Local Events.

Revival meetings are now in progress at the Free Methodist Church. All are invited.

Rev. John F. Hanson preached at the Rex church last Sunday morning and again in the evening.

Calvin Blair, O. Macy and Cecil J. Hoskins were down from the county seat the first of the week.

W. C. Woodward will leave for Berkeley, Saturday evening to resume his work in the University of California.

Mrs. Gertrude Whiteis and little one are here from Heppner visiting with her sister, Mrs. Will Wight.

Charley Holst is building a cottage on a very sightly location on the hill near the west end of the bridge across Chehalem creek, west of town.

Clifford Cordia, who has been laid up at his home at Rex for some time with fever, has returned to his school work in Willamette University.

John Gower, the green house man, has completed a new hot house 20x30 feet for special purposes, in order to keep up with the growing demand for green things.

The name of Mrs. J. P. Thomas stands at the head of the list on the roll of honor in the Graphic office, since she was the first to renew her subscription on the first day of the new year.

W. C. T. U. will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Bowerman. A large attendance is desired. All superintendents are requested to have a written report of all work done during the last half year.

J. D. Gordon started the new year right by going out before breakfast on the morning of the New Year and buying a twenty acre tract of Wm. Andrews, located on the road to West Chehalem a half mile out.

A surveying crew is at work on the Gus Gudatt farm near Rex, subdividing it into five and ten acre tracts for the Portland party who bought it recently. The same party is about closing a deal with James Norman for his farm in the same neighborhood at $85 per acre.

"C. E. Fuller, ranchman and boomer for Newberg" is the way a Portland paper made mention of our friend, Charles E. Fuller, who was registered last week at a hotel in the city. As a "ranchman" he has long been known as a hummer and we are glad to hear that he is out to boom Newberg.

H. R. Morris and L. M. Smith, who recently bought the French farm in the Chehalem Center neighborhood, better known as the W. R. Carter place, have already disposed of several tracts of it to men who intend to go in to the apple business. One of the buyers is Mr. Ruby, the Portland blooded horse importer and breeder. Samuel Atkinson who bought the forty acre tract on which the buildings are located is planting an apple orchard of several acres.

Jesse Cook came down from their temporary mountain home at the Spaulding Logging Co's, Luckiamute camp the first of the week, to spend a little time with the young people at home. He said a force of men were at work cleaning up the scattered logs along the stream, getting ready to abandon further rafting on the Luckiamute and that they were about done. He will remain there indefinitely to look after the property of the company and to keep a look out for wanton destruction of timber. So far the weather has not been bad in the mountains.

Lee Helton went to Amity Tuesday to visit with relatives.

Mrs. Webster was down from Hopewell last week visiting with her brother H. F. Baird.

W. R. Oliver has bought the C. B. Smith ten acre tract a mile and a half north of Newberg.

Marvin Blair is doing some work on the books in the office of the Spaulding Logging Co.

Miss Elsie Andrews returned to Seattle Monday where she is attending the University of Washington.

Earl Jones returned to Eugene Sunday, where he will continue his course in the university, after enjoying the holidays at his mother's home.

Miss Alice Hayes returned to Eugene the first of the week to resume her studies in the university after spending the vacation at her home at Chehalem Center.

George Sykes was up from Portland Wednesday to attend the G. A. R. love feast and chicken dinner. The avoirdupois he carries indicates that he is still pretty well fed.

Joe Snodgrass, who is down from the Alberta country, was in town the first of the week, and considering the polar weather we have been experiencing, his big fur overcoat was not out of place.

At the Friends' church Sabbath morning the pastor's subject will be "The True Christian Sacrament." A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to know Friends' views on this subject.

John Fort, son of Garret Fort, has bought the Mrs. Sarah Ewing ten acre tract, and also the H. A. Hyde ten acre tract two miles north of Newberg. For the former he paid $2,500 and the latter $2,400.

Dr. H. A. Littlefield is laid up at the Hotel Cornelius in Portland with a broken leg. While in the city on New Year's eve he fell on the walk in front of the Woodward Clark & Co. drugstore, sustaining a fracture of one leg below the knee. He is reported to be getting along as well as could be expected.

MILLER MERCANTILE CO.

A large number of Newberg citizens were in McMinnville Tuesday and Wednesday in attendance as witnesses in Judge Galloways court, in the suit of the city of Newberg against Kienle & Sons for encroaching on Dayton Avenue.

C. A. Keeney received a telegram Wednesday evening from the Soldiers Home at Santa Monica, California, announcing the death of his father, J. L. Keeney which occurred at 10 o'clock Wednesday. The deceased had been an inmate of the home for nineteen years. He visited Newberg once in the meantime.

Prof. Howard N. Marcy resigned his position as science teacher in Pacific College at the close of the term, on account of failing health, and he has gone to Southern California in company with his mother who came here recently from her home in Pennsylvania. His place has been filled by the election of Prof. Brissenden, a graduate of the University of Colorado, to the position.

A gentleman from the upper part of the county was in Newberg a few days ago circulating a petition for the pardon of Thompson who was convicted of the crime of man-slaughter at the last term of court, as a result of a suit over a shooting scrape which took place at a charavari last October. It is quite generally believed that the discharge of the gun in the hands of Thompson was accidental and the petition is being signed by a large number of people.

Mrs. F. H. Rogers, assisted by Mes. T. E. Wright, entertained her Sunday School class at a "quarterly party" on Monday evening. Music, games and dainty refreshments constituted the evening's program. Among those present were Misses Gladys Jones, Olive Johnson, Helen Stannard, Ethel and Lillie Phelps, Margaret and Maude Everest, Mabel Hanson, Mary Bechtle, Bernice Rowe, Mary and Celia Jensen, Veda Wilcox; Mrs. Josie Everest; Masters John Hanson, Garfield Johnson, Harold Christenson, Dean Wright, Harry Oliviant and Warren Rogers.

C. N. Terrell, formerly of Newberg, has resigned his position in the railway mail service and is preparing to remove with his family to Texas for a time to take up ranch life, and look after some land in which Mrs. Terrell is interested. Mrs. Terrell is up from Portland visiting with relatives this week.

At the city caucus held Tuesday night N. C. Christenson was nominated for mayor, Wm. Nelson for recorder and W. A. King for treasurer. For councilmen, J. C. Hodson was nominated in the first ward; C. C. Ferguson for the two year term and George Kely for the short term in second ward; Samuel Parrish in third ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benson Surprised.

On New Year's day while Albert Benson and wife were seated about the family circle talking over the events of other days, the suggestion was made that if they were back in Oklahoma among their numerous old time friends they would be remembered on this, the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, but they were hardly prepared for the coming of numerous Oregon friends and neighbors who called on them later in the day to show them that, although they are comparatively new people in the community, they were not forgotten.

They say they value the presents that were brought greatly, but appreciate very much more the friendship of the sixty-five donors.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hodson, Pres. and Mrs. W. I. Kelsey, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roode, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miles, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawthorth, Mrs. J. C. Colcord, Mrs. L. H. Shirley, Mrs. Jennie Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Perkins, Mrs. Anna Kentner, the Misses Bell Gilbert and Esther Miles. Many others were prevented from being present on account of other engagements on that day. Mr. and Mrs. Benson were married at Dublin, Indiana.
