Rev. Hiram E. Gould, of Forest Grove, is expected to preach at the M. E. church next Sunday morning and evening.

J. C. Hodson and James Lewelling will give talks on peace and arbitration at Chealem Center church next Sunday morning.

Frank Zumwalt made a trip to Wilsonville last week in quest of hay for his feed store. He says he has difficulty in finding hay of good quality.

The Newberg Ministerial Association announces that beginning with next Sunday, all evening services will begin at 8 o'clock during the spring and summer months.

The Springbrook school district is preparing to vote on a bond issue of $5,000 for the purpose of raising money for enlarging the school grounds and building a new schoolhouse.

C. J. Edwards drove to Tualatin Tuesday evening to take the Oregon Electric for Portland, in response to a message from Vancouver, Washington, saying his brother, W. F. Edwards, was dangerously sick with scarlet fever.

Miss Minnie Richardson and Mrs. Bulah Hedges and two children are here from Weiser, Idaho, and are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Richardson. They will probably remain in Newberg during the spring and summer.

O. V. Allen, state treasurer of Idaho whose home is at Boise, spent last Friday in Newberg calling on his former friends. He was a resident of Newberg for several years when our little city was in the embryo stage, but for the past ten years or more he has resided in Idaho. He is off for a short vacation and is visiting relatives in McMinnville and Eugene, in company with Mrs. Allen.

Rev. A. J. Weaver, pastor of Friends church at Berkeley, California, who came to attend the funeral of his uncle, Rev. Isom P. Wooten, at Salem last week, spent Sunday and Monday in Newberg. On Sunday, both morning and evening, he preached at Friends church, showing in both sermons the same careful thought he was accustomed to use when he was pastor here for three years, before going to the new field at Berkeley. On Monday evening he was given a reception at the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Terrell, on Wynooski street, when a large gathering assembled on short notice to do him honor. Before returning to Berkeley he will make a trip to Seattle to look after some property belonging to his uncle's estate, he being named in the will as the sole executor of the estate. By the terms of the will he will receive the sum of one thousand dollars from the estate.

Miss Sibyl Woodward visited in Portland over Sunday with her sister, Mrs. W. A. King.

L. T. Price was out from Portland last Saturday looking after his ranch north of Newberg.

Rev. H. H. Keim, of Ridgefield, Washington, spent last Saturday and Sunday in Newberg.

W. S. Allan, of Dundee, was in Newberg Tuesday on the hunt of a farm horse to take the place of one that died recently.

The local W. C. T. U. will hold an institute on Friday, April 18. Full announcement and program will be given next week.

Mrs. Frederick Stevenson and Miss Jessie Collard came out from Portland Saturday for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Collard.

Elwood Minchin, who is with a Portland wholesale hardware firm, spent last Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Minchin, above Dundee.

District Elder W. N. Coffey will hold quarterly meeting services at the Free Methodist church beginning Friday night and continuing over the Sabbath. All are invited to these services.

Rev. Horace Houlton, a missionary of North China, will speak at the Baptist church Sunday morning. All are cordially invited to come and hear an interesting talk on conditions in China.

A. W. Rees and wife, of Portland, visited over Sunday with his brother, J. H. Rees, at Glenwood Farm. Mrs. Rees came to Newberg Monday to visit her brothers, H. R. and George Morris, and other relatives, Mr. Rees returning to his work in the land department of the Southern Pacific Co.

In the will of Rev. Isom P. Wooten, whose death was noted last week, a bequest is made for the Biblical department of Pacific College amounting to one-fourth of the estate, and a further sum is to go to assist worthy students who may desire to attend the college. The estate is estimated at about $15,000.

The concert given by the trio; William Wallace Graham, violinist, Mrs. Lula D. Miller, contralto, and Edgar Courson, accompanist at Duncan's Hall, Tuesday night was listened to by an appreciative audience. Each of the three are artists in their respective lines and the evening's entertainment was a rare treat.

K. W. Shafford had two brothers and a cousin living at Dayton, Ohio. The cousin is numbered with the lost in the recent disaster that overtook that city, one brother has not been heard from but he has just had a letter from the other brother stating that he escaped injury. He wrote that almost every horse in the city was drowned and that the task of disposing of the dead animals and clearing up the general wreckage was a task that was not easy to be reckoned with. Another brother, J. W. Shafford, who at one time was a resident of Newberg, was interested in the German bark Mimi, an account of the wreck of which will be found on the third page of this issue. He is interested in the company that has the contract for furnishing the logs for the mill at Brighton, on Nehalem Bay, and the company also disposes of the lumber that comes from the mill. They had leased the Mimi for transporting lumber to San Francisco, and were to assume charge of the vessel when it was delivered to them at the mouth of the Columbia river. The loggers who were lost in the wreck were from their logging camps.

R. N. Hutchins and family will move to Harney next week.

Fred Crawford and daughter, Miss Gussie, were down from Dayton Tuesday night to attend the Graham concert.

Mrs. Sadie Hoskins has been here from Lebanon for several days visiting her sister, Mrs. S. F. Gause and other relatives.

Mrs. M. M. York underwent a surgical operation at St. Vincent's hospital last week but is improving nicely and expects to be able to be removed to her home by the last of the week.

White and company have just made the sale of a ten acre tract of timber land in the Hobson fruit land sub-division west of town, owned by Percy M. Tallman to Albert A. Clayson for $1300 cash.

Mrs. G. Frank Evans is up from Portland visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Bixby. Mr. and Mrs. Evans expect to leave soon for Central Oregon where they will locate on a claim near Warren McConnell and wife and Miss Harriet Bixby.

J. M. Donahoo, who had been in poor health for several months, died last Friday at the age of 54 years, leaving a wife, one son and a daughter. Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon, after which the family left with the remains for their former home at Gridley, California, for burial.

Norman Macy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva P. Macy, of Chico, California, but who formerly lived at Dayton, spent last Monday in Newberg calling on relatives. He is off on a vacation and is now visiting at Dayton. Having been away eight or nine years, he finds many changes made in this section.

Dr. Horace Houlding, of Taiming-fu, North China, Superintendent of a wide mission field in that land, will be in Newberg from Friday over Sunday, the guest of Mrs. Edith Hill Booker. Plans have been completed to have Dr. Houlding address the students of Pacific College at chapel on Friday at 10 a. m., also for a mass meeting in Friends church on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. No offerings will be taken at these meetings.

The people of Springbrook school district will hold an election Saturday afternoon, April 12, to vote on raising money to build a new schoolhouse. This is an improvement that is badly needed and it is their intention to build a house that will be a credit to the community. This will be a good opportunity for the women to try wielding the ballot, and since they are quite enthusiastic on the question at issue, there will doubtless be a strong delegation of ladies at the polls.

Clifford C. Cady, who has been the manager at the Newberg Brick & Tile Works for several years, is moving to Sylvan, a suburb of Portland, where he will take charge of a similar plant for a Portland company. When the Spaulding Company assumed charge of the plant here recently under a lease for a year, Mr. Cady was induced to remain, although he had decided to go to work for the Portland company. The latter company has since made the offer so tempting he could not refuse, hence his change of residence.

Word has been received here of the burning of the old historic Friends Yearly Meeting house at Plainfield, Indiana, which occurred on Friday night, March 28. The loss is figured at $15,000, with insurance of $6,000 carried. Mention is made of it here on account of the fact that many of the readers of the Graphic have attended services in the house in other years. It was dedicated in 1858 and on many Sundays since at the time of the big annual meetings, the crowds in attendance have been estimated at from ten to fifteen thousand people.

I BELIEVE

I believe in myself and the firm I am working for.

I believe in working hard and finding pleasure in it.

I believe that hard work, honestly and faithfully done, will win its sure reward.

I believe in seeing the good, not the bad, in my co-workers.

I believe that cheerfulness will accomplish more than discontent.

I believe in today and the work I am doing, and tomorrow and the work I hope to do.—Ex.

SOME SENTENCE

"Now," asked the young school-teacher, "can anyone give me a sentence with the words boys, bear, and bees in it?"

Johnny Smith raised his hand.

"Well, Johnny, you may try."

"When we go swimmin' all the boys bees bare," said Johnny bravely.

"Are you the same man who ate my mince pie last week?"

"No, mum, I'll never be th' same man again."

Mandy—"What foh yo' been goin' to de post office so reg'lar. Are yo' correspondin' wif some other female?"

Rastus—"Nope, but since ah been areadin' in de papers 'bout dese conscience funds ah kind of thought ah might possibly git a lettah from dat ministah what married us."—Life.

"I wouldn't drink out of that cup," said little Johnnie to the well-dressed stranger. "That's Bessie's cup, and she's very particular who drinks out of it."

"Ah," said the young man as he drank the cup dry, "I feel honored to drink out of Bessie's cup. Bessie is your younger sister, isn't she?"

"Not much! Bessie is my dog."

In a quiet little country town, so quiet that the silence hurt, a commercial traveler entered the general store. Going through to the parlor at the back, he came upon the proprietor and a friend engaged in a game of checkers.

"Here, Mr. Slocum," he said in an energetic whisper, "there's two customers in the shop."

Slocum never took his eyes from the board. He merely nodded his head and whispered in reply:

"That's all right. Keep quiet, and they'll go away again."
