Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carter at Montalba, Texas, on July 3rd, an eight pound girl, Beulah Leone.

J. A. Reynolds and his mother joined the throng at Newport the first of the week and will remain for ten days.

Mrs. O. Baldwin and Miss Mabel Rush, of Springbrook, are visiting with relatives at Centralia, Washington.

The Newberg Apple Growers Association has made a sale of a pool of prunes to H. S. Gile & Co. at five and a quarter.

C. E. Kirk remembered the Graphic office Wednesday with some of the luscious apricots for which his trees are famous.

W. C. and Miss Sibyl Woodward visited in Portland with their uncle, N. C. Maris and family the latter part of the week.

Dr. L. H. Howland, osteopath, of Portland, will take charge of the practice of Dr. Bowers and wife during their absence in California.

H. S. Britt came home from Western Washington Tuesday, expecting to enjoy a vacation of several days before the next call is rung in.

Miss Sibyl Woodward went to Chemawa Wednesday to attend the Indian School Commencement and visit with Miss Gertrude Brewer.

James Hannett & Son are burning a kiln of close to 300,000 brick, which will probably be the only kiln they will turn out this season.

George Howland has returned to Wallowa county where his company has several building contracts. His family will follow in a day or two.

A force of men have been at work for some time on the switch to the sawmill and brick factory putting it in better condition for the heavy log train.

Dr. E. A. Romig, Miss Katherine and the Fullers returned from their Mt. Jefferson outing Wednesday, reporting good fishing and a satisfactory trip.

The Misses Blanch and Edna Newby who have been teaching near Spokane for two or three years, were in town the first of the week visiting at J. F. Taylors. They are now on their way to their former home at Lynville, Iowa.

BLACK.

Black, the new photographer, has arrived in order to introduce his high grade work, will give one life size picture with each dozen cabinet photographs, for the next thirty days.

At the Douglas Studio.

Mrs. Mary Hurley who had been visiting here for several days with her sister, Mrs. R. Pettyjohn, returned home to Portland Tuesday morning.

There will be preaching in the Presbyterian Church Sunday, July 31st, at 11 a.m., by Rev. Geo. A. McKinley, of Salem. Bring your friends with you.

Miss Lenora Parker got home Tuesday from her visit with brother, Curt and wife at Morgan. Heap too much hot in Morrow county, quoth Lenore.

Newberg shipping was given a boost Wednesday morning by Herbert Willard who shipped a five months old, five hundred pound boar to a party at Curinsville, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jo Hollingsworth, R. F. Sturgis and Miss Gladys Hannon left by private conveyance for Ocean Park Tuesday morning, expecting to be gone about two weeks.

H. R. Morris, F. H. Caldwell and George Kelly with their families have joined the Newberg colony at Newport, expecting to remain until the katyids begin to sing of the harvest home.

Luther Votaw and wife, former residents of Newberg who have been located at Twin Falls, Idaho, for the past few years came last week for a visit. They have located over on the Sound.

L. H. Talbert and wife who had been visiting in town for some time at Alex Buchanans left for their Iowa home the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan went with them to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paulsen and two children of Chehalem Center and C. E. Newhouse, of Springbrook, arrived home from Newport the first of the week looking well after their stay in the salt sea air.

G. N. Jack and family were down from Willamina Sunday visiting with the S. P. Timberlake family. Mr. Jack and Mr. Timberlake were partners for several years, first in Eastern Washington, and later at Willamina.

Leo Ferguson has gone to Medford on a business trip and will remain long enough to fill up on watermelons and peaches. He took with him that smile of his that is so fetching in the presence of fair and blushing damsels.

Billy Sunday will deliver his famous lecture, "Get on the Water Wagon," at the auditorium at McMinnville on the afternoon of August 7th. Seats will be arranged for two thousand people. Admission free; a free will offering.

R. N. Hockenberry, of Portland, has been selected as the architect for the new college building. He was in town Wednesday evening conferring with the building committee and will have plans ready in the course of ten days.

C. E. Burke, who lives out east of town, got a yield of 714 pounds of dried raspberries this season from a small tract of three quarters of an acre. If there has been anything doing in berryville better than this, we'd like to be shown.

W. S. Bean has retired from the firm of J. H. Wilson & Co. and will open up next week in the store room formerly occupied by the C. F. Moore drug store, with a stock of groceries and shoes. He proposes to pay cash for produce and will sell for cash.

Thomas Prince arrived home from Massachusetts this, Thursday morning. He said the weather was very hot and oppressive east and he was glad to get back to Oregon where he could get a full breath of pure air.

It will be of interest to the many Newberg friends of Prof. and Mrs. Chas. E. Lewis, of Whittier, California, to know that they sail within a few days for Honolulu with the expectation of remaining in the islands for a year for purposes of health and recreation.

C. S. Calkins and sons, Claude and Oscar made a trip to Lewisville, Polk county a few days ago where they have a ninety acre farm on the Luckiamute river and where they contemplate making further investments, though they say they do not contemplate leaving Newberg permanently.

John Brown who has been in town during the week, says he has very flattering reports from his California gold mine and he expresses great confidence in the outcome. Since his return to Oregon he has been able to sell sufficient stock to finance the company and work on the mine will be pushed.

W. F. Gwin, representing Crutchfield & Woolfolk, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, dealers in green fruits, who have opened a branch office in Portland, was in town one evening last week in the interest of his company and met for a conference with the directors of the Apple Growers Association.

C. J. Edwards, G. A. Martin and Pres. Kelsey who spent the greater part of last week in the Coast Mountains out from Falls City, about the logging camps of the Spaulding Co., report a very enjoyable trip fishing and looking at the big trees, some of which they say it required three looks to see the top.

Mr. and Mrs. John Byers, of Pasadena, California, visited in town the first of the week the latter's uncle, Jesse Edwards and wife. Mr. Byers has been superintendent of streets in Pasadena for thirteen years, the fine paved streets of which famous little city have made him a reputation. As a result, he has been at Spokane, Washington, for some time, supervising the extended street improvements which that city has undertaken.

In company with O. J. Hobson, of Portland, the writer attended the big tennis tournament at the Irvington Club Courts Saturday and saw Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, of Berkeley, California, national ladies champion, successfully defend her title to the Oregon championship against Miss Marion Pitts, of Victoria, British Columbia. O. J., with his brothers, Frank and Murray, was the aboriginal tennis fan in this part of the country and the lure of the fascinating game is still strong with him. Neither has his racquet lost its cunning.

The Misses Frances, Mary and Anna Hinshaw and Chester Chapman, all of Goldendale, Washington, are here visiting their grand parents, Isaac Hinshaw and wife and other relatives. Miss Frances Hinshaw attended college here a few years ago.

J. D. Gordon and son, Harry have let a contract to S. E. Watkins for the erection of their new dwelling houses to be built on the half block on Sheridan street directly opposite the Baptist church, the contract price being $8,000. The excavating is well under way and the work will be pushed forward at once.

Miss Margaret Downs, of Hartford, Connecticut, who was a delegate to the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held in Portland last week, came up to Newberg for a short visit with her brother, Martin Downs. She like all the other delegates expressed great delight at what she had seen in Oregon.

O. B. Corpron, a lineman employed by the McMinnville Telephone Company, who has done a good deal of work for the Independent Company here in Newberg, fell to the pavement from a telephone pole in McMinnville Tuesday and was instantly killed.

He was between fifty and sixty years of age and leaves a family of a wife, two sons and a daughter.

Dick Baldwin, of Springbrook, who took the civil service examination last winter for postal work, got notice from the Portland postmaster a few days ago to appear at once for work and he is now in the city. He writes his father, O. Baldwin that the three men who ranked him in the examination have not shown up and he is likely to be advanced to first place.

Rev. A. J. Weaver, Rev. John F. Lyons, J. C. Hodson and Prof. A. C. Stanbrough left on Monday morning for a trip to Mount Hood. They expected to go out on the Cazadero line from Portland to Boring and make it the remainder of the distance on foot. From the supply of fishing tackle they started out with it is reasonable to expect a new stock of fish stories on their return.

After the train was in Tuesday morning a young couple, "well and favorably known," rushed down to the station. Their glowing color and self-satisfied but self-conscious expression proclaimed them as pilgrims to the county seat, but whether from a sudden attack of "turned around" or from general excitement, augmented by their late arrival at the station, they boarded the train going in the wrong direction. Sometime we'll understand.

To Wide-awake Women
Occident flour

Made so much better it must cost more. A trial Will Not Cost You a Cent.

Our Offer

Try a sack of OCCIDENT FLOUR, making as many bakings as you wish. If you are not satisfied that it is better than any other flour you can buy, your money will be returned without argument.

We have just received a shipment of this flour direct from the mills in North Dakota. There has been a continual call for an Eastern flour, one that is superior to any made on the Pacific Coast. We have it now. OCCIDENT FLOUR has proved that the American people are ready and glad to pay a fair price—a few pennies more per sack—for a flour that really is superior—a flour that is not made at a price. For sale only by

The Miller Mercantile Co.

Dave Coyle, brother of Mrs. J. B. Mount was up from Portland the first of the week.

F. H. Caldwell, Hugh Nelson and Dr. H. A. Littlefield left today on a trip to Southern Oregon to look further into the home-stand and timber proposition, of which mention was made in the Graphic in a recent issue. If they get what they are after it will be in the capacity of "squatter sovereigns" after beating the other fellows to it. They will take plenty of firearms along, but these, they declare, are for the big game which is almost as thick as the big trees in that section. The Graphic speaks for a piece of rhinoceros steak.

The Spaulding Logging Company's sawmill located at Independence burned down Saturday afternoon. C. K. Spaulding, accompanied by N. J. Sykes, of Portland, went up Sunday evening to view the remains and size up the situation. The loss was reported in the papers as $30,000 but after getting on the ground, Nelson Sykes informs the Graphic that the engines and boilers are in fairly good shape and that with the amount of material saved the loss is about $7,000 with $4,000 insurance. It is doubtful about the Company's rebuilding at Independence at present as it is as much as a bargain that they are able to supply their remaining mills with all the logs they can take care of.

Mrs. Sarah M. Young is enjoying a visit from her sister, Miss Florence Olds, who is on her way to her home in Tacoma, from a trip to Nevada.

Jesse Marshal and wife, of Union, Iowa, who are on their way home from a trip to Southern California, were in town the first of the week visiting with J. T. Smith and wife. Mr. Marshal and Mrs. Smith graduated in the same class at Penn College twenty-five years ago.

Dr. H. D. Bowers has sold his fruit tract located a mile north of Newberg consisting of ten acres to Charles W. Stubbs, of Portland, for $4,000. Sheldon Stubbs, a son of the purchaser, will take charge of the tract at once and will locate here with his family. Dr. Bowers and family will leave in a few days for San Francisco to attend a national meeting of Osteopaths, after which they expect to return to Newberg.

Harvey D. Crumly was one of a number of passengers who were in a serious collision on the electric line, running from Caldwell to Boise, Idaho, a week ago. Two freight cars ran down a grade and smashed into a loaded passenger coach with serious results. Mr. Crumly had a part of his teeth knocked loose and was otherwise bruised up so that he was laid by for a day or two but is out again. A number of other passengers were quite seriously injured.
