A game of ball will be played on the High School grounds Friday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, between the Newberg and McMinnville H. S. teams. In a game previously played by the teams Newberg won and a hard fought game is expected.

The residence of N. A. Smith in the Chehalem Center neighborhood two miles north of Newberg was totally destroyed by fire on last Thursday, the loss being figured at $2000 with no insurance. Mrs. Smith was just finishing dressing the little one when a neighbor who was passing and saw the fire, gave the alarm. Mr. Smith was away at a neighbor's and he with others came in time to save a part of the furniture, though the kitchen furniture and the bedding was lost. An oil painting of Mrs. Smith's own work and for which she says she had been offered $500 was also lost. Mr. and Mrs. Smith say the neighbors have been exceedingly kind to them since the misfortune, for which they feel truly thankful.

In answer to a letter written by Prof. A. C. Stanbrough to Carnegie giving the information that Newberg had decided on a location for the library building, the library committee is asked to submit plans for a building for approval. The committee anticipates that as soon as satisfactory plans for the building can be arranged the work will proceed without delay.

The First National Bank is now at home in the new quarters where with tiled floors, marble counters and mahogany furniture, the appointments rank with the best in banks outside of Portland. When in Newberg call at the bank and the officials will take pleasure in showing you through the building and letting you see the excellent facilities they have for carrying on a banking business.

Miss Pearl Cummings went to Portland Thursday to attend the wedding of Miss Mabel Vantress to Mr. Ray Stout of that city. The ceremony was announced for 4 o'clock p. m. with a reception following at 8 o'clock. The young people have built and furnished a new home to which they will go at once. Miss Mabel will be remembered as the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira K. Vantress formerly of this place. The Graphic joins her many Newberg friends in good wishes.

Bert Heath who founded the newspaper, "The Telephone," at McMinnville when the county seat was removed from La Fayette to that city, passed through Newberg on the way to McMinnville last Monday. Mr. Heath was a member of the Second Oregon Regiment and while stationed in the Philippines he became so impressed with the possibilities for engaging in profitable business industries in that country that he remained after the close of the war. His business ventures are said to have been highly successful and he is reported to have made a fortune. He is still in business there and expects to return.

The weather conditions on Memorial day were all that could be wished and the program as outlined in the Graphic last week was carried out. In the morning the procession headed by the band and with F. C. Mills as color bearer for the old veterans—and what would a G. A. R. procession in Newberg be without F. C. Mills as color bearer?—marched to the cemetery where the usual G. A. R. ceremony was held and the graves of the departed were strewn with flowers. In the afternoon the balance of the program was carried out at the skating rink where a large crowd was gathered.

The Pacific Monthly for June is one of the best issues for a long time. Its cover carries out beautifully the Portland Rose Festival idea with its garlands of roses and rose-decked girls. Oregon has long been famous for its beautiful roses, and the leading article in the June number is devoted to Portland, the Rose City, the Summer Capital of America.

Homer D. Bowers, D. O. who spent the past ten months at Los Angeles and Loma Linda, California, has returned to Newberg and expects to again open an office here as soon as he can find a satisfactory location. He came up on the Steamer Bear and although he had some sea sickness he says he had a very pleasant trip. Mrs. Bowers and little son will come a little later. They have a decided preference for OREGON over California.

The morning train for Dallas failed to reach its destination on Monday owing to the ditching of a freight train near Dallas. The train crew had a few things to say relative to the condition of the track on the Yamhill branch that would not have been pleasing to the ear of the roadmaster, but all they said and more could easily be verified by divers passengers who have occasion to travel over the road day after day.

George Waggoner went to Portland Wednesday to bring out writers and staff artists for the Oregonian and Journal who are to take a look at the garden spot of Oregon for the purpose of showing it up to the readers of these two metropolitan papers. They will come out by auto and doubtless Mr. Waggoner will call their attention to the condition of the much talked of road between Rex and Tigardville.
