THE BOOSTER BOOKLETS

The epidemic of advertising booklets shows signs of reappearing in Oregon country towns after a vacation of a few years says the Hillsboro Independent. Of course the young men interested in having them printed in California do not throw cold water on the idea, and indeed might modestly claim responsibility for the notion that inevitably strikes a town when it decides to wake up that the only thing to do is to print matter describing its claim. As a matter of fact the east has been deluged with this kind of literature until it is sick and tired of it, and homeseekers pay very little attention to it. Unfortunately in some cases conditions and prospects in some localities have been exaggerated, and when this has been discovered it has caused similar advertising from other districts to be distrusted. Any country newspaper in Oregon can tell of letters from homeseekers which request copies of newspapers, the writers stating the belief that a perusal of the local newspaper will give a much better idea of actual conditions than tons of illustrated, flowery magazine write ups. We believe that if each locality will put even the sum raised for advertising of this kind into direct development work direct returns of many hundreds per cent on the investment will be had. Taken all together the money subscribed in Hillsboro for development purposes during the past five years amounts to a respectable sum. Suppose this money had been used to locate only one small industry that would employ perhaps less than 20 persons, and we believe there would have been a direct return to the whole community that would be a handsome per cent on the investment.

SCHOOL AND FAIR NOTES

Furnished by the superintendent and supervisor.
School Fair, September 23-26, and everybody is getting ready for it. Glenn Brooks, of LaFayette, writes that he will enter two varieties of chickens, and several kinds of vegetables. He feels sure that LaFayette will have the best booth again this year.
Opal Biddle of the same district lost her chickens in the rain, but is not in the least discouraged, and will bring something else.
Roe Robertson, of Dayton, hatched thirteen chickens from thirteen eggs, and will have his trio at the fair. Who said thirteen is an unlucky number?
Herman Cotwaldt, in district 85, has a fine tomato plot, and some splendid field corn. An exhibit from each will be entered.
Mrs. May Hamblin, secretary of the "Rural School Improvement Club" in district 24, Fairview, writes of their plan for managing the fair. Some one has been appointed to arrange the float for the parade, another has charge of the sewing, another has supervision of the children's gardens, and a committee has been appointed to arrange the booth. No. 24 is building a fine school house, modern in every way, full basement and furnace heat. The grounds will be put in the best of condition as soon as the building is finished, and they fully expect to win the prize for making the greatest improvement in the appearance of their school premises. Will you let them win it?

We hope that every club in the county will report their plans for the fair, and we will pass them on for the benefit of others.

We would also be glad to have each boy and girl tell us what he or she is preparing, and we will tell the other pupils through the school notes. We have not published the names before, but will do so if the editor can spare the space.

Circular letters and prize lists were mailed to every school clerk and every club officer in the county today, and we hope they will all do their best to encourage the children and grown people as well to work for the fair.

When you receive a circular letter or a prize list, please show it to your friends.

Do not forget we are going to have a school exhibit at the State Fair, and that we must have stock in that exhibit; so the boys and girls must arrange to bring their best. We shall get a supply of State Fair premium lists, and mail them to each one that will send in his address. Write now, and we will mail when they arrive. Please make up your minds at once as to what you can furnish for the county exhibit at Salem, and we will mail you an entry blank. All entries for this exhibit must be in by Sept. 22.

Remember the "Movable School" in McMinnville, August 29-30, and in Newberg, September 1-2. The Agricultural College is determined to reach the people, and to benefit them in every possible way. Do not fail to attend the entire session.

Inexperienced teachers will please remember the teacher's training class at the Court house, August 25-29. Everything possible will be done to help you to make a success of the coming year's work. No tuition will be charged.

Mr. Leabo and a friend from Grand Ronde called at the office this week and reported the two Grand Ronde districts making great preparations for the fair. "Every one seems interested" they said, "and Grand Ronde will have two splendid booths." Each district will have a float in the parade.

DUNDEE

Miss May Holt and Chester Holt, of Gaston, were guests last week at Robin Lodge.

Uncle George Robison is visiting his nephew, Roe Robison.

Carl Lehmann, station agent at Wilbur, Ore., is spending his vacation with the home folks.

Mrs. Bella Foote and daughter, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Foote's aunt, Mrs. Harriett Bisconer. Mrs. Bisconer will visit with them at the homes of relatives in Oregon before their departure for home, via California.

Mrs. Samuel Davis and daughter, Bernice, of Tacoma, who were formerly Dundee residents, have been visiting friends at Crawford. They are at present guests at Park Hill Home, the residence of W. S. Allan.

Mrs. Sarah M. Crosby is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gordon.

Mrs. Julia W. Little and son, F. C. Little, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McIlhenny, of Portland, are guests at Otterbrook.

Work is progressing on the remodeling of the Poole Home.

The Herring Brothers are enjoying a trip to the Coast Mts. and the Coast.

Miss Mamie Pier who has been spending her vacation at home, left on Wednesday to resume her studies at the Mt. Tabor Sanatorium where she is taking the training course for nurses.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Spencer and Miss Spencer were called to Willamina on Saturday on account of the death of Mrs. Spencer's sister, Mrs. Amy Brown, widow of Thomas Brown, of Yamhill. Mrs. Brown who was Miss Amy Handley, spent her girlhood at the Handley Home in the Red Hills. She leaves many friends in the community who were shocked to hear of her sudden death.

Roe Robison went to McMinnville to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Thomas Brown.

John Edwards is to begin work soon on a new house and barn for Guy Grames on the old Hagey place.

On Thursday last an interesting meeting of the Neighborhood Circle was held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Powell. A constitution was adopted and officers elected for the year. It was decided to secure a room for the proper placing of the books from the State Circulating Library Association, the same room to be used later as a reading room. The program committee is at work on an interesting program for the next meeting and the ladies are also urged to bring any materials suitable for children's scrap books, especially colored pictures. While the program is being given, fingers will be busy with any kind of sewing and in making the scrap books to be given to the Children's Home in Portland. All ladies of Dundee and vicinity and their daughters are most cordially urged to attend and become active workers in the circle which has been organized for social purposes, for the discussion of topics of the day, or for more formal study as the wishes of the ladies may be, and for the purpose of lending a hand wherever woman's work may be needed. Meetings will be held every second and fourth Thursday of each month, and it is hoped that the next meeting, which will be held on August fourteenth at two thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bland Herring, will be largely attended. The work of the circle should be of interest to every mother and daughter in the community. So ladies, bring your sewing and scrap book materials and help plan the work for both head and hands for the coming season.
