Judge Vine Pearce and Commissioners, Cummins and Calkins met the members of the Marion County court here at the Imperial hotel on last Saturday in conference over some joint road matters.

Work on the Odd Fellows building is progressing nicely and will soon be ready for the roof. The ground floor has been leased to L. M. Parker who contemplates opening up a general merchandise store.

Cards are out, announcing the marriage of George Archie Martin and Miss Flora Sara Batson, which was solemnized at Astoria last Monday evening, Rev. W. S. Gilbert officiating. They will be at home in Newberg, March 1.

Mrs. Henry Thorne returned home Monday evening from Pendleton, where she visited for several weeks with her children. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. J. S. White who will remain with her for some time.

L. S. Otis is expecting a shipment of peach trees which he ordered from Japan some time ago to arrive soon. The trees set on his farm two years ago by the Japanese, who have a lease on several acres, are doing well and a crop of peaches is expected the coming season.

Mrs. M. P. Elliott, who has had trouble with one of her feet for two years or more, was taken to a Salem hospital for a second operation and on Wednesday the foot was amputated at the ankle. Word has come that she stood the operation well and her friends hope it will prove successful.

Rev. Charles W. Kindley, formerly from Hardin County, Iowa, but whose home is in Colorado, some fifty miles from Denver, where he is holding down a claim, attended Friends quarterly meeting here, and on Sunday night, though seventy-eight years old, preached a vigorous sermon. He is visiting a grandson in Portland.

Attorney Charles W. Corby is arranging to locate in Portland about the first of March, where he will engage in the real estate business with H. M. Abbott and another gentleman. He will take care of the legal end of the business. Mr. and Mrs. Corby have made many friends during their stay in Newberg who will regret to see them go.

Since her marriage she has been living in San Diego, California, but has been in Portland recently looking after some profitable real estate investments she made there several years ago.

On Monday S. P. Timberlake, representing the Newberg Transfer Co., was fined $5 in the Recorder's court, the charge being a violation of the Sunday closing ordinance by hauling baggage to the train last Sunday morning. As the Graphic goes to press H. O. VanOadel is having a jury trial on a charge of keeping his confectionery open on Sunday.

Welton, Kibbe & Cochran, general contractors, of Portland, who were awarded the contract for the pipe line for the additional water system for the city began work at the springs Wednesday.

They expect to work about fifteen men to start with and later will employ about forty. They announce that they will employ Newberg people exclusively if they can get them, and those who desire work may apply to the foreman at the springs.

The library benefit given on Friday and Saturday nights of last week, when the opera Pinatore was presented by local talent, was well patronized and after all bills were paid $50 remained in the treasury. The cast of characters and an outline of the opera have twice been published in the Graphic and a repetition is not necessary. Many favorable comments on the entertainment have been heard and those who took part have reason to feel satisfied with the results.

A reception was given by Mrs. W. C. Reuter at the parsonage February 10, to the old and new officers of the M. E. Aid society. The time was spent with needle work in a social way. A dainty luncheon was served in the dining room. All the officers were present and report a very pleasant time.

Those who were privileged to hear Mrs. Bessie Lathe Scovell at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening, speak in the highest terms of the lecture, and say that Newberg has paid large sums to popular lecturers in the past who were not nearly as good speakers as Mrs. Scovell, while her lecture was free.

In announcing the officers elected for the Jackson Democratic Club last week, by a slip of the pencil the name of Samuel Parrett was written as treasurer in place of Samuel Parrish. Had it been a Lincoln Republican Club it would have been all right, but as it was, Mr. Parrett had a good many questions to answer, relative to his present political affiliations, on account of the mistake. Then on the other hand Mr. Parrish may have felt aggrieved on account of his being robbed of the honor. The Graphic promises not to do it again.

W. B. Fiue arrived home the latter part of last week after having spent six weeks on a vacation, during which he visited his parents at the old home in Tennessee. He went by way of Los Angeles and in Arizona found the weather so warm he could not ride on the rear platform with comfort, but a little later ran into twenty-below-zero weather in Kansas. Arriving in Chicago he found the weather so cold he could not get out with any degree of comfort and consequently cut his visit there short and left for the Southland, where he spent his time around the fire visiting with his parents and friends. The South don't compare at all with the West in his estimation and he is glad to be at home in Oregon again.
