Jesus, the Healer. Matt. 8:2-17.
Golden Text. Himself took our infirmities and bore our sickness. Matt. 8:17

Verses 2-4. What is the nature of the disease of leprosy?

How many points of resemblance are there between leprosy and sin?

How were lepers treated in those days?

How had this leper probably learned that Jesus had power to heal him?

Did Jesus desire that this leper should never tell who had healed him, or that he should tell the priest first, and thus get his cure officially recognized before telling any other person?

If God will he can do anything, but to how many of our requests may we be certain that he will say "I will"?

What prompted Jesus to grant the request and to heal this leper?

Verses 5-7. What was the position of a centurion, and if he had been some obscure person, would Jesus have treated him just as courteously?

Verses 8, 9. What benefit is it to us, today, to bring our sick ones to Jesus?

So far as the records show, Jesus while in the flesh, healed all the sick ones that were brought to him, is that sufficient to prove that he will do the same to-day?

Verses 8, 9. From the commendation which Jesus afterwards gave him, was not this man more worthy than he thought?

What are the relative moral values of thinking too much, or thinking too little of ourselves?

Why should not a man be blamable, for folly if not for sin, for having an estimate of himself, whether for or against, other than the facts warrant?

What was the ground for this man's sublime faith, and is such faith possible, for all of us, when we pray for specific things?

What is the force of the centurion's analogy between obedience rendered him as a general, and the instant obedience of the laws of nature to the commands of Jesus? "Speak the word only."

Verses 10-11. What reason is there to believe, that in every nation, and under every form of error and superstition, men are found who fear God, and that all who do fear him are accepted of him?

Verses 11, 12. When it comes to a matter of personal salvation, what advantage did the Jew have over the Gentile, and what advantage has a man from a Christian family over one from the family of an infidel?

What is the reason for the belief that many heathen will be saved in that day, and many church members shut out in the darkness?

Verses 13-14. Have you any reason to believe that this man's faith and its results, are other than typical of cases that are constantly happening?

Verses 14-17. Does God to-day purpose to cure our sick miraculously, like these cases, or are these exceptional and for a special purpose?
