

THE CITY
HAPPENINGS

Newberg

Garrett Fort and Thomas Patterson spent last Sunday at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelty arrived home from Newport Wednesday evening.

Miss Leta Judd has been visiting at Salem for some days with her married sister.

Harry Walther, of The Dalles, was in town a few days ago, the guest of the Romigs.

Russel J. Davey, of Goldfield, Nevada, is in town as the guest of the B. R. Bass family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keeney visited in Portland today with a friend en route south from North Yakima.

W. W. Lucas, of South Bend, Washington, son of J. C. Lucas and brother of Mrs. C. J. Clemenson, is here with his family visiting.

Photographer F. S. Black and wife went down to Portland Sunday to hear their old pastor, Dr. Hinson, preach at the White Temple.

The Doctors B. P. and H. C. Dixon and their families, and Sam Gause's took the auto route for the cool sea breezes a few days ago.

Miss Cora Comer who has been teaching in the Seattle public schools for several years, is in town visiting with her father, Silas Comer.

The Misses Florence Forsyth and Susie Brouillette, with Kenneth Austin, accompanied the family of Frank Osborn to Ocean Park Monday, for a two weeks outing.

Sam Newby drove over from Marion county the first of the week and took his son Emmer and family and Miss Myrtle Gause and Miss Esther Winslow out to the coast.

J. C. Cooper, of McMinnville, passed through town last Saturday on his way to Washington, D. D., to attend the National Esperanto Convention as a delegate from Oregon.

Miss Ione Hill and Miss Pearl Cummings forsook dull care today and flew to other troubles they know not of, at Newport. They will be joined shortly by Mrs. Tom Cummings and children and by Miss Lula Trueblood, of Portland.

Dr. Frederick Kramer, professor of philosophy in Willamette University, gave an excellent address at the union service Sunday evening, upon the subject of Christian education. He spoke as the representative of the German Methodist church.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church, the topic next Sabbath at 11 o'clock will be: "How to Become a Strong Christian." At night this church will unite with the other denominations of the city in the Union Meeting to be held at the Friend's church.

Married, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Phelps, Wednesday, August 10, their son Harry G. Phelps, of Newberg, to Miss Dottie Smith, of Polk county, Rev. Geo. C. Richey officiating. The young people will make Newberg their home for the present.

Abner Blair, a former resident of Newberg, now located with his family at Vancouver, B. C., as the traveling representative of the Simonds Saw Company, came out from Portland on Friday evening of last week and visited with his brother, A. T. Blair north of town over night. He says his preference would be to do business on this side of the line, since the average Britisher don't look with much compassion on a business competitor who has been trained in the strenuous school in which Uncle Sam's subjects are given their wings.

Mack Kaufman has been chosen janitor of the public school for next year.

Miss Dorothy Ehret came up from Portland Monday to enjoy a week at home.

Mrs. G. W. Range goes to Silverton today to visit her son Hugh and family.

The local members of the American Woman's League will hold a meeting at the Hotel Imperial parlors Friday evening at eight o'clock.

Mrs. C. K. Spaulding and daughter Ila and Mrs. Elizabeth Spaulding took up their abode at their Newport cottage the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferguson and daughter Mildred were passengers on the Newport trail this morning. Miss Helena will follow next week.

Miss Frances Adams, a teacher in the public schools of Toledo, Ohio, was in town the first of the week visiting with Dr. John S. Rankin and family.

Miss Nellie Ralston, of Culver, Eastern Oregon, who has been visiting here for three weeks with her aunt, Mrs. L. B. Ferguson, left Wednesday.

Henry Morris and family returned from their Newport outing Tuesday. They say one meets about as many Newberg people on the beach out there as on the streets of Newberg.

Axum and Ray Newby and their families, L. M. Metcalf and wife, John Hodsons and Miss Eula Hodson are representing their neighborhood at the coast, having made the overland trip.

Mrs. George Burket, and little daughter Bernice, of Napa, California, and Miss Ione Elliott, of Carthage, Missouri, nieces of M. P. Elliott, came the last of the week and visited over Sunday.

F. A. Elliott, of Salem, was in town the first of the week. He said the indications were that their son John was being taken down with a case of typhoid fever.

Charley Leavitt and family arrived home several days ago from an extended trip by wagon through Polk and Benton counties where they spent the time in camping out at night and in seeing the country in a leisurely way. They report a very pleasant time.

N. F. Byers, who has been having a hard tussle with pleurisy and heart trouble, had been much better for several days until last night when he got worse again. His many friends hope this is the dark spot just before dawn, and that he will be with us again before long.

Prof. M. F. Hanville, of Sumner, Washington, is visiting in town with his mother, Mrs. A. E. Branch. Since he was here two months ago he has won a campaign for a new high school building at Sumner, which pleased the directors to the extent of raising his salary to $1,500.

Dr. C. A. Eldridge, who located at Corvallis some months ago for the practice of dentistry, has changed his location to Hood River. Mrs. Eldridge, who had been visiting here some days with her mother, Mrs. Maggie Littlefield, returned to Corvallis Wednesday to make preparations incident to moving.

"Has the mail gone to the train yet?" "Are the letters all distributed?" "Give me a money order quick—Oh, you make out the application." "Look again—I know there must be a letter." All of which is but a bad dream this week to Miss Mabelle Gardner, faithful servant of Uncle Sam, who is listening to the pleasanter music of the wild waves at Newport beach.

W. A. King and family spent Sunday with his parents in Portland.

Mrs. Elma Mendenhall, of Tacoma, Washington, visited here this week with the family of H. A. Forkner.

John Crosby has joined the walking class, since he has traded his chug-chug wagon for Portland real estate.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Otis are entertaining the latter's Sunday School class on a picnic in the Red Hills today.

Mrs. S. G. Campbell, of Hood River, is visiting up the valley with her brother-in-law, I. N. Campbell and wife.

Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Reagan have spent several days the past week in Marion county in the interests of the College.

Newberg was well represented at the Billy Sunday lecture, "Get on the Water Wagon," at McMinnville Sunday. The report is that it was worth the trip.

The community is unleavened this week. The bright, pretty school ma'ams are all at McMinnville wrinking their brows over those horrid examinations.

Adrian Bowman who has been assisting in putting in a new shingle mill at Little Falls, Washington, in which his son Joe is interested, is at home on a visit.

Joe Hollingsworth and party arrived home from their overland trip to Big Nestucca Saturday and report fine flounder fishing at Sand Lake. They say they raked them in two at a time.

Up until Saturday, Prof. W. W. Wiley had been worshipping at the shrine of that fine new High School building. But it's curtains for the latter, since the arrival of that twelve and a half pound son.

A brilliant display of the Aurora Borealis was observed Tuesday evening by a few who were fortunate enough to be up at a late hour. It began about eleven o'clock and was observed for over an hour.

David Bellmires, Elmer Marr and Mrs. Josie Fields, accompanied by Mr. Bellmire's daughters, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bowse, who are out from Oklahoma visiting, joined the throngs at Newport Monday.

Walter and Clifford Spaulding and Clarence Kienle started out for Newport Monday by way of the rough and ready route. They were to hoot it over the mountains, taking plenty of time along the trout streams.

F. C. Mills and Fred Ames spent several days last week at the Burke farm on Chehalem mountain, formerly the David farm, doing some house moving. They say Mr. Burke is spending quite a large outlay of money on the place in tearing down old buildings and building new. He is fitting it up for a home.

A few of our poultry breeders met Monday evening to talk up the organization of a poultry breeders association with a view of holding a poultry show the coming fall or winter. Another meeting will be held on Tuesday evening of next week at the council rooms, when the attendance of all the breeders of fowls and pet stock in the community is desired. Newberg ought to have a successful poultry show and we can have one if concerted action can be secured. It will be worth while.

Mrs. Dave Irelan entertained very pleasantly on last Thursday afternoon the Embroidery Club, in honor of Mrs. C. A. Crabtree who left the next day to join Mr. Crabtree at Wallawa. The ladies enjoying Mrs. Irelan's hospitality were the Mesdames John Larkin, Dr. George Larkin, W. W. Nelson, L. B. Ferguson, C. C. Ferguson, Dr. C. A. Eldridge, T. H. Bryan, N. C. Christenson, F. H. Buchanan, Wesley Boyes, C. A. Crabtree, W. E. Wight, Mrs. Maggie Littlefield and Miss Jennie D. Miller.

The new High School is already becoming a thing of beauty. For an effective view of it, look down from the middle of Edwards street anywhere north of First.

On Wednesday of last week Jesse Cook was thrown from a buggy near Airlie, Polk county, and injured sufficiently to lay him up for some time. It looks like he has more than his share of this kind of misfortune.

Ex-Senator C. W. Fulton and Attorney Whitney L. Boise, with their wives, stopped over in Newberg last Saturday for dinner while on their way from Portland to Crater Lake. They said they expected to be gone three weeks.

A. E. Campbell, of Woodsdale, Kansas, is visiting with his uncle, E. B. Ridgeway, at the home of the latter in the farm on the side of Chehalem mountain. He is greatly pleased with the country and expects his people to come later to locate.

The Newberg Apple Growers Association has made a sale of dried raspberries at 20 cents per pound, which is two and a half cents better than the price that has prevailed heretofore. This the growers appreciate and it has had a tendency to awaken interest in the association on the part of some who had been inclined to "pass by on the other side."

E. A. Vannett arrived from Hood River Wednesday, prepared to show growers in this vicinity how to put up a fancy pack of apples. He began with the orchard of J. E. Brown north of town, who has as fine apples as one would wish to see at Hood River, says Mr. Vannett. In fact the latter is highly pleased with our valley from an apple-growing standpoint.

J. M. Beal, the west end shoe cobbler, took a trip to Portland Saturday, the result being one of his periodical toots. After making life precarious for his family, on Sunday afternoon, in a drunken frenzy, he went into E. C. Baird's store before a number of spectators and took a sack of flour. After making violent resistance he was finally landed in the city guest room. He was arraigned before Justice Brouillette next day on a charge of burglary. He plead guilty and was committed to the county jail to await the next session of circuit court.

Members of the City Council have been considering for some time the matter of working over and changing somewhat the direction of the long bridge in the east part of town. They had County Commissioners Booth and Cummins down here last week conferring with them. The latter gave their sanction to changing the west approach in a way to put the bridge in line with First Street. Moreover they favor eliminating the bridge structure altogether with a big fill which Commissioner Booth estimates will require some 10,000 feet of dirt. With frequent "patching" the bridge will stand as it is for a little while longer but it is the intention to carry out next spring the plans above suggested.

Mrs. S. J. Madson entertained a number of ladies Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Luther Votaw, of Twin Falls, Idaho. Mrs. Votaw, better known as Miss Ethel Cutts, was for several years a teacher in the Newberg Public schools and has many friends in this vicinity. Mrs. Madson received on the lawn under the spreading branches of a stately fir where drawing room comforts were common and music and cooling drinks the allurements of the hour. The guests were the Mesdames Luther Votaw, W. L. Robertson, J. C. Colcord, L. H. Shirley, C. B. Wilson, W. S. Parker, A. C. Seely, W. A. King, and the Misses Emma Dorrance, Ione Hill, Jessie Gardner, Lenora Parker, Myrtle Gause and Sibyl Woodward.

The Newberg Apple Growers Association has secured the services on an expert packer from Hood River who will be in the various orchards about Newberg. Any and all growers who may desire to take advantage of this opportunity to learn how to properly pack apples for market, can do so without any cost to themselves. Further information may be obtained by applying to Howard E. Kiem, the secretary of the association.

White & Nichols closed a deal the first of the week whereby the Lawson place on the river south of town, consisting of the home place and 40 acres of river bottom land, 60 acres in all, was traded at $14,000 for a Heppner farm of 480 acres belonging to Gustave Schulz. The latter wants to move to a lower altitude and the Lawsons to a higher, hence everybody is happy. Nolan Lawson will run the Morrow county wheat farm.

Hugh Nelson, F. H. Caldwell and Dr. H. A. Littlefield arrived home from their Cow Creek Canyon expedition Monday. They found what they were looking for in the way of timber all right, but as investigation at the land office proved that in all probability they would not be able to relinquish inside of two years and a half they didn't "take to the tall timber." All this is merely incidental however, for "we killed a bear!" It was a big brown bear, brought down by Hugh and F. H., who declare that it would weigh over 600 pounds in season of good flesh. There were four in the party and aside from the bear they got eleven deer. The boys gave some of their friends a big game dinner in Portland or their return and brought home a winter's supply of jerked venison.

Of the 115 Medicos and Near-Medicos who took the state medical examinations last month, 56 were successful. The Newberg friends of Ray Pemberton, of Salem, are glad to note his name among the "chosen." It will be of interest to some who made the acquaintance here of Dr. J. T. Fox, who was in attendance at Yearly Meeting to know that he received special mention, ranking fourth. He is an English Friend who had lately arrived in America, and took the examinations in Portland just prior to his coming up to Newberg to attend a few sessions of Yearly Meeting. He returned to the city on the Sunday afternoon on which Marjorie Mahr, the actress, was run over, and it was to his presence on the train that she doubtless owes her life. He has located at Prineville.

Mrs. R. A. Shattuck and three children arrived here from Fowler, Kansas, last Saturday. They came with a view of locating.

Mrs. C. W. Acock returned home from a Portland hospital Saturday where she had successfully undergone an operation.

Dundee.

Thomas Prince made a business trip to Portland on Monday.

Mrs. George Wilson, of Portland, is visiting at the Wilson home.

Miss Rose T. Young, of Portland, is spending a few days at Otterbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl.

Miss Goldie Wilson, of Newberg, spent Sunday with Miss Medora Greer.

Mr. C. E. Felch and Mr. Kearn, of Portland, were Red Hill visitors the first of the week.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the residence of Mrs. Pool on Friday. An unusually interesting program is promised.

The young folks sewing society of the Red Hills met with Miss Lilian Barbour on Wednesday. The young ladies enjoyed an afternoon with thimbles, a ramble down by the creek, and the dainty refreshments that were served in the grove near the house. Hemstitching seems to be the fad at present and the young ladies are showing samples of work that would do credit to much older needle women.

McMinnville.

Billy Sunday, the famous ball player evangelist, spoke to large audiences here Sunday in the city auditorium. He preached at the union services at 11 a.m. and delivered his well known lecture on "Booze" at 2 p.m. The auditorium was seated to accommodate 3,000 people and at the afternoon meeting was completely filled.

County Superintendent Belt was threatened with a serious mental breakdown last week caused by over work, but is at present able to be about his duties again.

A few straggling Democrats were noticed gathering in Tuesday evening supposedly to attend a Democratic "assembly" behind closed doors.

The new high school building is nearing completion and the contractors say will be ready for occupancy by the opening of school.
