Mrs. C. H. Eggers is up from Portland visiting her various friends.

John N. Crosby, the road man for the Studebaker make of autos, was in Newberg Tuesday.

Mrs. Ruth Heston, who has been in Portland for the past six weeks, is at home again.

Fred McCrea is here from Pendleton on a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCrea.

Mrs. Mabel Dixon is here from Portland visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paulsen.

Mrs. J. M. Lemon has been taking treatment in a Portland hospital and is said to be getting on nicely.

Get your butter paper at the Graphic. Paper furnished with the necessary printing at reasonable rates.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parker, who have been sojourning in Portland for several weeks, are in town looking after home affairs.

Clyde Lane and family who had been out from Tillamook county for two months on a visit, left for home the first of the week.

Surveyor Hefty was down from McMinnville Wednesday surveying and platting an addition that is being laid out by Albert Benson.

Robert Forsyth, Jr., took the civil service examination in Portland last week and hopes to secure a place in the federal building in the city.

The High school team won the game of basket ball over the Forest Grove team last week, but when the boys went to Corvallis the score went the other way.

A. Bartholomew and Mrs. Anna Beck went to McMinnville on Tuesday where they were married. Neither cake nor account of the wedding furnished this office but here is hoping they may live happily ever afterwards.

George L. Kelty, who was at McCoy recently, says the Southern Pacific has two and a half acres of ground fenced in with a high board fence at that point, and the ground inside the enclosure is pretty well covered with copper wire and other material for the electric line work.

The celebration of the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday was carried out by the local G. A. R. Post according to announcement. At the appointed hour in the afternoon Wednesday, the members of the post, with the Ladies' Relief Corps, formed in line at their hall and marched to Duncan's Hall, where the exercises were held, N. E. Britt, Commander, presiding. A chorus, under the leadership of Miss Jessie Britt, rendered two patriotic selections with good effect, and Rev. Ezra Hayes followed with a well prepared address on the life and services of Lincoln, the emancipator. The speaker was given the closest attention during the delivery of the address and many favorable comments were made on the splendid effort.

The Graphic office is filling many orders for butter wrappers.

Miss Eva Fletcher was down from LaFayette Tuesday visiting with relatives.

Charley Pickett, of Salem, was here last Sunday visiting with his nephew, Olin Hadley.

W. E. Crozer went to Portland on Tuesday to meet with a missionary committee of the Friends church.

Charles Francis Brooks, four years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brooks, has a slight attack of pneumonia.

Miss Grace Klock has gone to Portland to live with Mrs. Harry Taylor, where she will finish her schooling.

L. H. Shirly and family, who have been living at Springfield since leaving Newberg, are now located at Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilchrist, who are out from Iowa, were in Newberg over Sunday visiting with their friend, Mr. Jackson.

G. S. Hoaglin says he is getting stacks of letters in answer to his advertisements in the Graphic. He sold a ranch in Polk county the first of the week.

Walter Barringer, of Streeter, North Dakota, and Mrs. Judd Tanner, of Clear Lake, Wisconsin, were here the first of the week visiting their uncle, J. O. Lyon.

A gentleman named Larsen, who came from Carson, Washington, the place where they soak the booze fighters at the hot springs, recently located in Newberg.

L. F. Moore, who lives on east Hancock street, is planning to build a new residence just west of the old one. He has the excavation for the basement about completed.

The fine weather has smoothed out the wrinkles in the public roads and autoists are "making hay" while the dust flies. Joe Cook was one of the number out from Portland Tuesday.

On Sunday evening, February 16, in the Christian church, at 6:15, will be held a special Endeavor service. Music by the orchestra and male quartet. Subject: "Temperance," Rev. 13, 1-8. Everybody invited.

A very pretty porcelain sanitary drinking fountain has been installed in front of the United States National Bank where the weary and footsore traveler may quench his thirst, without money and without price.

Since the two story brick building on the southwest corner of First and Meridian streets has been vacated, Henry Ehret, the owner, has begun to make extensive repairs and changes in the structure which will make of the ground floor a splendid room of good proportions for merchandising purposes. He expects to take out the east wall and build it new, out on a line with the street, which will add some ten feet to the width of the building, and will also make changes in the front and put in a new floor. The ventilation under the building has never been good and as a consequence the timbers decay and let the floor settle. This defect will be remedied by providing for a good circulation of air under the floor. The removal of the old floor is already under way.

Phineas Roberts, a former resident of Newberg, was here last Saturday and Sunday from Dayton in attendance at Friends quarterly meeting.

Miss Mary Moore has been at Wilsonville for several days nursing George Seely, an uncle of A. C. and Sherman Seely, who is well advanced in years and pretty well broken down in health.

Alva P. Macy, of Chico, California, who formerly lived at Dayton, recently sent a box of Indian relics, including stone mortars and pestles, to be added to the museum at Pacific College.

Rev. and Mrs. Astleford, who have been visiting with her parents at Rex for some time and assisting in the special meetings, left for their home at Scotts Mills the first of the week, the smallpox quarantine at that town having been raised.

One of the Hall brothers, a brother of Mrs. Frank Rundell, is out from Siletz with his family on a short visit. He says a new bridge is being built across the Siletz river and the mountain road to Toledo from Siletz is so improved that they have contracted with an auto truck owner to haul their goods in from Toledo.

Mrs. A. J. Barrel, of Dundee, who was a typesetter in the Graphic office before her marriage, was a caller at the office on Tuesday. She said there was not an empty house in Dundee and consequently those who wanted to locate there had to either buy, build or take their turn waiting for a family to move out.

Revival services are being held both at the M. E. and Friends churches. At night services are held at both churches, but in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, the two congregations join in a union service. During this week the afternoon meetings are being held in Friends church with Rev. Skipworth, pastor of the M. E. church, as leader.

J. W. Barcroft Jr., Dr. Eldridge and Walter Mills, on hearing that the gravel bars up the Willamette were lined with wild water fowl, loaded a boat with shooting irons and ammunition Monday and journeyed in that direction, but not a duck or goose was brought back by them. The sky was clear and the birds that were sighted were shy and off on the wing before they could be reached.

At the quarterly meeting of Friends church held last Saturday, the recommendations of Springbrook and Newberg local meetings to the effect that Perry Macy and Miss Edith Minchin be officially recognized as ministers of the gospel, were endorsed by unanimous vote. Miss Minchin is acting as pastor at Rex and Mr. Macy is in his senior year at Hartford, Connecticut, Theological Seminary. The latter has invitations for pastoral work in the New England states, but his Oregon friends hope to see him return to this field.

Wm. Schaad who has had experience in road work says that if the roads that are now pretty well dried out by the sun and wind were gone over with a split log drag and the rough humps pressed into the ruts, the same amount of time thus spent would accomplish a great deal more than can be expected later in the season with plow and scraper. This is the sentiment expressed everywhere by those who have seen it tried out, but there seems to be a disposition to "let George do it" in this section, and "George" is a badly overworked individual.

ALASKA EVENING

The reception given Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Martin, returned missionaries from Kake, Alaska, at the Friends church Friday night, was an instructive as well as an enjoyable occasion. Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin gave interesting talks on the life and customs of the Indians. They displayed numerous articles of hand work done by the natives, such as mats, bead work, baskets, jewelry, etc. Different ones were called on to speak who had at some time visited the station at Kake, and each spoke of the marvelous change in the tribe which only a few years ago was considered the most savage in southeastern Alaska into the most respected.

Mrs. Myers, governess at the college dormitory, gave a thrilling account of their experiences, covering three years, with the Eskimos. At their destination they found themselves and baggage put off the boat in deep snow with only the bluesky for a covering and 300 miles from a postoffice. Following the program the missionary committee of the church furnished refreshments which were served by girls from the college.

COUNCIL MEETING

At a meeting of the city council held Monday night bids for the purchase of the street improvement bonds, total amount of bonds offered $28,577.35, were opened. A committee composed of Morris, Hutzen and Mills was appointed to take up the matter of plans for a city hall with an architect.

The request of the Oregon Electric Railroad for an extension of twelve months on their franchise on the streets in Newberg was tabled.

COLLEGE CLIPPINGS

The second semester of the college opened Monday morning with an increased attendance over that of last term. Five new students are enrolled, while two former students have re-entered to continue their work. Some new courses are being offered in the preparatory department for the benefit of those entering from the eighth grade of the public school.

The first chapel address of the new term was delivered Monday morning by Charles E. Tebbetts, Secretary of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions. He spoke especially of the big opportunities which were being opened up for those who were well qualified, and had the ambition to do great things.

The basket ball team will go to Salem Friday night to play a return game with the Chemawa Indians.

President Pennington and Mrs. Hodgins have been appointed delegates to attend the Presidents' Conference of the Independent Colleges of the State, which is to meet at Salem Friday and Saturday. Each college is allowed one delegate besides the President.

At a called meeting of the Associated Student Body, held Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to bring the Byron Troubadours here for a concert on March 5. This company is com-

THE SPEEDY AGE

At the "moovies" the other night a picture of Battery D. in New York showed a street car drawn by horses, and the crowd laughed.

And don't we progress? It wasn't so many years ago, and no doubt many who laughed at the odd sight remember it, when a street car drawn by horses wasn't anything to laugh at, but on the contrary was a wonder to the day, and when they first appeared, people would stop on the street and watch them pass, and no doubt many who jeered at the "horse car," Newberg, Oregon, Feb. 13, 1913.
