The many friends of Harvey Wright are glad to see him back for his senior year in college. He spent the vacation working at carpentering in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ingle returned home from Hood River on Monday where they were called to attend the funeral of Mrs. Ingle's cousin, H. R. Gearey.

Tyra Hutchens, who is enjoying a fifteen day vacation from his duties as clerk in the Portland postoffice is up with his wife and little one visiting with the home folks.

Mrs. E. H. Goff, the mother of Rev. J. N. Wood, pastor of the Free Methodist church, with her son, Fred Goff, came here recently from Iona, Michigan, and will make their home in Newberg.

A. M. Dunlap has begun the erection of a two story store building on the east side of Main street adjoining the Watt building on the south. It will have a frontage of thirty feet and will be forty feet in length.

Rev. G. J. Rieker has invested in a motor buggy for his own use. He says he figures that it will be cheaper for him in the run of a year, with the present prices of feed prevailing, than to keep a horse.

Russel Davy, of Michigan, who recently returned from a six year's sojourn in Ecuador, South America where he has been representing a New York mining syndicate, is in town visiting the Bass and Behnke families.

The members of Burr Oak Circle, W. O. W. are requested to be present on October 18, when the legislation enacted at the recent grand circle, will be discussed by a member of the Laws Committee. Clerk.

Newton Morris and wife arrived here a few days ago from Illinois and are visiting with his brother, H. R. Morris. They with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Morris and F. A. Morris are in Seattle this week seeing the A. Y. P.

Earnest Baker, of Parrott mountain while working for Joe Ego at his hop house on Chehalem mountain, received a severe wound on the head by being struck by the lever of the hop baler, but is getting along nicely.

M. G. Oakley is harvesting his fall crop of strawberries, grown on his farm on the side of Chehalem mountain north of Newberg. He has shipped so far, 44 crates, receiving on an average $4.80 per crate. He will probably have 150 crates this season.

There will be quarterly meeting services at the Free Methodist church, commencing on Friday evening and lasting over the following Sabbath. Rev. J. W. Johnston, of Portland, will have charge. All are invited.

J. R. Wood, Pastor.
Regular services will be held at the M. E. church next Sunday, morning and evening. In the morning the subject will be, "Doing Business for God. Sabbath school at 10 A.M. and Epworth League at 6:30 P.M. The public is cordially invited.

Moses Hutchens and his daughter, Miss Mira from Wauawoc, Wisconsin spent several days here visiting with their cousins, Mrs. T. H. Gardner and Mrs. David Martin. They left for their home Wednesday evening but think they will return to Oregon next year.

Rev. J. C. Gregory will fill the pulpit at Christian Tabernacle during the pastor's absence, at Pittsburg, Pa., attending the World Centennial Convention of the Christian churches or Disciples of Christ. This will be during the remainder of the present month.
GEO. C. RITCHEY,
Pastor.

On last Thursday evening Miss Pearl Cummings entertained a number of ladies at their attractive new home on College street. The occasion was in honor of Miss Olive Stratton whose wedding to Mr. A. C. Seelye is announced for October twelfth. During the evening two large baskets were carried in by little Miss Thelma and Master Claud Cummings and presented to Miss Stratton. These baskets contained numerous varieties of soap presented by the guests present. Refreshments of ice cream and cake and punch were served. Those present were the Misses Olive Stratton, Laura Blair, Ione Hill, Jessie Britt, Lina Langton, Emma Dorrance, Beulah Spaulding, Anna Rogers, Lenora Parker, Myrtle Gause and Ruth and Katherine Romig. Mesdms. Charles Hodson, Walter Terrell, C. B. and Tom Cummings, J. H. McKowen, E. A. Newby, S. J. Madson, W. S. and C. W. Parker, Florence McDonald and W. A. King.

Noah Lapp and wife, who recently sold their home in Newberg and went to Turlock, California, expecting to locate there, have returned and will buy a lot and build. Noah says they grow monstrous big melons and pumpkins at Turlock, but the musquitos are proportionately large and so persistent in their demands that they decided to retire from the field.

A good deal of speculation is in the air over the appearance of a surveying crew that is camped at Rex. Of course everybody had hoped the work was being done by the Oregon Electric people but it now appears that the crew belongs to the Southern Pacific and that there is to be some straightening of the track in that vicinity.

J. D. Gordon & Son were very successful in competing for prizes at the A. Y. P. stock show. In the Percheron class they were awarded first and second and the junior champion prize on mares. They have sold six head of the number they imported for $6,000, and have received so many orders that they contemplate making another trip to France and Belgium to bring over another shipment.

Walter B. Hadley of the class of 1901 of Pacific College, was in town Monday calling on his old friends. He took a furlough from the government Forestry Service some months ago and has been working in a packing house near Redlands, California. He has now decided to invest in an orange grove in that section and will leave the government service permanently. He says he is tired of being changed from place to place, and besides he can make more money working for himself.

Prune men who are operating evaporators complain that prunes are drying out very light this season, and consequently the margin of profit to those who have paid liberal prices to growers for green fruit will be very close. And in some instances where top prices have been paid, the figures written in red are liable to be on the wrong side of the balance sheet. All of the many evaporators in and around Newberg have been overrun with fruit and many growers have found it next to impossible to get their prunes taken care of. The rain of Tuesday delayed work to some extent but all are busy again, and with continued fair weather most evaporators will run for several days yet.
