$1.50 Per Year in Advance.

THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1910.

Cheer up gentle Annie, spring-time is coming by and by.

The subscription to the college building fund to date is $19,388.

The groundhog ought to come out of his hole and shake with the lion.

Better put the sign out, "No peddlers allowed." The assessor and the census man will be turned loose at an early day.

The wood dealer is the one man who stands in with weather forecaster. The long drawn out winter has no terrors for him.

The dog catcher was out Tuesday and got four pups, and it was not a very good day for dogs either. Since only thirty-four licenses have been issued it is evident that he will have to bait his hook again.

The long prayed for depot is being supplied at Rex, and considering the diminutive size of the structure it certainly might have been built several years ago, without bringing financial embarrassment to the Harriman treasury. It will beat standing under a tree in a rain however.

The head of a household having a contagious disease among its members and keeping it from the health officer in order to avoid a quarantine, shows very little consideration for his neighbors. It is a great inconvenience, to be sure, to be shut in for several weeks, but it is a case where the golden rule should prevail. It is the only way to stamp out contagious diseases and all should heartily co-operate with the officials in these cases. Those who are not willing to do so should be made to feel the strong arm of the law.

In conversation with Mr. Settlemier, the veteran nurseryman of Woodburn, on last Saturday he said to the writer that orchards were being planted in some parts of the valley where it was virtually a case of throwing good money away, as the land was too flat and wet for trees, but he said further that much of the land in the vicinity of Newberg was well adapted to successful apple growing. Regarding the probability of over production of apples he said there was no danger of this, though he remarked that doubtless prices would be lower in the future. He expressed confidence in the apple grower who produces a good apple always getting a fair return for the money expended in growing it.

A DIFFERENCE OF VIEW POINT

Two weeks ago when the campaign was opened for raising money for a new building for Pacific College, and when nearly all Newberg people were wearing college booster badges, a former student of the college who now resides in another city, and who had been visiting in town, boarded the train for home, wearing one of the badges. While on the way he was accosted by the president of one of the other denominational colleges of the Willamette Valley who inquired as to the intent of the badge, when the building campaign was explained to him. His response was "I wish they would quit." Whereupon the former student of P. C. asked for an explanation, when the college president ventured the assertion that there were too many colleges in Oregon.

For the sake of argument, conceding that there are too many colleges in Oregon, the matter of elimination must be considered, and the Graphic maintains that if it is to be a case of the survival of the fittest, then the institution which the above named gentleman represents may be visited by the grim messenger, since it can be easily shown that taking into account the time the two institutions have been running, Pacific College has made herself felt to a much greater extent in Oregon than has the older school.

Evidently it is wholly from a selfish standpoint the gentleman speaks, when he voices the desire to see Pacific College go out of business, and the friends of P. C. are not likely to conclude to bow down to him in his contention. The Graphic believes there is room for both schools in the valley. Statistics show that there are a larger per cent of young people attending colleges in Oregon than in any other state in the union, and doubtless this may largely be accounted for by pointing to the number of colleges located so that they are easily reached by the young people. There are enough young men and young women growing up within easy reach of Newberg who ought to be getting a college education to furnish a large enrollment for Pacific College, and this is no doubt true of many of the other colleges in Oregon.

If President is starting out with his little hammer to eliminate colleges in Oregon let him "shiny on his own side"—of the Willamette river.

As will be seen by the advertisement of the Chehalis Valley Mills in this issue the company will make a donation to the college building fund of five cents for every sack of their Queen Patent flour sold in the stores of Newberg, Dundee, Springbrook and Rex from March 1 to September 1 of this year. This offer should meet with hearty response on the part of the people. In the first place loyalty to a home industry ought to impel housekeepers in the territory named to buy flour manufactured at this mill, and in the second place it will be an easy way to add very materially to the college building fund without making any sacrifice. Get the habit of calling for the Queen Patent and take no other.

Additional Locals.

L. M. Parker and Lon Hadley were in the county seat on business Tuesday.

Attorney B. A. Kliks who was down from McMinnville Tuesday evening between trains, dropped in at the Graphic office to shake hands.

J. H. Rees and C. E. Newhouse went to McMinnville today, Thursday, to interview the county assessor on behalf of the Springbrook neighborhood where assessments are claimed to be exorbitant.

Last Thursday evening a merry party crowded into vehicles provided for their accommodation and drove out to the spacious residence of J. Carl Nelson, the occasion being the celebration of the natal anniversary of Mrs. Nelson. At the instigation of the host the affair was planned without the knowledge of Mrs. Nelson and although completely surprised she received the guests graciously and they were soon seated around the cheerful fire places when conversation, jest, music and games filled a happy evening. Refreshments were furnished and served by the guests. Accompanied by a neat little speech Mrs. Stannard presented the hostess a beautiful salad dish in behalf of the assembled company, and after wishing her many returns of the day the guests departed each declaring he had passed a most pleasant evening. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Stannard, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Corby, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Burns, Mr. and Mrs. V. Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Timberlake, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Slyter, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rogers, and Mesdames H. M. Williams, Ethel Wilson, L. M. Grames, E. G. Fendall, Nettie Potter, C. Fairbanks, Angeline Jones, N. E. Byers, Emma Bell, and Miss Mary Johnson.

Apple Growers Effect Organization.

At a meeting held in Crater's hall on last Saturday the organization of the Newberg Apple Growers Association was effected by the election of a board of nine directors. Those elected for one year were I. N. Campbell, N. E. Britt, Zimri Mills, L. S. Otis and W. T. West. For two years, N. C. Christenson, J. D. Gordon, W. S. Allan, J. H. Rees. At the meeting of the board J. D. Gordon was elected president and the First National Bank treasurer. A man for secretary and manager is being sought for but no selection has been made.

Following the election of the board a very interesting discussion was engaged in by Granville Everest, W. S. Allan, F. L. Strait, I. N. Campbell, D. P. Strait and others. Mr. Everest produced a canvass chart illustrating the best methods of apple growing, packing and marketing, as compared to the old slipshod way of doing things, which awakened much interest and brought out on animated discussion that was profitable to those who heard it. Mr. Everest took the ground that it was better to grub out old diseased trees rather than to cut them back and top graft, while Mr. Allan took the opposite view.

Any one who is in any way interested in fruit growing will find it worth while to attend these meetings and hear the discussion.

Reception Given by Wednesday Club.

On Friday evening of last week the Wednesday Club gave a reception in Duncans hall to which a large number of Newberg people were invited. The hall was tastily decorated for the occasion, the floors being covered with rugs and the windows shaded with lace curtains, and withal it was transformed into a very cosy reception parlor.

Many ladies and gentlemen were present and following the introductions a pleasant half hour was spent in a social way, after which Mrs. C. J. Edwards, the president of the Club, introduced Mrs. Ferris, of Sheridan, who delivered a very scholarly and highly entertaining lecture on the life and writings of Robert Burns the Scottish poet. Mrs. Ferris, who was formerly from Michigan, has been doing pastoral work for the Congregational church at Sheridan and Willamina for the past few years. Her language is perfect and she is a very impressive speaker. During the course of her lecture Miss Katherine Romig pleased the audience by singing an appropriate Scotch ballad.

Instrumental music was furnished by the Misses Mabelle Gardner, Jessie Britt and Doris Gregory and Mr. Getchell.

Before the departure of the guests light refreshments were served. It was an evening very pleasantly spent, for the ladies of the Club proved to be good entertainers.

CHI-NAMEL

The Cheapest Varnish Made in Glass or Dull Mission, Natural and All Colors

Cheapest by the YEAR—because it outwears all other varnishes on floors, furniture, etc.

Cheapest by the YARD—because a gallon of it covers one-third more surface than any other architectural varnish.

Cheapest by the DAY—because it takes a third less time on the part of the workman to brush it upon a given surface.

The reason for this is that it is made of the best material of which a varnish can be made: it is not adulterated with either rosin or benzine, and by our special process of treating Chinese Oil, receives a toughness, elasticity and water-resisting quality which it is impossible to obtain otherwise.

You can hammer it, bruise it, scratch it or boil it; it will neither turn white nor lose its gloss.

Best for new buildings; best for old ones.

For furniture or any wood or metal surface.

Come in and we will show you how any person can finish old floors and furniture in new grained woods. The Chi-Namel Graining Tool is a wonder. Anyone can use it.
