Local Events.

Roy Bates was down from Rosedale last Sunday.

L. M. Smith made a business trip to The Dalles last week.

D. W. Cummins was down from Independence a day or two this week.

F. A. Morris and J. E. Keine went to McMinnville on business Wednesday.

The report comes from Sherwood that the Bowman sawmill has been sold.

Miss Eva Fletcher was down from LaFayette last Sunday visiting with relatives.

John Gilbert and wife will go to Rosedale Friday to visit with their son, L. M. Gilbert.

Glen Jay, son of Allen Jay, left for Iowa last Monday where he expects to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rees were up from Portland last Sunday, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Maris were up from Portland last Sunday visiting at the home of E. H. Woodward.

Mrs. Etta Kirk went to Corvallis Monday to see the new grand daughter in the family of her son, Prof. R. W. Kirk.

Rock Robison, who bought the G. T. Hardwick store, has since bought the building near by which is occupied by Mr. Halterman.

J. L. Hoskins and wife and John I. Hadley went to Dayton Sunday to attend the funeral of Ellis Hadley who died after an illness of several weeks.

Albert Benson who is canvassing for the sale of books, newspapers, and magazines, is authorized to receive subscriptions for the Graphic.

Moses Ross, who has been in very poor health for several months, is able to be about again and is apparently on the way to permanent recovery.

Mrs. Will Nelson says that it is the person who took the vase from her porch will kindly return it, they may have the lard can that was left in the place of it.

Newton Morris, brother of Henry and George Morris, who with his wife spent several days here visiting, left for their home at Coloma, Indiana the first of the week.

On next Monday evening U. S. Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, will speak in McMinnville, this being the first number in the Lyceum course in that city for this season.

Fred Werth, his son, T. Werth and Will Schaad have bought a tract of 630 acres of land near the Grand Ronde Indian agency in the upper part of the county. The price paid was $30 per acre.

Rev. E. L. Requa has accepted the position of secretary and solicitor for the Newberg Telephone Co. and will begin at once on a campaign to interest our home people in a home enterprise that is worthy.

The Munsell & Martin Optical Co., of Portland, have opened an office in the Dr. Harold building on First street. They have something to say to the readers of the Graphic in the advertising columns this week.

The topic next Sabbath morning at the M. E. church will be "The Great Law of Affinity." At night the theme will be "Tumbling Into Perdition Over Cain's Wife and Jonah and the Whale." All are invited.

Washington Ross, who spent three weeks visiting with his brother, Moses Ross, on the farm two miles southeast of Newberg, left for his home at New Lisbon, Wisconsin, Monday morning. Moses Ross says he has had thirty-one visitors from the Middle States this season.

King & Bennett have sold their hardware business, including the store building, to George E. Allen, recently from Kansas City. Beginning on Monday of next week the store will be closed for several days while the stock is being invoiced.

A. B. Lyon, who had not been well since having an attack of the measles last spring, died on last Saturday night. The funeral was conducted at the home on Monday afternoon by Rev. G. J. Rieker, pastor of the German Methodist church.

The sale of the building located on the northwest corner of First and College streets, known as the Mrs. Horton building, is reported. It is understood that local capital is to be put into a meat packing company which will occupy the building.

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church gave a very pleasant social Tuesday evening, there being about seventy-five people present. The evening was fully occupied with lively games that helped everybody to get acquainted. Refreshments were served in the basement.

Rock Robison and son, recent from Madris, Crook county, have bought the George T. Hardwick second hand furniture business on the corner of First and Main streets. They will continue the business in the same location and in this issue they have something to say to the readers of the Graphic.

Enos Blair, a former resident of Newberg when the town was very young, was up from Portland last Sunday visiting with A. T. Blair. He visited his former home in Iowa some months ago, after an absence of more than thirty years, but was saddened to find so few of his old time friends living.

More about "United Wireless" is what we will hear one of these days, but the selling of preferred stock will be in the hands of all home people. Paul Moore, of Newberg, and Paul Lewis, of Springbrook, have been communicating of late between their homes by wireless, and the boys say their system is all right.

John U. Smith who grew up in Yamhill county, and who owns a piece of land in West Chehalis, was in town Monday. For the past four years he has been located in Hilo, Hawaii, where he is engaged in the practice of law and the real estate business. He likes the climate of the Islands and says he expects to return in a short time.

Our fellow townsman, Mr. J. W. Barcroft, and Miss Angie McNay quietly took their departure for Portland one day last week where they were married. The groom is a highly respected citizen of Newberg, and the bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. B. McNay, is a lady of fine attainments who is held in highest esteem by all who know her. The Graphic joins in extending hearty congratulations.

Mrs. Bestie M. Smith, of Portland, inspecting officer for the Women's Relief Corps, visited Newberg one day last week, when the ladies of the patriotic order gave a most enjoyable social in her honor, a delicious lunch being served at noon. President Mrs. Jennie Sykes, now of Portland, was also present. Mrs. Smith declared that Newberg W. R. C. was one of the best in the state.

Mrs. R. W. WEBBER,
Press Cor., W. R. C.

On Wednesday evening of last week about thirty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Vincent met at their home to celebrate their "Tin Wedding." Many useful kitchen articles were presented to them and the evening was pleasantly spent in contests and games, after which refreshments were served and the party was treated to a chirivari by a couple of the youths of the company. The guests departed at a late hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. Vincent many more such happy occasions.

Rev. H. Wyse Jones, of McMinnville, called on Pastor Stanard last Sunday and arranged for a series of meetings to be held here in December. Mr. Jones has held meetings on two former occasions in Newberg and his earnest preaching met with general acceptance and hearty response. As Mr. Jones is superintendent of evangelism for the Baptists of the whole coast region and is in great demand by the churches, the Newberg church feels particularly favored in being able to secure him for a meeting this year.

Miller Bros. have just installed a number of closed cabinets for their clothing department, of the same make that are used in the Ben Selling clothing store in Portland. Each cabinet holds a dozen suits, each of which is hung on a rack, which prevents wrinkles, and at the same time keeps the goods entirely free from dust. When a customer is to be shown a suit, the glass door is opened and the rack pulled out, putting every suit in the cabinet in plain view before the prospective buyer. This change in the store fixtures puts the clothing department of Miller Bros. strictly up to date.

The Country Press.

The following "declaration of principles" and protest is from the Junction City Times. "The word has gone out that any paper that advocates the election of Mr. Bourne, or the principles of the primary law, or Statement No. 1, the initiative and referendum, will be accused of having been purchased by Mr. Bourne.

This is the rankest rot. This word has been passed out with an intimidatory attachment and may silence some weak-kneed newspaper, but not very many of them.

We will support what men and measures we please. We fought all the isms mentioned above when the newspapers of the state were dumb as oysters for fear that they might not be in accord with "the people."

We are still in the ring, not to fight the laws of our state, but to enforce them. The primary law, and all its illegitimate relations were foisted upon the people because of the cowardly and unmanly stand of the republican party. Now let them take their medicine.

We favored a county convention when the party of this county last assembled because we were outvoted. We are going to stand by that convention.

It is our belief, however, that the primary election should again be held, as the best way to bring about the repeal of an obnoxious law is to enforce it, and for that reason we say, lay on McDuff.

We will publish matter for Mr. Bourne or any other candidate at our regular commercial rates and don't give a whoop who objects to it. This paper is owned by its editor and no faction has any strings on it."

Parent and Child.

Not long ago I stood at the grave of John Brown in converse with one who, as a youth, had served in the Brown household among the hills that were not high enough to shut out from the master the sight of blood-stained sin a thousand miles away—because his eyes were fixed upon the eternal stars. When I made inquiry concerning the schooling of John Brown's children, the youth in the household of half a century ago, touched to nobleness of thought and speech by the surging memories of that better day, declared: The children had little schooling, but John Brown and his wife trained them to hate the wrong and to do the right.—Stephen S. Wise in November Pacific Monthly.
