

OREGON GOVERNOR INVADES THE DALLES

Accompanied by Militia, Compels Sheriff to Close Disorderly Houses.

The Dalles, Or.—Governor West arrived here Sunday with Major Smith and 11 state militiamen from Portland and compelled Sheriff Chrisman to imprison 32 women who had been arrested in a raid made Saturday night by special agents of the governor.

Chrisman refused to imprison those placed under arrest without commitments and because, he said, agents of Governor West had failed to convince the sheriff of their authority. After a conference with the governor Chrisman promised Governor West he would lend every assistance in his power in obeying the order of the executive.

Sworn in as deputies to make the raid were four militiamen and they remained on guard with their prisoners until relieved by militiamen brought by Governor West.

Governor West said he had no desire to prosecute the girls who lived in the houses or visitors, and 29 of the 32 prisoners arrested will be held merely as witnesses. The prisoners are under guard in the Washington hotel and at one of the closed resorts.

Ernest R. Ringo, of Salem, who was appointed special prosecutor by Governor West at the time of his Portland vice crusade, has been ordered to remain here to assist District Attorney Bell.

MANY NEW LAWS IN EFFECT

More Power Given Governor as Result of Legislative Acts.

Salem, Or.—All the laws passed at the recent session of the legislature, except those having emergency clauses or those to be referred to the people, became operative Tuesday.

Chief among the new measures are those relating to highways, irrigation, wages of women and children, pensions for mothers, fixing number of hours of workmen in factories, mills, etc., giving the governor more power to enforce laws locally, revising fish and game laws, appropriation for Pacific-Panama exposition, regulation of brokers, regulation of pawnbrokers, uniform system of accounting in state and counties, teachers of Portland on civil service basis, pensions for Portland police, abolishing district fairs and creating county fairs.

The Pope is 78.

Rome.—The pope was 78 years old Monday, and innumerable telegrams and messages from all parts of the world arrived, felicitating the pontiff, wishing him a long and happy life.

ROOSEVELT GIVEN VERDICT OF 6 CENTS

Marquette, Mich.—Complete exoneration for Colonel Roosevelt, former president, from charges of drunkenness made against him in an editorial by George Newett, editor of the Ishpeming, Mich., Iron Ore, came here when Newett, after Roosevelt's case was retested, took the witness stand and made complete surrender, and withdrew the charge of his paper that Roosevelt "gets drunk and that not infrequently."

In a long statement read in open court, he admitted he had combed the country, but had found not one single witness who could testify he had seen Colonel Roosevelt take liquor to excess. To all intents and purposes he threw himself upon Roosevelt's mercy.

Roosevelt, unwilling to assess upon Newett the heavy damages he had claimed, arose in court and declared he had achieved his object, disproved the tale that did him much injury in the last campaign and asked the court to direct a verdict in his favor for nominal damages only—which in Michigan is 6 cents.

The six cents were paid and the colonel will settle his own costs of close to $10,000.

MAYOR RUSHLIGHT LOSES

H. R. Albee is Elected First Mayor Under Commission Government.

Portland, Ore.—H. R. Albee was elected first mayor of Portland under the commission form of government, defeating Mr. Rushlight, present mayor, and his nearest opponent, by a substantial vote. In the best residence sections of the city Mr. Albee ran ahead of Mr. Rushlight as high as four to one.

Ideal weather failed to bring out as large a vote as hoped for, a total of about 45,000, or about 60 per cent of the registered vote being cast.

For commissioners, Ralph C. Clyde, W. L. Brewster, Robert G. Dieck, Will H. Daly and George L. Baker are leading and it is indicated that the four men who will serve with the new mayor will be chosen from these five. In all probability first, second and third choice votes will have to be counted to determine the result.

REGULARITY IN SLEEP.

It is Far More Important Than Getting to Bed Early.

When a man is in perfect health he wakes up naturally when he has had enough sleep. What is enough sleep is entirely a matter of habit and of individuality. One man may have had enough when he has slept four hours. It is not well for a man who is in the habit of sleeping eight or nine hours to cut down his night's rest suddenly to four or five.

Sleep is to the healthy man merely a reviving process for brain and body. It annihilates the poisons of fatigue that have accumulated during the day, the poisons that make him feel sleepy at night. And when he wakes up he jumps out of bed vibrating with energy for the work of another day.

It is not so much the amount of sleep as its quality that counts. An Edison can get as much sleep in four hours as most of us get in eight, which means merely that his sleep is so intense, his rest so perfect, that in four hours all the fatigue poisons are driven from his system, while most men's sleep is so fitful or so light that it takes eight or nine hours to do the same work for them.

It does not matter what time you go to bed so long as you have a regular hour and stick to it. The old saying that an hour of sleep before midnight is worth two after it is not true, but it has this much of truth in it: That the early hours of sleep are worth more than the later. The man who remains healthy goes to bed about the same hour every night, and it makes little difference whether this hour be 9 p. m. or 3 a. m.—New York World.

The Account Settled in Full.

At a salon in Paris some years ago the Sieur d'Aimerie was one of a group to whom he was imparting an account of his pedigree, which he claimed was derived from the pharaohs of Egypt. Just then the late Baron de Rothschild approached the group, and one of its members called out: "Baron, come and let me make you acquainted with the Sieur d'Aimerie. He comes from Pharaonic stock, and you ought to know each other." "Yes," said the baron, bowing gravely and addressing D'Aimerie, "I believe our families had some transactions in times past." "Yes," rejoined D'Aimerie, "we have a record that your people when leaving the country borrowed a considerable amount of jewelry from my people, for which I should now like to be repaid, with interest." "I remember the transaction," said Rothschild, "but the account was settled at due date. Your fathers received a check on the Bank of the Red Sea."

Custom of "Sin Eating."

Perhaps the most extraordinary use to which a loaf of bread was ever put was in the custom of "sin eating." The ceremony is described by Aubrey in his "Remains of Gentilisme and Judaisme" (1686): "In the county of Hereford is an old custom at funerals to have poor people who take upon them all the sins of the party deceased. One of them, I remember, lived in a cottage on Rosse Highway. He was a long, lean, ugly, lamentable poor rascal. When the corpse was brought out of the house and layd on the Bier a Loafe of bread was brought out and delivered to the Sinne eater over the corpse, as also a mazerbowl of Maple, full of beer, and sixpence, in consideration of which he took upon him (ipse facit) all the sins of the defunct, and freed him from walking after he was dead."—London Chronicle.

Origin of Steeplechasing.

The grand national, though the chief event of the steeplechasing world, was not established until 1839, because the steeplechase is a late development of horse racing introduced about a century ago from Ireland. It was originally, as the name implies, a cross country contest between hunting men, who made some distant church steeple their winning post. The earliest recorded match of the kind was run in 1752, from Buttevant church to the spire of St. Leger church, in county Cork. But what is considered "the first regular steeplechase" followed the festivity of an Irish hunt dinner in 1803.—Westminster Gazette.

A Cautious Announcement.

During a winter visit to Florida Andrew Carnegie attended a service in a little negro church. When the contribution plate came around Mr. Carnegie dropped a five dollar bill upon it. After the contents of the plate had been counted the clergyman arose and announced: "Brethren and sisters, the collection this evening seems to figure up $6.44, and if the five dollar bill contributed by the gentleman from the north is genuine the repairs on the sanctuary will begin immediately."

Not Disturbed.

Two spiders that dwelt in different parts of a church one day chanced to meet and got into deep conversation and asked one another where they lived.

"I live under the pulpit," said No. 1, "and every week I always think I shall be getting killed. The parson bangs his hand down, and I have to get into the smallest corner for fear of getting squashed."

"Oh," said No. 2, "you ought to come and live with me. I never get disturbed from one year's end to another."

"Why, where do you live?" asked No. 1.

"I live in the poor box."—London Telegraph.

Not What the Judge Intended.

An English firm was prosecuted before the highest court for swindling and unfair business dealings.

In acquitting them the chief justice said with great severity, "The evidence presented is not quite sufficient to convict you, but if any one wishes to know my opinion of your methods I hope that they will come to me."

Two days afterward the firm's advertisement appeared in all the London papers with the following well displayed: "Reference, by special permission, the lord chief justice of England."

Early Dentistry.

The art of dentistry was practiced among the Egyptians and Etruscans, and there are evidences in mummies and skulls that in very ancient times teeth were filled and efforts were made to supply the loss of natural by artificial teeth. The first writer on the treatment of diseased teeth was Galen. The science was introduced into America by John Greenwood, who established himself in New York in 1788. In 1790 and again in 1795 he carved in ivory an entire set of teeth for General Washington.

The Lie.

When once the world has got hold of a lie it is astonishing how hard it is to get it out of the world. You beat it about the head, and it seems to have given up the ghost, and, lo, the next day—like Zachary Taylor, who did not know when he was whipped by Santa Anna—it is alive and as lusty as ever.—William Matthews.

Precautionary Measures.

Visitor—Who hung that picture, Tommy?

Tommy—My father did.

"Did he have any trouble?"

"I don't know. Mother sent me out of the room before he started."

Garnets by the Ton.

Garnets are generally classed as precious stones, and a fine gem garnet may be worth from $5 to $25 a carat, according to variety and size, but it is not necessarily true that the owner of a garnet mine is a millionaire because his mine produces garnets by the ton. In fact, the bulk of the garnets produced are measured by the ton, but these of inferior quality are used for abrasive purposes. In 1912 the production of abrasive garnet, according to the United States Geological Survey, amounted to 4,182 short tons, valued at $137,800, so that the average price for a ton of garnets was not quite $33, or considerably less than double the price of a ton of hay.

The production of garnets in 1912 showed an increase of 106 tons in quantity and $16,052 in value compared with 1911. The three garnet-producing states are New York, New Hampshire and North Carolina.

LATE MARKET REPORTS

Furnished by Secretary of Portland Union Stock Yards Co.

Cattle values suffered a severe cut during the week and the market is generally 25 to 50 cents lower. Steers received the brunt of the attack. Best bulls were selling steady $8.25 to $8.50 toward the close with good grass stuff around 8 cents. Butcher stuff was slow to participate in the slump as heifers brought $8 and cows 7.80, although these prices are not in existence today. Good bulls and stags are steady to a shade weaker, while calves remain unchanged. Heavy liquidation from drouth afflicted section on California and Rocky Mountain states, has hurried along the annual advent of the grass cattle run. Beef is not as plentiful as in former years and the trade expects a comparatively steady market all spring and summer.

The hog market displayed strong "Come back" qualities from opening to closing and gained approximately 25 cents. Best light swine sold steady Wednesday 8.50 to 8.55. Demand has been brisk and big enough to absorb receipts which have been better than the average. Uncertainty as to the market status the coming week prevents much speculation.

Sheep house proved an irregular affair up to Thursday and thereafter appeared to be steady. Killers are suited on poor mutton and lambs. Are calling for prime stuff which is fairly firm. Wethers at $6 and ewes at $5.25 and spring lambs $7 to $7.25 are price tops in the various sheep classes. Liquidation large and range of prices wide.

PROCLAMATION OR REQUEST TO THE CITIZENS OF NEWBERG

Owing to the fact that during the Grand Army Encampment we will have a great number of people here from all over the state and that we want to show all respect possible to the veterans of the Civil War.

Let us one and all see how neat and clean we can have our streets and yards.

We have an ordinance requiring the citizens to keep their streets clean, but don't expect to have to enforce it at this time as I feel that the civic pride of our citizens will take a special interest to have their best foot forward.

J. D. Gordon, Mayor.
