

BANK MANAGEMENT

The success of a bank and the safety of the funds intrusted to it depend upon a judicious administration of its affairs. The officers of this bank are practical bankers of long experience. Its Directors are well known men selected for their business ability and financial standing. The strength of this bank lies not alone in its large capital, surplus and resources, but in the character and financial responsibility of the men who conduct its affairs.

Over the Banister.

She (upstairs.) Clarence!
He (downstairs.) Yes, love.
She. Have you locked the ice box?
He. Uh-huh.
She. Have you locked the dining room window?
He. Sure.
She. Have you hidden the silver under the bathtub?
He. Yes.
She. Did you put the cat out?
He. Uh-huh.
She. Did you bring the hose in?
He. Sure thing.
She. Have you fixed some ice water?
He. O-h-h-h! Yes.
She. Have you brought the rug in from the porch.
He. Yes.
She. Have you fastened all the parlor windows?
He. Sure.
She. Have you been down in the basement to smell for gas?
He. Yes.
She. Have you brought in the hammock?
He. Yes.
She. Have you locked the front door?
He. Up-huh.
She. Did you hang up the key back of the hall clock?
He. Yes.
She. Have you wound the clock?
He. Yes! Yes! Yes!
She. Well, you don't need to get mad about it. It's a wonder you wouldn't try to get to bed at some decent hour. What have you been doing down there all this time, anyhow?

When Indian Courage Failed.

Quannah Parker, chief of the Comanche Indians, who died some weeks ago, enjoyed the reputation of being the wittiest man of his race. He was likewise a man of affairs and something of a lobbyist. He has appeared before the Committee of Indian Affairs regularly for years, and the members of that committee had become intimately acquainted with him.
Two or three years ago Uncle Sam issued a mandate to the effect that the Indians in the future should take unto themselves but one wife. Quannah, appearing before the committee, told its members that many men of his tribe had more than one wife. He was admonished to go home and tell them that this condition of affairs could no longer exist and that the surplus wives must be sent home to their parents.
Last session Parker again appeared before the committee, and the following conversation took place between him and a committeeman.
"Did you tell your bucks that they must have but one wife, Parker?"
Yes, me tell 'um," responded the Indian.
"Did you get rid of the extra wives?"
"Yes, all gone," answered the chief.
"But," urged the committeeman, "I am told that you yourself have six wives."
"Yes, me got six, said Parker.
"Now, this will not do, Parker. You will have to get rid of those extra wives. You go home and tell them to leave. Send them back to their parents. Tell them to go home."
"You tell 'um," responded the Indian.—October Lippincotts.

The Buying Power of $1.75.

A little money sometimes buys a good deal. For instance, take the subscription price of The Youth's Companion for a year—$1.75. If all the good reading in the 52 weekly issues of the paper were published in book form, according to its kind, it would make about thirty volumes of fiction, science, essays by famous writers, household management and economics, sports and pastimes for boys, natural history, anecdotes, humor, etc. The serial stories alone would fill several volumes. Among these is Ralph Paine's great story of the Boxer Rebellion in China, "The Cross and the Dragon." Another is by J. W. Schultz, who was adopted by the Blackfeet when a boy. It is called "The Quest for the Fish-Dog Skin." Another is a glorious girls' story by C. A. Stephens, called "Julia Sylvester." It is the story of a "Mercer" girl in the pioneer days of Oregon and Washington—and that is only part of the serials. It will cost you nothing to send for the beautiful Announcement of The Companion for 1912, and we will send with it sample copies of the paper. Do not forget that the new subscriber for 1912 receives a gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1912, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911 free from the time the subscription is received.

Only $1.75 now, but on January 1, 1912, the price will be advanced to $2.00.
