WORTH YOUR CONSIDERATION.

A young man named H. R. Leise, a son of a minister, who is endeavoring to make his way through college, is in Newberg, taking subscriptions for a book. The young man comes with the best of recommendations, he has a worthy ambition and the Graphic gladly speaks a word in his behalf.

His book bears the stamp of the Success Magazine and is entitled "Household Discoveries and Mrs. Curtis's Cook Book." We have taken pains to examine the book and say without hesitation that we believe it is a work that will be appreciated in any home of culture and average intelligence in the community, and we hope Mr. Leise will meet with success in taking subscriptions here.

When he calls at your door, give him a chance to show you the book and we believe you will not consider the time wasted.

The vote in Maine on the question of the repeal of the prohibition law was so close and the news regarding the outcome of the election has been so conflicting that it has been difficult to reach an intelligent conclusion in the matter. On Tuesday Mrs. Helen D. Harford received a dispatch from the headquarters of the National W. C. T. U., giving the vote on the authority of Mrs. Stevens as being a majority of 295 in favor of the law as it now stands. This will be the announcement made in the Union Signal this week.

C. C. Hammerly has sold the News-Reporter, of McMinnville, to R. M. Rosensteel, recently of Newberg, and a gentleman named Meresse, from Forest Grove. Mr. Hammerly retains his monotype machine, which he will take to Portland, where he has purchased an interest in a job printing business.
