Mrs. D. H. Kopp went to Eugene yesterday to make a visit with her sister.

L. M. Krick and family will leave this week for some point east. Sorry to see them go.

Mrs. John Larkin joined a sister and some friends in an outing at Newport the first of the week.

Mrs. R. L. Dudrow, of Portland, visited here this week with her sister, Mrs. J. Carl Nelson.

Miss Ella Crawford arrived home Wednesday morning from her delightful vacation trip in California.

O. J. Munden, the Newberg milk man, and Miss Ethel Hall were passengers to Portland this morning with the intention of returning this evening as Mr. and Mrs. Munden.

Mack Kaufmans have moved into their new house just south of the one they have been occupying. They have rented the latter to Mrs. Emma Hodgkin of the College faculty.

B. F. Pike went down to Portland Tuesday to perfect arrangements for the second annual meeting of the Yamhill County Veteran's Association which takes place here next week.

Allen Mills, a Chicago attorney, arrived with his family Wednesday morning for a visit of two weeks with his parents, Henry Mills and wife, and with his brothers and sisters in this vicinity.

Hurbert Smith came out from Cloverdale, Tillamook county for a visit of a few days the first of the week. He says Chehalem valley looks good to him and he thinks he will return in the spring to take up dairying here.

At the home of Mrs. Fred Knapp, the mother of the bride, Miss Hermania Knapp was married at 12 o'clock, noon, on last Sunday to Frank Seely, of Oak Grove, Polk county, Rev. T. Brouillette, of Newberg officiating.

Regular L. T. L. meeting next Sunday, at Baptist church, at 3, subject, "The Cigarette Tree." "Strike at Shane's" continued. Watch next week's paper for Contest program.

MARY E. C. SCOTT, Supt.

Prof. J. G. McIntosh, formerly of the public school teaching force here, is threatened with tuberculosis, from which disease Mrs. McIntosh died a few months ago. He is at present at the home of his uncle at Dayton.

Master Wallace Larkin, accompanied by Miss Jennie Miller and Miss Mina Langton, took his first boat ride Tuesday with great interest. They went down to the Angus farm home at Willsonville to spend two or three days.

Prof. R. W. Kirk, superintendent of the Corvallis schools, visited here with his brother Carroll the first of the week. He was on his way to Eastern Oregon on a business trip. In his absence, Mrs. Kirk and the little girls are visiting in Portland and on his return in a couple of weeks they will all spend a few days here.

On Tuesday a flying spark from the anvil in Westerfield's blacksmith shop passed through an open window and set fire to some loose straw which scorched the paint on the side of the building before it was seen and extinguished. Since J. D. Gordon & Son's new barn is only a few feet away it is easy to conjecture what the results might have been had the fire once got a good start.

W. A. King will go to Portland Friday to attend the funeral of his uncle, Alex. Lumsden, a pioneer of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Beadle, of Spokane, Wash., are spending the day with old friends in the B. R. Bass family.

Mrs. A. G. Hall and children, of Portland, are visiting at J. R. Rundals at their home northwest of Newberg.

The Misses Ruby Gilbaugh and Era Strickner, of Portland, visited in town Sunday with Mrs. Lee Grames.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Otis, their daughter Lorene, and Miss Rita McDonald, are "happy on the way" to Newport today.

Judge R. P. Bird and wife were down from McMinnville to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nelson on last Sunday.

N. F. Byers is improving in health and hopes to be able to move next week to the cottage which he recently purchased of W. E. Crozer.

Mrs. Richard Redmond, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, and Mrs. Will Hull, of Portland, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Campbell at Edgewood Orchard last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hinshaw, their daughter Ruth and two youngest boys, left today for a two weeks' visit with relatives at Hood River, and at Goldendale and Camas, Wash.

Miss Ethel Weed, of Veronia, Tillamook county, who came over to McMinnville last week, to take the county teachers' examination, has been spending a week in Newberg with J. L. Van Blaricoms.

J. C. Colcord blazed the trail to Newport Monday and was followed in a day or so by his family, accompanied by Elda Grames. J. C. has promised himself a two weeks' vacation from bank to beach and has worked long and steadily enough to enjoy it with a good conscience.

The wife of C. A. Burnham, who lives about four miles southeast of town, was taken to McMinnville last Friday, adjudged insane and taken on to the asylum at Salem the same evening. She has been affected mentally for some years. She leaves behind her a family of five children.

Elmer Buehler, who has been attending business college at Salem for some months, has finished his course and returned home Saturday. He will remain here, having taken a position in the new meat packing establishment now in process of construction.

A meeting of the members of the Yamhill Poultry Association, and all parties interested in good poultry, is called to meet in the Council Chambers in Newberg, August 23rd, at 8:00 p.m., for the purpose of electing officers, fixing date for poultry show, and such other business as may come before the meeting. J. L. Hoskins, Secretary.

The union Sunday evening church services continue in interest and with excellent attendance. Dr. Reuter, pastor of the M. E. church, delivered a pleasing and effective sermon last Sunday night. Next Sunday the service will be held in the Baptist church, the sermon to be preached by Rev. Weaver of the Friends church.

Newberg suffered another loss Wednesday in the departure of W. Irving Kelsey and family who go to Oskaloosa, Iowa, where he will have the department of Church History and Biblical Literature in Penn College. The hearty good wishes of a host of friends follow them. They go east by way of the Canadian Pacific.

Mrs. W. B. Brooks and children are visiting in Portland this week.

Erwin Pease arrived home from Klamath Falls a few days ago, sick, and his ailment is reported to be typhoid fever.

Sam Timberlake and W. S. Mills and their families returned to captivity from their Newport outing the first of the week.

C. S. Hulin and family started out overland Tuesday for the Tillamook coast near Garibaldi, expecting to be gone two weeks.

Mrs. W. A. King and baby and Miss Sibyl Woodward visited in Portland last Friday with the family of their uncle, N. C. Maris.

A full attendance is hoped for at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. on Wednesday August 24, as important business will be considered.

E. G. Lichtenthaler and family are home from a camping experience at Newport which they greatly enjoyed. They stayed for several weeks and had great success fishing.

Ernest Hadlock, of Seattle, who has a position in the business office of the telephone company in the Sound city, came down to Newberg the first of the week on his vacation, and has been visiting with Harvey Wright and other college friends.

Ernest E. Fleishour, of Portland, the one time and popular Newberg liveryman, visited in town over Sunday. He intimated that had he forseen the way Newberg was going ahead he would be an "iser" here in place of a "has been." This going ahead business is always a safe guess for Newberg.

First dirt was broken for the new college building on last Monday when H. W. Kramer, who has the contract for excavating for the basement began the work with a good force of men. The job will be completed by the end of the week ready for the contractor who may be awarded the building contract. Enos Ellis and son, Roscoe are putting in a tile drain around the building and they will also put in a septic tank.

Dr. E. P. Dixon and family had a narrow escape from severe injury while on the way to Nestucca by auto some days ago. On the way down a steep hill near Dolph they suddenly hove in sight of a small auto on the way up that had stalled at a sharp turn. It was either a collision or a turn into the bank and the latter alternative was taken, with the result that the machine was over turned and the occupants thrown down the hill, though none were seriously hurt. As for the auto the returns are not in.

Newberg Quarterly Meeting of the Friends church was held here Saturday and Sunday, several members from a distance being in attendance. On Saturday, lunch was served as usual in the basement when a pleasant social hour was enjoyed between the sessions. In the evening a temperance session was held when a good, practical address was given by H. Elmer Pemberton, of Salem, Yearly Meeting Evangelistic superintendent, on the issues of the campaign from this standpoint and how they may best be met. He also preached Sunday morning.

H. H. Keim, manager of the Newberg Apple Growers Union, has the reputation of being an even tempered man, but he had to "fight to gain the victory" this week, when he received an order for a carload of Gravenstein apples at a fancy price and couldn't fill it. He says the apples are here all right, going to waste on the ground in the orchards, but the people aren't sufficiently alive to their own interests to take care of them and put them up for market in a business-like way. It will be different when the new orchards, owned and managed by orchard men, come into bearing.

Rev. T. Brouillette has sold his home property on River street to Ole Martin, and will move to his farm southeast of town on which he has been building a house.

Russell Parker returned home Saturday from the harvest fields of Eastern Oregon. Yesterday he left for a visit with friends at Eugene and Cottage Grove.

Dr. H. A. Littlefield and Mrs. Maggie Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson started out bright and early this morning on an automobile trip to the Tillamook beaches.

Jack Stephenson who was up visiting with I. R. Craven the first of the week, said the Oregon Electric surveyors were working up the river toward Newberg from a point near Wilsonville.

Rev. John Frederick Hanson, of Portland, passed the seventieth mile stone of his life while in attendance at Quarterly Meeting here Saturday. A Norwegian in birth and early raising, he has seen a long life of active, effective service in the church in this, his adopted country, and is well known wherever in America there stands a Friends Meeting house. It is with a great deal of satisfaction that in the evening of his life he is permitted to see the great advances made along the lines of the two great reforms, peace and temperance, in promoting which he has ever been most zealous and active.

The Newberg apple growers are already making preparations for furnishing a good exhibit at the All Oregon Fruit Show to be held at Portland, November 30 to December 3. On behalf of them, I. N. Campbell, of Edgewood Orchard, has assured the State Horticultural Society of officers that Newberg will be well represented. F. W. Power, the secretary, has written for a list of members of the local Apple Growers Union and will later furnish them premium lists and programs. This will be an excellent opportunity for effective advertising and will be the means of placing Newberg prominently on the map as an apple growing center.

M. Gore, a highly educated and interesting young gentleman who has but recently come to America from Munich, Bavaria, has been in Newberg this week. He is a graduate of the University of Munich and of the German Agricultural College at Bonn and is an experienced and thoroughly trained horticulturist. Apple growing is his specialty and he is over here looking up a satisfactory location for engaging in his favorite industry. After visiting Hood River he learned of the Newberg district and was referred to H. H. Keim as manager of the Newberg Apple Growers Union. Mr. Keim has been showing him what we have in the Chehalem Valley and Mr. Gore is more enthusiastic over our apples than any he has yet seen. It is probable that he is looking not alone for himself, in which case his visit is of more than ordinary significance.

Mrs. H. O. Warren, of Topeka, Kansas, who with her two children, has been visiting for a month out east of town at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hall, left Tuesday with her little boy, to make a visit with relatives of her husband in the vicinity of Tacoma and Seattle. She will continue her visit here before returning home.

"Gus Goodat is a good fellow, but a mighty poor chauffeur," is the verdict given by Jim and Thad Reynolds and Harry Bockus, and a few others about town. And thereby hangs a good story which we haven't time and ability to tell adequately. Gus, quondam hayseed out at Rex, has turned suddenly into an ambitious Portland real estate boomer and drives(?) an auto. The metamorphosis has been too sudden for best results, think the above mentioned gentlemen. They started out Sunday with Gus to see the country and have a little Sabbath joy ride. They saw the country all right—some five to ten miles of it in the other end of the county, in a cross country foot race to head off a common, everyday train in order to reach home and loved ones in time to go to work Monday morning.

One of the most extensive social functions of the season was given by Mrs. Geo. Larkin Friday afternoon at their beautiful new home. The large reception halls were everywhere fragrant with the order of roses and sweet peas tastefully arranged. Vocal numbers rendered by Mrs. George Allen and Mrs. Elizabeth Foster, of Columbus, Ohio, were much appreciated. Refreshments were served in a novel way, each lady being given a dainty lunch basket containing a toothsome repast with the invitation to retire to the lawn where she might enjoy her lunch in real picnic fashion. Mrs. Larkin's guests were Mesdames Wesley Boyes, David Johnson, William Wight, Walter S. Parker, Lindley M. Parker, Walter E. Terrell, Clarence J. Edwards, Thomas Bryan, Lynn B. Ferguson, Will Nelson, Archie C. Seely, David Ireland, George Allen, T. C. Reynolds, Semon J. Madson, Wm. Langton, George Best, John D. Gordon, John Larkin, Hugh Nelson, Eli L. Evans, C. C. Perry, Maggie Littlefield, Elizabeth Foster, Eva Hummer Hull and the Misses Mina Langton, Emma Dorrance and Jennie D. Miller.

After Many Years.

A story of Reconstruction Days showing the growing spirit that welds the North and the South in one grand Union. At the Star to-night.

A dairy farmer of Washington County makes the statement he has cleared $13 net on each of his nine cows every month, making a snug income from that source alone of $1046 in the past nine months. This is an industry that is capable of almost illimitable expansion in this state.

Are We "Dry" Or "Wet?"

When five men had taken seats at the table in a dining room of a hotel in this town and decided to "chip in," and the cash was given to one of the number who at once went out on the street, returning within a few moments with eight ounces of spirits frummenti, which same was served then and there, is there anything radically wrong in asking as to where it came from? If so, we won't ask the question, but the next time it is done a diagram will be made public of the route taken, going, getting and giving.

Chehalem Center.

Mrs. Cyrene Palmer and little grand children moved up to Dundee Tuesday.

Miss McMillan, of the Portland Peniel Mission, came out for a visit with Mrs. Melody.

Victor and Rosa Hendrickson returned Wednesday of last week from their visit near Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mulheuron and Miss Blossome Atwood returned to their home in Portland Sunday evening.

The Silver Medal Contest passed off very pleasantly. While the contestants all did well, Miss Gladys Paulsen received the medal and each of the contestants was presented with a small leather bound Testament. Rev. Reuter, Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Mary Scott, of Newberg, were present and acted as judges.

Last Wednesday the meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at Mrs. K. L. Tangen's there being thirteen members present and four visitors. Two new paid-up members were enrolled—the Misses Myrtle Walton and Esther Green. The Misses Maude Wills and Elsie Tagen were appointed as delegates to the Sheridan Convention, with Mrs. S. W. Newhouse and Miss Nancy Atkinson alternates. At a called meeting Sunday, it was decided to have Mrs. Silbaugh and Mrs. Unrue, speak during next month.

President Stevens of the Oregon Trunk Line, the Hill road up the Deschutes, announces that his company will build south to a connection with the Pacific & Eastern, reaching out from Medford. This will give the Hill system a main trunk line down through Central Oregon, from which will spring lateral branches into nearly productive territory.
