MINNESOTA PEOPLE ATTENTION

Your attention is called to the annual meeting of the Minnesota Social Society to be held on New Year's day at Duncan's hall.

This will be the sixth annual meeting of the society and we desire to make it the best one in every way that we have ever held. An interesting programme is being prepared, and, of course, there will be a good dinner.

Our President, Prof. W. W. Wiley, who is now principal of the schools at Athena, Oregon, hopes to be with us.

During the past year many new families from Minnesota have come to our community. Let each one consider himself a committee to invite all friends and acquaintances from Minnesota to our gathering. Let all who can do so, bring something in their baskets to add to the good things for the picnic dinner which will be served at the noon hour. Ladies will kindly bring table cloths, also knives and forks. The table committee would appreciate having the baskets brought as early in the day as possible so as to have the tables in readiness for dinner by noon.

Last year we had a delightful day, with something like 200 present. Let us plan and work to make our coming gathering even better.

Eleanor E. Hitchen, Sec'y Minnesota Social Society 11

Something In Clothing.

A strapping German with big beads of perspiration streaming down his face was darting in and out the aisles of a Philadelphia department store. His excited actions attracted the attention of all the sales persons and they hardly knew what to make of it. A bustling young man of the clothing department walked up to him and asked, "Are you looking for something in men's clothing?"

"No," he roared; "not men's clothing; vimmen's clothing. I can not find my wife!"—Lippincott's.

An Unpleasant Revelation.

"My son," said the doting parent, "it is your duty to tell the girl you hope to marry all about yourself—all your faults and weaknesses. That's the true test of love."

"I did," replied the hopeful. "It wasn't much."

"What did you tell her?" "Why, you see, dad, she didn't really know who you were, so I told her."

"Eh! And what did she say?" "She's an awfully nice girl, dad, and she said she'd tried hard to reconcile herself to the unpleasant truth."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Insult.

"I'll get even with Bumpus," said Harry. "I hear that he called me a lobster the other day."

"How very insulting!" ejaculated Jarley. "Wasn't it?" said Harry, his face red with wrath. "It certainly was, and I'm really surprised," said Jarley. "Bumpus is so fond of lobsters, as a rule."—Harper's Weekly.
