

HOW WE GROW

The official census reports of the United States show the population of Newberg to have increased as follows:

1890	514
1900	945
1910	2260

The official reports show the resources of the United States National Bank to have increased as follows:

1890	$ 35,000.00
1900	80,000.00
1910	395,845.38

We are thankful that the loyalty of our friends has made this growth possible and trust that the next twenty years may show even a greater increase in our mutual welfare and prosperity.

KILL KARE KABIN RAISING

Our capable and energetic Dundee Correspondent sends in the following report of a pleasant and profitable social affair enjoyed in the Dundee community.

On Monday, July thirty-first neighbors and friends to the number of eighty-eight assembled at Forest Furlough, one of the Otterbrook Orchard tracts in answer to the following invitation which had been sent abroad and posted in several conspicuous places near Dundee and Newberg:

"Hear ye! hear ye!
All you of the neighborly heart,
In the raising of Kill Kare Kabin
You're invited to have a part.
The sign posts will be telling,
To all who care to look—
The place—'Tis Forest Furlough
On the Farm of Otterbrook.
The logs are awaiting the rolling
On Monday, July thirty-one
There'll be work and fun and dinner
So don't forget to come."

Besides the raising of Kill Kare Kabin the occasion was the fifteenth anniversary of the wedding of J. C. and Rev. Edith Hill Booker and their friends were glad of an opportunity to offer congratulations and to assist in the construction of the new summer home where it is sincerely hoped that all care will be killed and that "Forest Furlough," which is also "Forest Fir Low," will prove a haven of rest to those who spend so many months of the year in their best efforts toward the uplift of those in need of The Comforter.

Those who came certainly observed the day in a truly neighborly way, all who were able working with might and main, not forgetting to "Let joy abound with industry," and the way the bountifully spread table was cleared of its delicious picnic dinner showed that the seventy who partook of it had earned the refreshment. The day was one of pleasant re-unions to old friends and of the making of new ones, the little folks present contributing to the joy of the day with their innocent mirth and childish abandon. Many who could not be present earlier in the day, dropped in during the afternoon and supper was served to those who were able to stay until evening.

As dusk overtook the workers before all the logs were in place several of the gentlemen concluded to finish the work on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Booker received several pieces of handsome cut glass and a mirror to reflect their happy faces.

Among those present were: J. C. Booker, Rev. Edith Hill Booker, Rev. Geo. H. Greer, Rev. G. O. Oliver, A. A. Unruh, of Portland, Mrs. C. M. Smith, Mrs. Chas. Blum, Mrs. Minchin,

"The Girl From the Golden West."

The big New York success, a beautiful love story that thrills the audience and plays on the heart-strings with a master's touch. Hearts interest runs hand in hand with the best of comedy and weaves together a beautiful drama true to life. The largest and best theatrical company playing under canvas on the road today. Everything as bright and new as the noon day sun. Thirty people, special cars, big mammoth waterproof tent—a seating capacity of 1800 people. Mr. C. A. Curtis' Concert Band and Orchestra. Big free street parade at noon daily. One night only. Newberg, Friday, August 4.

Coming.

America's greatest play, "The Girl From the Golden West" will positively appear in Newberg for one night only, August 4, in their mammoth waterproof pavilion theatre. 1800 seats. Popular prices.

FANDOM AMONG THE COUNTRY QUILL PUSHERS.

The greatest base ball fan among the west side newspaper men is Hamstreet, of the Sheridan Sun. He fans the air every week until it becomes a broiling melting mass of sweltering humidity, with chain lightning flashing along the entire horizon, while in conservative localities he is believed to be the cause of the hot air currents that have passed over the country during the past few weeks. Quit it Ham, or by the great horn spoons we'll gather up the remnants of our one time Amity Blues and come over to that mountain village of yours with blood in our eye, spit on our big left paw, wade into that bunch of butterfingers you call a ball club and give them a walloping that you will remember until Halley's comet comes again. D'y you hear us cackle?—Amity Standard.

The great American drama "The Girl From the Golden West," an all star metropolitan cast—thirty people—including Mr. C. A. Curtis' Solo Band and Symphony Orchestra, traveling in their own Pullman car "Caroline." "The Girl From the Golden West," had a run of seven hundred consecutive performances in New York and over 500 in Chicago. The success of this drama has been so pronounced that this company will play throughout the west for twenty weeks in their mammoth waterproof pavilion theatre. The same being thoroughly equipped with elevated stage and ten full sets of special scenery. "The Girl From the Golden West," as everyone knows is a four act western drama, thrilling, romantic and full of clean comedy, strong in dramatic situation and climaxes. A beautiful love story that pleases everybody. Don't miss this show in the same company as the questionable "Fly-by-Night" aggregations that have played your city before. Don't fail to witness the largest and best dramatic show on the road today. Clean, moral and refined. Endorsed by press, clergy and public. One night only, Newberg, Friday, August 4. Popular prices. Seats for 1800 people.

FEEDING THE CHILDREN.

Building Up Diet Recommended by a New York Physician.

Parents of young and growing children will study with interest the following possible solution of the problem of what to feed them on, prepared by Dr. E. M. Sill, a New York physician, for the Medical Record.

Dr. Sill suggests this schedule in compiling a diet for both healthy and malnourished children: One-half hour for breakfast, 7 to 8 a. m.—glass of milk, baked apple or orange; cereals—oatmeal, cracked wheat, farina, hominy, etc.; two to three tablespoonfuls of one of these cereals, with cream and milk; eggs, one to three, according to the age of the child, either soft boiled, scrambled or poached or in the form of an omelet, or a lamb chop or fish for variety occasionally; one to three slices of bread three-eighths of an inch thick, with butter.

Ten a. m., an apple, a banana, a couple of graham crackers or a small glass of milk; one hour for dinner, 12 to 1 p. m.—soup, bread and butter; meats—rare steak, rare roast beef, mutton or chicken (fish may be given once a week). From one-eighth to one-fourth of a pound of meat should be given, according to the age and capacity of the child. Baked or boiled potatoes, with butter and salt or stewed with milk, and a green vegetable, such as spinach, carrots, string beans, green peas, cauliflower, squash, a puree of dried soy beans or dried peas, may be given three or four times a week at this meal, or baked beans may be given, one to two tablespoonfuls, and this will in a measure take the place of meat; a glass of milk. Hominy or rice may be given three or four times a week (two to three tablespoonfuls); a simple dessert, such as plain rice pudding, plain bread pudding, custard, blanc-mange, ice cream.

At 4 p. m. an apple, peach or pear may be given if the child is hungry. Half an hour should be taken for supper, at from 6 to 7 p. m.—bread and butter and a glass of milk, or bread and milk, milk with one of the cereals, bread and butter with jelly, fruit juice or sirup, a bit of cold meat or omelet or scrambled eggs.

Woeful Lack of Confidence.

A prominent actor tells about a Chicago theatrical woman about to wed who was one day amusing herself by going over the marriage service. To a friend who discovered her, prayer book in hand, she said:

"I always make it a point to do this, for no matter how well you may have known a part in the past it should always be rehearsed before the piece is revived." Then, rather playfully, she read the words, "Till death do us part."

Whereupon her friend interrupted:

"How foolish that is, isn't it, dear? Sounds like one hasn't any confidence in the courts!"

Friends of Mine.

A dog that wags its tail, a baby that reaches out its arms and says "goo," a woman who can smile for home folks as well as company, a bum who gives me the story of his life for a dime, a flower girl that breaks into bloom as I pass, a bird that sings when the sun is hid, a preacher who delivers me from abstract theology, a politician who makes me no promises, a visitor who praises my wife's cream puffs—these are all friends of mine, God bless 'em!—Baltimore Sun.

Life of Berlin in Three Streets.

From a staid old capital Berlin has become one of the gayest, brightest cities in Europe.

The life of Berlin is concentrated in the streets, the Friedrichstrasse, Liepzigerstrasse and Unter den Linden. Beyond these great thoroughfares, ablaze with lights and an immense concourse of people, all is darkness, and merry Berlin may be said to begin and end within the limits of these three famous thoroughfares.—National Magazine.

The Dear Children.

The Maid (in Boston)—If you please, ma'am, Master Jimmie has busted th' parlor window, and Miss Jane has hit Mr. Jingles with a stone, an' Master Bobbie has bit a strange little girl in the arm. The Mother (wearily)—That will do, Jane. It is not well to take the inconvenient activities of normal children too seriously.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Physician's Answer.

A patient once asked her physician why his mustache was black and his hair was gray. "Why," he replied, "my mustache is twenty years younger than the hair on my head."
