QUAINT OLD DOCUMENTS.

Business Records of a Nippur Firm Twenty-four Centuries Ago.

A peep into the "archives room" of a great business firm of 2,400 years ago has been made possible by the investigations conducted at Nippur under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania. This room would be represented by the vault or the great steel safe of a modern business establishment. It contains the business records of the firm of Murashu Sons of Nippur, a concern which was thriving in the time of Artaxerxes I.—that is to say, about the year 464 B. C.

The records are all engraved on clay tablets, of which several hundred have been discovered. There are mortgages, notes, legal contracts and agreements of all kinds. One of the most interesting of these records is a guarantee that an emerald set in a gold ring will not fall out for twenty years. It reads:

"Bel-ad-iddina and Belshuna, sons of Bel and Hatim of Bazuzu, spoke unto Bel-nadin-shumu, sons of Marashu, thus: 'As concerns the gold ring set with an emerald, we guarantee that for twenty years the emerald will not fall out of the gold ring. If the emerald should fall out of the gold ring before the end of the twenty years Bel-ad-iddina, Belshuna and Hatim shall pay unto Bel-nadin-shumu an indemnity of ten mana of silver.'"

This is a sample of the remarkable documents found in the archive room. Marashu Sons must have carried on an extensive business. The records embrace a period of fifty years. The firm seems to have acted as agent for the wealthy Persians who did not care to attend in person to their large estates in the hot Babylonian country.

They leased fields and other properties and lived upon the revenues thus obtained, preferring to spend their days among the luxuries and attractions of the cities. All this is evident from the contracts, leases and bills of sale of orchards, slaves, oxen and other possessions found among these clay records.—Harper's Weekly.

Couldn't Do It.

The pianist engaged to play at a "smoker" which was held recently played by ear and was famed for his accompaniments to songs of all kinds. He maintained his reputation until a young fellow was called upon to favor the company with a comic song. The would-be comedian had a very tuneless voice and, being nervous, forgot some of the words.

The result was he gave the first verse in three different keys, and when he broke down at the chorus he had the cheek to blame the pianist, saying: "You're putting me off. If you can't play better than that I'll sing without the piano." "You'll have to," replied the pianist sarcastically. "I can't accompany a stump speech."—London Ideas.

Royal Journalists.

There have been royal journalists as well as royal authors. George III. contributed seven articles to the Annals of Agriculture, a monthly magazine edited by Arthur Young. These were published under the pseudonym of Ralph Robinson and, according to one of his biographers, "display a most profound knowledge of agriculture." Louis XVIII. was a journalist of quite another type. For some years after his accession to the throne he was in the habit of sending anonymous political articles to various Paris dailies. Some of the opinions expressed in these were so advanced that the king had the pleasure of seeing them vetoed by his own censor.

The Largest Kitchen.

The largest kitchen in the world is part of a Paris department store. In this kitchen is prepared the food for the 4,000 employees of the establishment. The smallest kettle holds seventy-five quarts, the largest 375 quarts. There are fifty frying pans, each of which is capable of holding 300 cutlets at a time or of frying 220 pounds of potatoes. When there are omelets for breakfast 7,800 eggs are used. The coffee machine makes 750 quarts of coffee daily. There are regularly employed sixty cooks and a hundred kitchen boys.

Cursory.

A huntsman called on Hodge to settle for damage done by a run to hounds and found only Mrs. Hodge at home.

"Has your husband," he inquired, "made an examination yet?" "That he have, sir," replied Mrs. Hodge, with a curtsy.

"Rather a cursory examination, I suspect?"

"Oh, dreadful, sir! Such languid I never heard—never!" And the good woman held up her hands at the bare recollection.—Judge.
