Little Glenn, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vene Ward died at their home in Portland, August tenth with cholera infantum.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Taylor returned from Seattle the first of the week where they visited with Mr. Taylor's brother and saw the fair.

Clarkson Parker and wife from Indiana are visiting at the home of L. M. Parker on Chehalem mountain, L. M. and Clarkson being cousins.

L. W. Charles, who has been working in a printshop at Waterville, Washington, for the past few months returned to Newberg last week.

The pastor of the Presbyterian church has returned and will preach Sunday morning. For the evening service union meeting at the grove.

The Johnson sawmill at Middleton was destroyed by fire on Friday evening of last week, the total loss including lumber burned being $30,000.

Miss Myrtle Hannon is in a Portland wholesale house instead of being in Salem as stated last week. She spent Sunday in Newberg with the home folks.

F. H. Rogers has sold his new bungalow on Fifth street to Christopher Burch, who is removing from McMinnville to make Newberg his home.

The members of Vesta Rebekah Lodge are planning to observe the fifty-eighth anniversary of the organization of that order, on the twenty-first of September.

Miss Kitty Ward, an old schoolmate of Mrs. N. C. Christenson, who is here on a visit went with Mrs. Christenson and family to Newport Wednesday.

Miss Grace Grover, formerly from Minnesota but now a stenographer in Portland, spent last Sunday in town visiting with the Bass and Behnke families.

J. C. Colcord and family are off for a vacation, by the wagon route to the Tillamook beaches, intending to see more than one watering resort before their return.

Bernice Young, the sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Young, who live in the Pleasant Hill neighborhood on Parrott mountain, was buried last Monday.

Newton Hanson, of North Branch, Kansas, a nephew of Mrs. Evangeline Martin, stopped off here one day last week for a visit but was called home in haste on account of sickness.

A. A. Applegate and wife, Mrs. McGhire and son, Walter, and Sam. Jenkins, from Osborn county, Kansas, all old friends of the J. C. Brunton family, were in town the first of the week for a short visit.

Mrs. N. C. Christenson and children, Hugh Nelson and family, Mrs. E. H. Woodward, Mrs. W. A. King and the Misses. Sibyl, Zora and Ada Woodward and Nora Parker, went to Newport Wednesday.

On Friday of last week Mrs. W. W. Nelson, entertained, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Hoberg of McMinnville, and Miss Hurt of Mayville, Kentucky, who is a guest of Mrs. F. H. Caldwell.

Vernon Hinshaw returned home from Goldendale, Washington, the first of the week where he spent two weeks looking after his wheat crop. He says it has been exceedingly dry there and the grain yield is rather light.

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Woods, L. R. Woods, Henry J. Woods, from Hancock county, Indiana, the Misses Ida, Merle and Iona Woods, Bertha Nicholson and Amy Heater ate picnic dinner at the locks on the Yamhill.

L. J. Stanley, who spent two weeks in Newberg visiting with relatives, left for his home at Whittier, California last Monday. In order to see all of Oregon along the way he said he would travel by day and lay over at night.

Theodore Nelson and wife, of Dillon, Montana, made a short visit here this week with Mrs. Nelson's cousin, J. A. Hughes, and family. Mr. Nelson was a delegate to the irrigation congress that met recently in Spokane.

The Graphic was in error last week in stating Walter Spaulding was arranging to return at once to Ann Arbor. He and his sister have returned to Newport for a little more sport at the seaside before he returns to his university work.

A hundred or more professors of horticulture from various state agricultural colleges, who are out seeing the Oregon country, are expected to come out from Portland next Monday to see the Thomas Prince prune and walnut groves at Dundee.

Timothy Brownhill, of McMinnville, who is interested in the sale of Alberta railroad lands was in town a day or two the first of the week. While here he sold a quarter section to Jesse Pressnall and also made deals with some other parties.

Henry Hagey says the grain acreage in this part of the county is not as large as in former years but the yield per acre is the best it has been for several years. Some fields of wheat are making better than forty bushels per acre, which has something of the old time ring. Late grain is slow ripening and consequently Mr. Hagey is thrashing stacked grain at present.

M. Motschenbacher, who recently removed to Klamath Falls to look after his extensive interests, was in town the first of the week boxing and shipping the remainder of his household goods. Thursday morning he left for North Dakota on business.

Prof. Fred G. Boughton, of McMinnville, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday morning, August 22 and also on August 29. Prof. Boughton is popular with a Newberg congregation and we hope for him a good hearing.

F. C. STANNARD, pastor. Rev. F. L. Young will preach his last sermon in Newberg at the M. E. church next Sunday morning, and on Monday he will leave for Lake county where he filed on a homestead last spring. His pulpit will be supplied until the conference meets in September.

H. A. Lynn, a young man who came out from Indiana recently and who was working at the sash and door factory, got his right hand caught in a piece of machinery one day the first of the week, taking off the ends of the two smaller fingers. Under the care of Dr. Rankin the injured hand is doing nicely.

J. S. Holt was delighted this week with a visit from a nephew, F. L. Vandegrift, whom he had not seen for more than thirty years. Mr. Vandegrift is connected with the Santa Fe railroad system as managing editor of "The Earth," a publication which exploits the lands along the various lines of the great system. His home is in Kansas City, but he has offices in Chicago.

H. H. Gurnsey, an old Grand Army man, druggist and postmaster from Altamont, South Dakota, was in town the first of the week making a short visit with his old friend, Cap. Herrick. During the "unpleasantness" of the period of '61 to '65 when both were younger than they are now, Gurnsey was a Lieutenant in the army and Herrick was a steamboat captain, hauling soldiers and supplies down the Mississippi, and of course it was easy for them to live the old times over again in conversation.

Dr. G. E. Farmer, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, visited a few days this week with his friend, I. N. Campbell, at his farm northwest of town. The doctor has interests at Hood River and has just been through the fruit and walnut districts of California, he being a very discerning man and interested in the varied products grown throughout the country. Mr. Campbell took him to see the Thomas Prince walnut grove at Dundee which he said was equal to the best he had seen anywhere.

The Whittier, California Register has the following news item about a former Newberg girl: "Tuesday afternoon, a party of lady friends went in a body to the home of Miss Emma Townsend, whose wedding occurs August 25, and completely surprised her with a household shower. A very enjoyable time was had witnessing the many useful and dainty articles, as they were unwrapped by the bride-elect. Following this, a guessing contest was engaged in, also a sketching game furnished much amusement. The serving of fruit-ade and wafers completed a very pleasant afternoon.
