DUNDEE

Miss Bertha Q. Reed spent the week end in Portland.

Rev. Downs, of LaFayette, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bennett.

Thomas Prince who has returned from an extended visit in the East, while in Portland on his way home, met with an accident, being thrown from a street car, and is suffering with concussion of the brain.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeper and Mrs. Graeper's mother and brother have returned from a trip to the coast.

The residence of Mr. Sommers was totally destroyed by fire one day the last week.

Nicholas Wall lost a valuable horse last week.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. for the election of officers will be held at the residence of Mrs. Rhoda Pool on Friday at two o'clock.

Mrs. J. P. Powell went to McMinnville on Sunday to visit her daughter, Mrs. David H. Turner.

The new ten room house of Daniel Gibbons is completed. It is one of the most beautiful and comfortable homes ever erected in this part of the country and modern in every respect.

Julius Johnson has recently erected a new barn.

Mr. Inskeep, the agent for Hop Home Insurance Co., recently visited the hop growers in this vicinity.

Charles Keyes, of Live Oaks, California, a nephew of F. T. Keyes is a guest at the Keyes home. Mr. Keyes drove up from California and consequently has had a good opportunity to judge of the part of Oregon through which he passed. He likes the looks of this part of the country and may decide to locate here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Duncan, of Newberg, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Allan.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Bryan and family, of Chehalem Mountain, are visiting at Mr. Bryan's sister's, Mrs. Wm. Allan.

W. J. Bennett is one of the fortunate prune growers of this section this year. His crop promises to be so large that he has found it necessary to build an addition to his drier in order to harvest his crop.

Misses Rosa Young and Anna L. Christopher have returned from a week's outing at Newport.

CHEHALEM CENTER

W. R. Everest made a trip to Portland Tuesday.

Mrs. William Roberts of Woodburn, cousin of Mrs. S. W. Newhouse, and Mrs. Agnes Haecker and young son, of Chicago, were guests at Shady Nook last week.

Mrs. Boon, sister of Mrs. F. Hodges, who has been spending some time visiting relatives here, left for her home in Wisconsin Tuesday.

Dr. Dixon and family came out and held a meeting at the church Sunday evening. There will also be a service next Sunday evening.

GREETING SPRING.

An Old and Picturesque Custom in Switzerland.

The 1st of March is a day of joyful festivity among the school children in most of the Engadine communes in Switzerland. At 4 o'clock in the morning a party of schoolboys march through the village clanging cowbells, big and little, with all their might to proclaim the dawn of a boisterous day to their slumbering schoolmates still abed.

As the day grows bright the boys gather, each one with a huge bell hung around his neck, on the village square, where they form in ranks, according to their size. When the preparations, always conducted amid great excitement and juvenile jubilation, have been completed the procession starts on a tour through the streets to the accompaniment of furious bell ringing and noisy yodeling.

One of the eldest of the demonstrators, with a milk pail on his shoulder and dressed in the costume of a dairyman, with yellow breeches, white stockings, low shoes, finely embroidered braces over a shirt of spotless white, turned up sleeves, displaying a brawny arm, the dairyman's hat perched jauntily on the back of his head, marches proudly at the head of the herd. At the end of the procession is another big boy with a big staff in his hand like a herdsman.

All this reminds us of the way the cows go to the Alps to the sound of bells. The whole festival is nothing but a spring celebration to herald the return of the milder season, which has been looked forward to with longing for months.

The custom is said to be of Roman origin; hence its name, "Chalanda Marz" (from Kalendare), which justifies the assumption that, from the period of the year chosen for the observance of this festival, it must have originated in the mild climate of Italy and not in the cold climate of the Engadine.

In the way described the troop marches on from house to house and is presented by the matrons with rice, chestnuts, sausages, bread and even money. The hotels are all visited, and the guests always contribute some small change. Out of the proceeds a general jollification is provided, in which the girls of the neighborhood take part.

How intense is the youngsters' enjoyment of the Chalanda Marz festivities can scarcely be imagined by any one who has not looked on at these annual junketings.—Exchange.

Rubinstein's Free Seat.

A pianist who was pre-eminently successful in his day was Rubinstein, who traveled nearly the whole world over delighting people with his genius. He was very much annoyed by requests for complimentary tickets, but most of the time he maintained his composure, even though justly irritated. It is told of him that just before one of his recitals in London he was accosted by an old lady in the entrance hall and thus addressed:

"Oh, Mr. Rubinstein, I am so glad to see you! I have tried in vain to purchase a ticket. Have you a seat you could let me have?"
"Madam," said the great pianist, "there is but one seat at my disposal, and that you are welcome to if you think fit to take it."
"Oh, yes, and a thousand thanks! Where is it?" was the excited reply.
"At the piano," smilingly replied Rubinstein.

Indoor Golf.

In the eighteenth century golf courts or alleys were roofed over to protect them from sun and rain, wind and falling leaves, so that people might golf undisturbed in all weathers. These formed long wooden sheds, eighty feet long and twenty broad, covered with tiles. The floor, which consisted of a mixture of earth and lime, was made hard, smooth and perfectly level. At a quarter distance from each end stood a pin turned out of hard wood. For two feet of its height it was thickly coated with bell metal, so as to give a sharp sound when struck by the large leather balls. Around the golf alley were little tables and stools for the onlookers. So one finds them in north Holland still. The game in fact had been reduced almost to parlor golf.—London Express.

A Family Affair.

"Cordelia," ordered the teacher, "throw that gum in the wastebasket!"
The pupil's face grew scarlet, but she did not stir.
"If you do not put that gum in the wastebasket immediately I will send you out of the room," said the teacher gravely.

The girl walked reluctantly to the desk. "I can't, teacher," she confessed. "It's ma's gum, an' she'll lick me if I go home without it."
—Success Magazine.

The common phrase "He's a brick" is first found in Plutarch. The expression implies any form of admiration. The Spartans, quick witted and noted for their repartee, were early trained in both schools. They were men of few words and fewer laws and embodied in short phrases their admiration, dislike or appreciation. Lycurgus was not only a man of few words, but quick action. On being asked, "Should Sparta be inclosed?" an invasion of the enemy being expected during the time of war, he replied, "A city is well fortified which has a wall of men instead of brick."

A CONSCIENTIOUS JOB

We desire to convince you that you can leave your plumbing to us and rest assured of receiving a plumbing equipment installed the way you want it and which will last.

How will we do it? By giving you a detailed specification fully covering the work to be done and we will guarantee all work to be done in accordance with the specification.

A further assurance of lasting satisfactory equipment will be to have us install "Standard" plumbing fixtures which are guaranteed by the manufacturers to give 5 or 2 years service (according to grade), but will most likely give you many more years service.
