

CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

Easy Tests For Those Who Are After Jobs.

Any person of good judgement, who has received an ordinary common school education, can readily and easily pass the test to be given applicants for census enumerator's places on Saturday, February 5th, the date finally set by U. S. Census Director Durand, according to an announcement from the census bureau recently. This will be a comforting assurance to the several hundred thousand who are believed to be contemplating making application for the places.

It was emphatically stated at the bureau that the test will be an eminently reasonable and practical one, similar to that applied to applicants at the twelfth census. It will consist of filling out a sample schedule of population from a description, in narrative form, of typical families; and, in the case of enumerators whose work will be in the rural districts, they will be called upon to fill out an additional sample schedule of agriculture, from information furnished by the census bureau.

All persons, whether women or men, who may desire to become census enumerators must be citizens of the United States; residents of the supervisor's district for which they wish to be appointed; must be not less than 18 nor more than 70 years of age; must be physically able to do the work; must be trustworthy, honest and of good habits; must have at least an ordinary education and must be able to write plainly and with reasonable rapidity.

Those who can comply with these requirements are invited to put in their applications, as there will be at least 68,000 enumerators' places to be filled by the middle of March in preparation for the enumeration beginning April 15th.

Application forms, with full instructions for filling in, and complete information concerning the test and the method of appointment, can be secured by writing to the supervisor of census for the supervisor's district in which the applicant lives. All applications, properly filled in, must be filed with the supervisors not later than January 25th as any received after that date cannot be considered.

J. R. Hendricks, of Salem, is the supervisor for the first congressional district in Oregon and Seneca C. Beach, of Portland, for the second district.

The American Woman's League.

Come to the Christian Church Friday evening, January 14, and hear what it is, and also learn about a "Club" house and rest room for the women of Newberg and surrounding country.

Business men's presence earnestly solicited. No fee—no collection. Please come.

Third Number Lyceum Course.

The third number of the lyceum course will be given in Duncan's Hall on Friday evening January 21. The concert will be given by Mrs. Eva H. Hull, violin and piano; Alexander Hull, baritone and cello and Miss Dorothy Hull, piano. A varied and interesting program has been arranged for the evening, opening with a piano duet and closing with a string trio. Mr. Hull will sing a dozen songs in three groups, among others a set of children's songs of his own composition. In cello number there will be two solos new to Newberg audiences and several string trios will be especially interesting. The performers are well known to Newberg people from their work in the college. Their teaching work has left little time for concerts and this is consequently their first appearance this season in Newberg. In addition to his work at the college Mr. Hull has charge of the quartet and chorus of the First Presbyterian Church of Salem, where he has a growing class in voice. Mr. and Mrs. Hull have had a wide experience in concert and recital work and a successful one, as their press notices show.

Installation of Officers.

The officers of the Vesta Rebekah lodge were installed on Tuesday evening by District Deputy President, Marie Evans, with Verona H. Nelson acting as Marshal. The following are the officers for the term:

Mr. and Mrs. Orejelo, some of the Portland Mission workers, made Miss Mabel Paulsen a visit the later part of last week and last Sunday Mrs. Orejelo conducted the services at the church in the morning and evening.

Portland Notes.

Pending timber sales from the national forest reserves of Oregon and Washington will mean a revenue to the two commonwealths of more than $300,000. This sum will go to the school and road funds of the two states, the counties benefitted being those in which the timber grew. The distribution of this money will mean great improvement to both states.

Numerous important conventions of interest throughout the Northwest are scheduled for Portland during the present month. The Oregon State Federation of Labor and the Northwest Retail Harness & Saddlery Ass'n. opened their annual gatherings on Monday, January 10, and interesting sessions are being held by both of these bodies. Good attendance has marked the conventions, the delegates being widely representative of the North Pacific states. The Oregon Retail Hardware & Implement Dealers' Ass'n., which embraces those portions of Washington tributary to Portland, as land, as well as this whole state, will meet here January 18 and 19, and the Pacific Federation of Hardware & Implement Dealers' Ass'n. will meet here January 20 and 21.

The Young Peoples Societies of Christian Endeavor throughout the state are planning to send full delegations to the big state convention to be held in Portland, February 15, 16 and 17. Dr. Francis E. Clarke, of Boston, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union; General Secretary William E. Shaw, and Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, are among the prominent names that will be on the program.

Oregon ranks seventh among all the states in railroad building during 1909. These figures are compiled by the leading railroad publications of the country and show that the Beaver state added 134 miles to its railroads during the year just closed. The Pacific Northwest is declared to be the great goal of competitive railroad building in the United States. The struggle of the railroads to enter Central Oregon is detailed and development in the Willamette Valley and in the Oregon Coast country is recorded. This is a far better showing for the past year than was made in 1908, when 79 miles of new railway was built in this state.

Pacific College Notes.

Miss Erma Heacock, who was out the fall term has entered our ranks again.

The seat of Kenneth Hansep was vacant a day recently as a result of an accident.

Miss Esther Ellis, formerly a student of Fowler Academy, Kansas enrolled as a student the first of the term.

Post cards from Prof. Marcy announce that he and his mother are among the orange groves near Los Angeles.

Rev. G. H. Greer gave another helpful and inspiring talk in his philosophic style on Wednesday morning of last week.

President and Mrs. Kelsey entertained the junior academy class on the evening of January 3, for their daughter, Miss Lorena. A very pleasant evening was reported.

The students are getting anxious to see the famous Dallas basketball team perform on our floor Friday night. The home team would be greatly encouraged in their stupendous undertaking, by the attendance of a good crowd.

Revival Meetings.

At Christian Tabernacle, Sunday morning, January 16th, revival meetings will begin, conducted by the pastor, assisted by Miss Ellen Flook, of Portland, as soloist and song leader. A lively interest is already manifested, by good audiences and eleven new members being added since first announcement was made two weeks ago. All christian people are welcome to participate in the services. The non-church people are especially invited and urged to attend regularly. The service will not be long and will commence at 7:30 p.m. with special song service, each evening.

GEO. C. RITCHEY, Pastor.

W. S. Allen Shows Freak Apple

W. S. Allan, from Dundee, was exhibiting to his Newberg friends a few days ago a freak apple picked from his orchard, which no doubt came as a result of cross pollenizing during the blooming season. One side of the apple has the red Spitzenberg color, while the other is striped a little like a Ben Davis, with a very distinct line of demarcation between the two colors. Earlier in the season Mr. Allan found one apple of this kind on a Spitz tree, which he exhibited at the meeting of the State Horticultural Society held during the holidays, and later he found this one. Next season he should try his hand at producing an apple half sour and half sweet, to sell to families where divorce proceedings have been threatened.

Calvin Blair Resigns.

Calvin Blair, tired of the distinction incident to official position at the seat of government of Yamhill, and filed his resignation as deputy sheriff. He is now holding down a much more lucrative position with the Sweeny Construction Co., which is building the railroad into Tillamook. He is head clerk at the camps along the line of the new road, and considering the character of the country being traversed, it doubtless gives him an opportunity to get close to nature. With the openings before steady, competent young men in many lines of endeavor in the great Northwest today at good wages, and where there is an abundant opportunity for advancement, the field of politics has little to offer them in comparison.

Elmer A. Buehler, a former student of Pacific College and now attending the Capital Business College of Salem, was last week selected from a list of desirable candidates as bass in the quartet of the First Presbyterian church of that city. Mr. Buehler has been studying with Prof. Hull for the last year and a half and his recent appearance assisting Mr. Hull at a Christmas, Vesper Musical Service led the music committee of the church to authorize Mr. Hull to engage him for work in the quartet. The members have expressed themselves as very much pleased with Mr. Buehler's work at his initial service last Sunday. It is likely Mr. Buehler will appear here in a recital during the coming spring.

"Charlie, dear," queried the fair maid at the ball park, "why does that man behind the hitter wear such a big bib?"

"That," explained Charlie, "is to keep his shirt front from getting mussed when the ball knocks his teeth out."

She could not cook, she could not bake, she could not wield a garded rake, she could not sew, she could not darn, she could not knit socks out of yarn and she could not a husband get; so she became a suffragette and joined a club whose motto said: "Till we can vote we shall not wed."

A story comes from the vatican that Cardinal Merry de Val was speaking with a friend on the Storer incident and the Roosevelt letter, when suddenly the cardinal said, smiling; "There are three excellent ways of disseminating news—telephone, telegraph and tell-a-woman!"
