Local Events.
P. N. Skinner and family came up from Portland a few days ago and are stopping at the Imperial.
The Misses Bess Adams and Sadie Hull, of Scholls spent Sunday in town with Miss Nelle Adams.
Mrs. Harry Bockes and little one went to Eugene Wednesday to visit at the home of her parents.
Stanley Harrold, with his mother and sister will leave for their new home in Washington on Friday.
Mrs. Cora Junkin, of Portland, will spend Christmas with her uncle, J. P. Dodge, at Fruithurst, north of Newberg.

Samuel M. Hummer, recently from Amboy, Washington, is in town visiting with his sister, Mrs. Eva Hummer Hull.
J. L. Hoskins has been in Portland during the week exhibiting his Minorca chickens and attending the big poultry show.

The Misses Mary and Ethel Barber will go to Newport to spend the holidays with the Misses Irvin at Nye Beach.

N. L. Wiley, of Rex, has been in Portland during the week attending the big poultry show and exhibiting some of his fine birds.

Roy Bancroft who is convalescing from an attack of the typhoid fever came home from Winlock, Washington a few days ago.

Mrs. Harry Terrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith, is here from Kansas with her children and will remain for some time visiting.

Since retiring from the drug business C. F. Moore is spending the time collecting and looking after the interests of the Newberg Telephone Co.

Mrs. P. A. Quinell and daughter, Irene arrived here from Neche, North Dakota, recently, expecting to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. W. J. Langton.

J. C. Kirk, of Pasco, Washington, is in town visiting with his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Terrell. He says Pasco now has a population claimed to be about 3000.

"The Enriching Christ" will be the subject next Sabbath morning at the M. E. church. At night the pastor will preach a Christmas sermon. All are invited.

Married at the Methodist parsonage on Tuesday evening of this week, Rev. W. C. Renter officiating, Miss Jennie Glover, of Yamhill, to Mr. Courmel Price, of Wasco county.

J. H. Campbell who bought the J. T. Cours two acre tract at the west end of fifth street is now in possession of it and is very much pleased with his purchase. He is from Portland.

Zimri Ellis who came here recently from Kansas has leased a small place west of town for a term of three years and is now comfortably fixed with his family in their new home.

The Graphic was in error last week in stating F. H. Rogers had sold his bungalow on Fifth street. He did sell his concrete block building on First street however to Mr. Gordon.

Perry Macy, of Springbrook, who is attending the theological seminary at Hartford, Connecticut, writes home that he is having a fine year, has made many good friends and is enjoying his work thoroughly.

Mrs. Luke Cornell and young son from near Walla Walla were here the first of the week visiting with Mrs. James Hammett and others. Mrs. Cornell indicated to her Newberg friends that she would like to return here to live if they can dispose of their property in Washington.

MILLER MERCANTILE CO.

No wonder they wear
Every yard of cloth and every yard of canvas that goes into Sincerity Clothes

is reshrunken beyond the mill's own process 'till the loss is 15 per cent; but cloth-loss means customer gain, for the man who discards a Sincerity suit after long service, and sees with his own eyes that the style has outlasted the fabric, is bound to be a Sincerity buyer.

Sincerity clothes are cut so well and worked so carefully that they hold up their heads in the company of much higher priced kinds.

The man they cover is at ease anywhere, secure in the knowledge that he is fittingly clothed.

Harry Bray and family and Clyde Stretches and family, of Monument, Kansas and friends of G. P. Graham, arrived here last Sunday. They are expecting to make Newberg their home.

J. D. Gordon is showing his faith in Yamhill soil by buying a number of farms. Last Saturday he bought a two hundred and eighty acre farm, two and a half miles from North Yamhill.

The Revival Meetings at the Baptist church will suspend Friday and Saturday evening for Christmas and be concluded Sunday night. Come and hear evangelist Jones in these last services.

A burning chimney at the D. H. Kopp residence on the corner of Hancock and Edwards streets Tuesday evening, resulted in the ringing of the fire bell and a run of the fire fighters, though there was no occasion for turning on the water.

The little six year old son of Enos Ellis fell while playing on the stairs last Sunday afternoon, receiving a severe gash on the left temple which required nearly a dozen stitches to put it in shape for healing properly. He is reported to be getting along nicely.

D. Ireland and J. D. Gordon sold the Commercial Livery property to the proprietor of the Graphic on last Saturday. It has a frontage of 100 feet on First street and the same on School street. E. F. Griser who is running the livery has a lease on the building.

If you are worrying over a present to send away to a friend just drop in and leave the name and address and have the Graphic sent for a year. It will carry more local news in the course of the year than you will chronicle by private correspondence in a life-time.

C. H. Nichols has entered into partnership with W. E. White and they have opened a real estate office in Mr. White's building on First street. Mr. White proved himself to be an aggressive real estate agent while engaged in the business some months ago, and Mr. Nichols is known as a reliable, trustworthy citizen who has gained the respect of the people of the community since locating here.

T. C. Reynolds and wife arrived here last week from Kansas and are getting settled in Newberg as their future home. Mr. Reynolds is a member of the Allen-Reynolds Hardware Co.

The city council has fixed the tax levy for city purposes at seven mills and the levy for school purposes will be nine and a half mills. This will make a levy of sixteen and a half mills for the city and school, which is three and a half mills less than was paid last year, but the property valuation will probably make it about the same.

Mrs. W. W. Hollingsworth has ordered the Graphic sent to her two sons, Elmer at Boring and Elzie at Wymore, Nebraska, for the coming year as a holiday reminder. For fifty-two times the Graphic will go to them and how could a dollar and a half be spent in any other way for a holiday present that would go as far.

Both of the banking institutions of Newberg have shown a marked increase in the business done during the year, over that of former years, and with the beginning of the new year both will have additional help in order to take care of the business. W. A. King has been elected as an assistant to the cashier in the First National and S. L. Parrett, of Dundee, will take a like position in the United States National Bank. Both are well known throughout the valley and will no doubt prove to be efficient officials in the positions to which they have been elected.

A. C. Martin writes from the Friends Mission station at Kake, Alaska that heavy snows have driven the deer down from the mountains to escape being devoured by the wild beasts of the forest and to secure forage, and consequently many are to be found along the beaches, an easy prey to hunters. He says it will be a hard season for the deer, taken altogether. Many of the Indians, are investing in motor launches and they are preparing to have great boat racing events during the holidays. They have a strong band with fine instruments and a good leader who is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian School.

Good Holiday Trade.

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Ferguson, recently from Walla Walla, who has the management of the display of goods at the Miller Mercantile Co. store, this big dry goods and grocery emporium has made a very attractive appearance since the holiday season opened. His window displays are now watched for with interest by the public and his handiwork here is highly complimented. Hodson Bros. windows are also showing up to splendid advantage and the same may be said of many of the other stores. J. C. Porter is too busy with his big clearance sale to do much but wait on his customers, and while E. C. Baird is not making any specialty of holiday goods he is enjoying a good trade in the substantial things that go to make up a good Christmas dinner. The Kienle & Sons new store front deserves special mention, while Hale & Co. are doing a good business in the sale of goods that interest the ladies. Nash & Finley are always busy and they also make many good window displays. Fine lines of drug sundries are on sale at both pharmacies these days and the furniture stores as well as the hardware and jewelry firms are having their innings. Taken altogether our merchants are wearing smiling countenances these days on account of a splendid holiday trade.

A hotly contested game of basketball was played at the rink on Wednesday night between the High School team and the Portland Academy lads, which resulted in a score of 24 to 33 in favor of the home team. The teams were pretty evenly matched and both of them played like fiends from start to finish, making it snappy and highly interesting to the crowd in attendance.

After an exchange of hot words a coolness is sure to set in.

The mole never waits for something to turn up; he goes right out and does it himself.
