Mrs. De Troop (who is short-sighted:) "Good morning, Mrs. Simkins. Your husband must be very fond of gardening. I saw him the first thing this morning down in the bottom of the garden. And how well he looks, to be sure!"

Mrs. Simkins turned her back and slammed the door in her neighbor's face. The latter, aghast, went to tell her daughter.

"And you told her, mother, that the thing in the onion-bed was her husband?"

"Of course I did."

"Well, that's not her husband, that's a scarecrow."—Barnesville Republican.

MAYOR GETS DATA ON STREET PAVING
Queries Regarding Proposed Material Answered by Officials of Other Towns.

Mayor W. F. Matlock is trying to solve the paving question here in Pendleton, says the East Oregonian, and to-day received messages relating to the price of gravel bitulithic and the merits of the Dollarway pavement.

The first received is from A. J. Sawyer, mayor of Ann Arbor, Michigan, and reads as follows: "In my opinion Dollarway, while cheap in first instance, maintenance incity must be very expensive. The bituminous top needs constant repair. Comes off in large patches and is not permanent. Washtenaw avenue pavement put down eight months ago is being repaired in places."

The second is from R. S. Dulin, one of the Portland City Chemists. It reads as follows:

"There has been no concrete pavement coated with coal tar or bitumen laid in Portland from my laboratory tests. I have concluded that this type of pavement is yet in experimental stage, and reports from the eastern engineers strengthen my opinion that it is not permanent pavement."

The third is from C. E. P. Back, first assistant engineer of Buffalo, N. Y., and is as follows:

"We have had no actual experience with Dollarway roads. Might be willing to use it in some outlying streets for temporary purpose. Should be considered in class which name implies, dollarway. Permanency of coating depends upon quality of bitumen used as well as upon methods of application. Thin coat should not be expected to last long."

AT $1.34 PER YARD

With agitation underway in Pendleton for lower prices on street paving the East Oregonian takes pleasure today in reproducing a story from Goldendale, Washington, and published in a Portland paper last evening. It sets forth that many bids on hard surface paving have been received by the Goldendale council and that Dollarway paving has been offered the people there at a price of $1.34 per square yard.

Inasmuch as the Dollarway people have been asking a price of $1.50 per square yard here it would seem that the company had not yet reached bedrock with reference to price cutting in Pendleton. Surely the paving company will not charge local property owners any more for their work than they charge the property owners at Goldendale. Local property owners are a fine lot of citizens and are entitled to the very best that's going in the way of paving prices, a fact that both the paving companies should carefully bear in mind.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Pres. Levi T. Pennington, of Pacific College, will preach next Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor. The hour of the evening service has been changed to 8 o'clock. A pleasant surprise is being prepared for next Sunday evening.

"I am quite surprised, Mr. Meeker, to account for your wife's knowledge of parliamentary law."

"Great Caesar! Hasn't she been speaker of the house for the last fifteen years?"

"There is nothing that women cannot do as well as men."

"Of course," assented Mr. Meekton earnestly. "But, Henrietta, I do hope that none of you will insist on pitching for the home team in a close game."
