SOUTHERN PACIFIC MAKES GOOD RECORD

In the last three years and ten months no passenger has been killed through collision or derailment on the Southern Pacific, according to the accident statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission, recently made public. During this period the road carried 150,400,000 passengers an average distance of 42 miles. In the last three years and four months but one passenger was killed through derailment or collision on the Union Pacific. There were 27,900,000 passengers carried during that time.

Rail breakage has been reduced to a minimum by the introduction of the standard rail. Steel cars are replacing wooden cars over the entire Harriman System and automatic block signals will soon be in operation over every part of the lines. The inspection of the rails as they are manufactured, originally inaugurated by the Harriman Lines, has had much to do with the making of this safety record, and several other roads in this country have recently started similar inspection methods. There is one way to reduce the fatality record on American railroads and that is to pass laws that will prevent trespassing on the rights of way. Fifty-three per cent of the people killed on our railroads annually lose their lives because of trespassing. A large majority of those killed are hoboes and others, stealing rides. The problem of reducing the number of railway accidents requires the co-operation of both the officials of the companies and of the people. It has been one of the real big problems of railroad operating for years and every line in the country looks forward to the time when a death on a railroad because of derailment or collision will be unheard of.

IN MEMORIAM

From her home in Lents, Oregon, June 17, 1912, Mrs. Elizabeth Mendenhall Hoskins was called to her home in heaven. In her death the church, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and all good work has lost a most loyal and faithful helper. The community has lost a friend indeed. Among the last work done was the kindly ministering to those needing help and encouragement. Her untiring zeal for the cause of Temperance and Purity was a marked characteristic, and for many years she was local president of the Mt. Scott W. C. T. U. In all this time she was never absent from a meeting when it was possible to be there and her faithfulness helped many another to perform their duty better. She was superintendent of the Department of Anti-Tobacco and at her own expense had printed and circulated in each room of the Lents school blotters with timely warnings against the cigarette. When her reward was given, she was Treasurer of the Mount Scott Union and her books were models of accuracy. No time was lost puzzling over the different funds, for all was in place plainly labeled. The example of this quiet, earnest life was a benediction to all who knew her. Mrs. Hoskins was born in the state of Indiana, in the year 1837. She was a teacher by profession and loved her chosen work. In 1886 she was married to John Q. Hoskins, whose first wife had died and left him with two daughters and one son. As a mother to the motherless, she performed her duty as she did in every thing she undertook. To her was born one son and two daughters making a family of six children to care for and love. Her chosen church was the Friends and to that she remained faithful to the end. She was active in the Methodist church at Lents for some time before the church of her choice was organized. The funeral services were held at her home, conducted by Rev. Moore of the Methodist church of Lents, with the local W. C. T. U. taking part. The remains were laid to rest beside her husband near Champoeg.

A REMARKABLE BOOK of Interest to Property Owners

After years of work and great expense the manufacturers of "Standard" plumbing fixtures have completed a book which should be seen by all property owners intending to remodel and especially by those who are going to build.

In this book are shown in great variety fixtures that would grace a mansion and others, less pretentious, but beautiful nevertheless, that are within the means of that great group of people—the wage earners of America.

This book is too expensive for general distribution but you can see a copy in our office.

For your own interest, see this book before planning your bathroom.

ADRIANCE BUCKEYE MOWERS

Followed our fathers across the plains a half century ago; cut virgin grasses of this Oregon country and built up their reputation for sturdy durability. Adriance Buckeye Mowers have been sold in the Pacific Northwest for 47 years. The new Adriance Buckeye sticks to the old fashioned idea of uprightness in building adding latest improvements.

Automatic Spring Draft operates only when needed. No tendency to lift cutter bar off ground when under unusual strain as when striking an obstacle. Saves hay, driver, team and machine. Used on Adriance Buckeye only.

Steel Wearing Plates for each clip and above and below knife found. Give long life to parts. Found only on Adriance Buckeye Mowers.

Brass Boxes for Crank Shaft. Brass boxes at each end of crank shaft. Others have only one and some none at all. Our Pitman box is brass also. Buckeye boxes wear longest.

Internal Gear. Crank shaft is driven by internal spur gear instead of an external bevel gear as in others. Spur gear runs easier on high speed and with no end thrust and an internal gear engages more teeth of the pinion at one time. Our slow gears are bevel, making the Buckeye combination lightest running and of longest life.
