THE KING OF THE MAY

MAY 1ST

Come ring out the bells,
And beat up the drums,
All nature be happy and gay;
We'll enliven the scene,
By crowning a queen,
For this is the first day of May.

In a two story hat,
Tailor suit and all that,
Like a comet he comes in array;
Put the queen in the shade,
Let obeisance be made,
For this is the "King of the May."

Mid jesters and goats
And numerous floats
The parade goes marching on by,
Two milkmaids came next
Whose patience was vexed
By leading the editor's cow.

Forty milkmaids in silk
With pails for the milk
Which followed were wondering why,
Not aware of the fact
That milk the cow lacked
From eating the "printer's pi."

We take off our hats,
And bow to the ground,
To the King. How small he makes us all feel!

And like Pat in the rhyme,
With our feet we keep time,
For we can't ride in an "auto-mo-beel."

MAY 2ND

Now out on the green,
Our King he is seen,
In search of some poor lonesome Jay;
In a rough farmer's suit,
From his hat to his boot,
Clear the track! Toot! Toot!
He's out in his "auto-mo-hay."

—J. Rusticus.

"Some" Suggestion.

An inebriated gentleman was going home one evening when he met a young man who was moving to a new home. Being very frugal this young man had decided to move his own things rather than pay a mover. On this trip he had a large hall clock on his back. It was very heavy and as he struggled he heard the inebriated one call out:

"Shay there, you!"

Thinking that the man was going to help him, he set the clock down and said:

"Well, sir?"

He was astonished to hear the other stammer:

"Shay you, why don't you buy a watch?"

Cause and Effect.

A mouse as timid as the rest of his kind went frisking around a cellar and came to a pool made by a leak in a whiskey barrel. He drank a little from the pool and went away. Then he came back and drank a little more. This operation he repeated for a half dozen times. The last time he sat on his haunches, glared around and said, "Now show me that cat."

"I am willing," said the candidate, after he had hit the table a terrible blow with his fist, "to trust the people."

"Gee," yelled a little man in the audience, "I wish you'd open a grocery."

"Did you ever dress a chicken?"

"No, my girls are all boys. But I understand it costs a heap of money."

A Portland girl was telling her chum in no uncertain tone of the shameful manner in which her steady was treating her. The friend said:

"Why don't you give him the mitten?"

The answer was this: "It isn't a mitten he needs, it's a pair of socks; he's got cold feet."

It was at a ten and fifteen cent vaudeville ticket window. A country villager approached.

"Ten or fifteen?" asked the ticket seller.

"Jist one," said the villager.

"I hain't got the fam'ly along."

ASK JOHNSON TO VETO ALIEN LAW

Bryan Requests California Governor Withhold Signature Pending Negotiations.

Washington.—The federal government's final effort to delay alien land-owning legislation in California was made when Secretary Bryan in the name of President Wilson telegraphed Governor Johnson notifying him that the Japanese ambassador had earnestly protested against the bill passed by the California assembly and urging that the governor postpone action by withholding his signature.

The decision of the administration to urge Governor Johnson to use his power of veto to postpone any land legislation was reached after a series of conferences between the president, Secretary Bryan, and John Bassett Moore, counselor of the state department, and calls at the state department by Ambassador Chinda. It was realized that any further attempt to have the bill enacted by the California legislature amended would be fruitless since Secretary Bryan's trip to Sacramento was unavailing.

Whether or not the governor complies with the administration's request there will probably be important negotiations between the United States and Japan immediately. If the land bill is vetoed the president and Secretary Bryan will have to undertake to carry out their promise to accomplish through diplomacy the ends sought by the Californians.

California Solons See Malfeasance.—Sacramento, Cal.—Malfeasance in office is the charge made against Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state of California, in a unanimous report of the joint legislative committee which investigated the payment of fees into his department. The committee recommends that the case be put in the hands of the attorney general.

Typhoon Sweeps Philippines.

Manila.—The worst typhoon experienced in eight years struck the islands Sunday, causing many deaths and wrecking several small steamers and numerous lighter craft. The known fatalities at sea total 58, but the total death list from the storm is swelling with incoming reports.

ROOSEVELT CAN GET ALBANIAN CROWN

London.—Theodore Roosevelt can have the throne of Albania, if he wants it. The suggestion already has been carried to the point where the colonel has only to signify his willingness to accept and the crown is his.

"If Roosevelt desires the kingship of Albania we will put him ahead of all others who have been named. I myself would certainly vote for him. Roosevelt is one of the most extraordinary men in the world, being by nature on a higher plane than mere princes."

This was the emphatic statement made by Ismail Kemal, provisional president of Albania, and leader of the delegation from the Albanian people authorized to find for them a ruler acceptable to the ambassadorial conference of powers.

The correspondent's audience with Kemal took place in the Hotel Cecil, where he is staying, accompanied by his co-delegates, Louis Guracuchi, minister of education, and Nogga, Kuntza and Delejtus. All showed the greatest interest in and were evidently surprised by a suggestion of Roosevelt as king.

POWERS TAKE SCUTARI

Admirals of International Fleet Enter City Evacuated by Victors.

Vienna.—The admirals of the international fleet that blockaded Antivari and the Montenegrin coast, will take formal possession of Scutari in the name of the great powers of Europe and resolving themselves into commission, will govern the city until such time as the powers arrange for its permanent disposition. It will ultimately become the capital of autonomous Albania; if present plans are unchanged. Reluctantly, the last of the Montenegrin soldiers, with their siege guns and lumbering wagons, left the captured city.

Apparently peace is now almost established in the Balkans unless Bulgaria and Greece fight over Salonika and the powers have their armies entrenched and a few slight brushes have been reported, but these differences will be arbitrated.

Suffragists Pay No Taxes.

London.—Tax resistance as a means of protest against the failure of the British government to grant woman suffrage is spreading throughout the country among women who are reluctant to employ the more violent Pankhurstian methods.

Why He Was Glad.

Uncle Rastus was employed on a farm in Virginia where there was a prize bull that became so ferocious that the owner was compelled to send for a veterinary surgeon and have his horns cut off. Uncle Rastus viewed the proceeding with evident satisfaction from a safe place in the stable, and when the sharp horns had been rendered harmless he rushed up and seized the veterinarian's hand.

"I's cert'ly glad, doctah," he gratefully exclaimed, "dat yo' hab done gone an' cut offen dat bull's 'orns!"

"You are, are you?" jestingly replied the veterinarian. "Why are you so glad about it?"

"It am jes' dis way, doctah," explained Rastus with considerable feeling. "It's too old to climb trees, an' I's too young to die."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Long Drawn Out Dinners.

If you think that you are unable to stand a dinner which lasts for three or four hours because of the frightful boredom of it all, keep away from China. For there at a fashionable dinner you might be called upon to remain at the table anywhere from twenty to thirty hours. For they do have dinners there that sometimes reach that length. State dinners have been known to begin at noon of one day and last until evening of the next. Foreign envoys bring back tales of sitting sometimes thirty hours at a stretch and being served with 140 different courses and 150 different dishes. Chicago Tribune.

An Economical Lass.

A Scotchman wishing to know his fate at once telegraphed a proposal of marriage to the lady of his choice. After spending the entire day at the telegraph office he was finally rewarded late in the evening by an affirmative answer. "If I were you," suggested the operator, when he delivered the message, "I'd think twice before I'd marry a girl that kept me waiting all day for an answer." "Na, na," retorted the Scot. "The lass who waits for the night rates is the lass for me."
