seattle seeing the fair which he says is a very nice exhibit.

The carpenters are rushing the work on the interior fixtures for the new store room for C. F. Moore in the Edwards building. A glance at the same will convince anyone that nothing is being spared to make it one of the most complete, up-to-date pharmacies in the valley.

Attorney Clarence Butt arrived home from his trip to the Alberta country the first of the week. He and W. E. White were so well pleased with the country that they each bought a quarter section of land as an investment, in the same locality Marvin Blair and A. E. Bowman bought.

Wm. Kincaid has his new residence which he is building on a very sightly location on the north side of the railroad track at Springbrook, almost completed. When he moves in it will save him many a weary climb up the hill to the home he has occupied for a number of years.

George Dilley, who has been in the insane hospital at Salem at different times, got to acting "queer" again the first of the week and was taken in hand by Marshal Woods who conveyed him to the county seat Wednesday morning for examination. He was again committed to the hospital.

C. B. Kirk brought in some very fine samples of apricots a few days ago that were picked from a tree on the farm in the Chehalem Center neighborhood, which he says has been bearing continuously for some fifteen years. He is budding a number of seedlings from scions from this tree and hopes to have many more trees of the same variety in bearing in a few years. The fruit is of good size, very perfect in form and of fine flavor, and since the tree is a good bearer it is well worth propagating.

It is told of one of our young business men that after spending an evening with his lady love recently, he returned home to sleep and dream of the future, but on the following morning he was greatly nonplussed to account for the absence of his driving horse from the stall in his father's stable. After pinching himself vigorously for a time it came to him that he had driven the horse on the errand of the previous evening, and on hastening to the home of the fair one he found horse and buggy waiting patiently at the post for his return. A case, this is, where "absent treatment" is very much needed.

Mrs. M. E. Satchwell, who went to a Portland sanitarium a few weeks ago on account of failing health, died on last Saturday. The remains were brought to Newberg on Monday, services being held at the M. E. church, of which she was a loyal member, and her body was laid to rest by the side of her husband who, during his life was a minister in the M. E. church. The deceased was a fine type of womanhood and was held in high esteem, not only by the members of her own church but by a large circle of friends who have known her for years in Newberg. Besides her daughter, Miss Eleanor, she leaves three sons to mourn her loss.

Jo Crocker, who for years was the best known conductor on the Yamhill division appears to be still having his little troubles since being transferred to the West Side. The Telephone-Register says of him: Conductor Crocker, of the Corvallis overland, had three seats in one of his coaches occupied on a recent trip, but Harriman only got one fare out of the bunch. The mother declared that none of the six little children were over five years old. "I've brought up a good many families," Mr. Crocker said, "while I've been conductor in this upper country, but I've never found one before where the members were six-sevenths under half fare age."

Announcement.

Messrs Fuller, Lapp and Boyes wish to announce to the people of Newberg and vicinity that the firm of Lapp & Boyes has been dissolved and a new company incorporated to be known as the C. E. Fuller Paint Company, with a capital stock of $20,000. It is the purpose of the new company to greatly increase the stock of the old firm so that it will be possible for one to obtain anything desired in the paint or decorating line.

They have also installed machinery and have more ordered, for the manufacture of stains and roof paints especially, and solicit the patronage of the wholesale as well as the retail trade.

Messrs Lapp & Boyes have withdrawn from the field as painters and decorators and will give their entire attention to the manufacture and sale of paints and painters materials.

(Signed) C. E. FULLER Paint Company, Newberg, Oregon.

Card of Thanks.

The children of Mrs. Mary E. Satchwell desire to express their sincere appreciation and gratitude for the many acts of kindness received during the sickness and at the burial of their beloved mother.
