Ezra Meeker Finds Marriage License.

(Indianapolis Sun.)

Away back in 1851 a bashful couple walked up to the desk of the clerk of Marion county in his modest office and asked for a marriage license. They lived happily in the then new country of Indiana until their ambitious minds conceived the idea there were more opportunities for financial gain in the great West.

In those days there were no railroads, but they started out on the long overland trip in a prairie schooner and two yoke of oxen, fell in with an emigrant train and passed along the now famous Oregon trail.

A few days ago the man in the case arrived in Indianapolis in a wagon, a facsimile of the one he and his young wife had used years ago, and drawn by a yoke of oxen. He determined to find the old license, and after a day's search discovered it. Friday he had the document photographed.

The man is Ezra Meeker, famous for his recent trip over the old Oregon Trail, and the woman was Miss Eliza Jane Sumner, who lived seven miles southeast of the city. They were married by Squire Alexander Jameson, May 13, 1851.

The Baby's Bath.

The baby's bath should not be too hot. On the other hand, it should not be too cold. If the baby screams it is a sign that all is not right. In that case, dip the hand quickly into the water to ascertain the temperature. The defect may then quickly be remedied. If too hot, add cold water; conversely, if too cold, add hot. Avoid the use of sand soap or of chemicals. Frequent baths should render such heroic treatment unnecessary.

Great care should be exercised to keep the baby's face constantly above water. Enough may be swallowed in a few minutes by the little stranger to cause chronic biliousness.—Judge.

London's Lord Mayor.

The lord mayor of London is chosen annually from among the aldermen. The lord mayor's jurisdiction does not extend beyond the ancient city of London. His principal duty is to be sociable, and his salary of about $50,000 a year is sure to be swallowed up by the official hospitalities expected of him. In addition to his salary he is granted the use of the Mansion House.

Cautious.

A member of the faculty of a New England university tells of a freshman who was asked by one of the professors whether he had proved a certain proposition in Euclid. "Well, sir," responded the freshman, "'proved' is a strong word. But I will say that I have rendered it highly probable."
