Mary M. Ridgway et alia vs. City of Newberg: Suit by plaintiff and ten others to enjoin defendant from taking land and water before paying for the same. This grew out of the Skelton suit against the city tried about two years ago. I. H. Van Winkle for plaintiffs.

S. W. Atkinson vs. J. D. Gordon: Action for $1000 damage on account of misrepresentation on the sale of two males sold by defendant to plaintiff in the year 1910. B. A. Kliks and I. H. Van Winkle for plaintiff.

DUNDEE

Addison Hawley, of Newberg, is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Roe Robison.

Roscoe Spencer, of Thatcher, Washington, visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Spencer on Tuesday.

Thomas Prince is having a new water system installed at his home.

Mrs. Albert Champlin and three children, of Portland, are visiting Mrs. Champlin's sister, Mrs. W. S. Allan.

J. W. Bennett and sons attended Ringling Bros. circus in Portland on Thursday.

Miss Cornelia J. Spencer and Miss Medora Greer are visiting relatives in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Harper have returned from a visit in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sarah M. Crosby, of Portland, who has been visiting friends in Dundee and vicinity, left for home on Monday.

F. A. Crawford, who recently purchased four acres of the Poole place, is having a camp established on the new property and with his family will move in before September. Work will then begin on the erection of the new Crawford home.

The county surveyor has had a force of men at work for a few days on the Keyes property preparatory to a settlement between the heirs of a part of the old homestead. The rest of the property will probably not be divided for a year or so on account of business dealings which have tied up the property for that length of time.

Grandma Huckleberry spent the week end with her son in Portland.

Mrs. Samuel Davis and daughter who have been spending the summer with friends in Dundee and vicinity, expect to leave for Portland on Saturday.

Preliminary work has begun on the establishment of an electric line from Newberg to supply light to some of the homes and prune driers in the Red Hills.

A very interesting meeting of the neighborhood circle was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bland Herring. A short business meeting was followed by readings and music and then work on scrap books for the children's home in Portland was begun. It was decided to accept the offer made by the city council of the City Hall to be fitted up as a library and reading room, and work to that end is planned for Thursday of this week. The advisability of extending an invitation to the Fresh Air Committee of Portland for the entertainment of some of the mothers and children in Dundee and vicinity was discussed. Owing to the fact that the heaviest work of the summer falls upon the housekeepers of the community from the middle of August until after prune time it was decided not to try to entertain any of the Fresh Air people until next summer when arrangements can be made early in the season for that pleasure.

On Tuesday a number of families of the Red Hills who felt able to devote a day to pleasure just before the rush of work in pears, hops, apples and prunes, assembled in the Allan grove for an old fashioned basket picnic. To say that the long table, large enough for all to be seated at once, groaned under its weight of goodies, is stating it mildly. Never was a more varied bill of fare displayed in these hills and never a happier crowd to enjoy it. Gallons of ice cream were made on the spot and no notice taken of repeaters. About four o'clock watermelon, more ice cream and cake were served and all present were able to enjoy the second spread, except one wee girlie whose capacity had not quite matched her appetite. The groaning of the table was nothing compared with those of most of the grown ups the next morning when, in their efforts to get out of bed, their muscles gave reminders of the exciting games of duck-on-the-rock, hop scotch, etc. participated in by nearly all present. One little boy remarked, "I had the best time I ever had at a picnic" and his enthusiastic remark might be echoed by dozens of others.

The past few days have been unfortunate ones for some of the Dundee ladies in regard to lost articles. On Sunday, a week ago a young lady lost a purse containing a ten-dollar gold piece. On Thursday last a hat pin with a rhinestone head valued as a keepsake, was lost, and on Sunday one of the little girls lost the string of blue and white beads that she had won as a prize at the school picnic. The gratitude of the three losers will be given for the return of each or all of these articles to the store of W. J. Gordon in Dundee.

W. A. Graeper made a business trip to Portland on Tuesday. It is expected that pear harvest will begin in about a week and hops a day or so later.

Friends of Mrs. F. S. Hillsinger will be grieved to hear of her serious illness.

The local lodge of the Woodmen of the World will hold an ice-cream social on Thursday evening.

NOTICE TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF YAMHILL COUNTY OREGON

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, September 8th, 1913, the Board of Equalization of Yamhill County will attend at the office of the county assessor of said county and publicly examine the assessment rolls for the year 1913 and correct all errors in valuation, description or qualities of land, lots or other property, and it is the duty of all persons interested to appear at the time and place appointed, and if it shall appear to such Board of Equalization that there are any lands, lots or other property assessed twice or in the name of a person or persons not the owner of same, or assessed under or beyond its value, or any lands, lots or other property not assessed, said Board of Equalization shall make the proper corrections. Martin Miller, Assessor of Yamhill County, Ore. McMinnville, Ore., Aug. 18, 1913. 45-47

Farsighted Economy.

Mrs. Wipedunks—Jenkinson, we ought to take one of the first class magazines. It's only $4 a year, and the children are getting old enough now to have something good to read.

Mr. Wipedunks—Only $4 a year! That's all, is it? If you begin on magazines you'll think you have to keep it up. At the end of every year you'll want to have 'em bound. There's two volumes in a year. Costs $1 a volume for binding. That makes $6 a year. In ten years it's $60. Then you'll want a bookcase to hold the twenty volumes. That'll cost about $25 because you'll think it ought to be big enough to hold the twenty more volumes. There's $85 thrown away. Do you think I'm made of money? If you want to read the magazines, what's the matter with borrowing 'em?—Chicago Tribune.

Easily Convinced.

A story in London Opinion bears witness to the fact that, from the preacher's point of view, a sermon may occasionally be too eloquent and too persuasive.

"Eh," said Sandy to the minister, "yon was a powerful deescourse on 'Thrift' ye preached the Sabbath."

"Ah'm glad ye were able to profit!"

"Profit! Why, 'mon, I would have sloshed ma saxeence into the plate w'oot a thought if it had not been for your providential words. They saved me fourpence there and then!"

Misplaced Credit.

"Mother," said a little south side boy, "if I knew of a one legged boy I would give him one of my roller skates."

Pleased with generosity thus exhibited by her son, the mother patted the youngster on the head.

"I admire the spirit which prompts you to such a kindly act," she exclaimed, "but that would spoil your own pair."

"Don't worry about that," the lad replied: "I lost the other one."—Youngtown Telegraph.

Differentiation.

"What is the principal difference between modern and ancient times?"

"One of the main points was that the modern earn their living, while the ancient urned their dead."—Baltimore American.

The Duke's Dinner.

The Duke of Wellington was Prince of Waterloo, though he never called himself so, and had many other titles, for which he once had to pay dear. He told a man to order dinner for him at a particular hotel, and the man did so, mentioning all the duke's titles. Presently the duke came and waited a long time. "Is the dinner not coming?" he asked: "why don't you bring the dinner?"

"We are waiting," replied the waiter, "for the rest of the party."

They had prepared dinner for about twenty people.

Crying and Sobbing.

Crying is a contraction of the muscles about the eyes and cheeks, causing a flow of tears by squeezing the lacrimal glands. If continued for some time it leads to sobbing. Sobbing is a series of spasmodic contractions of the diaphragm, causing sudden inspirations and expirations which, passing through the larynx and pharynx, bring about the typical sounds always connected with this process.—New York World

Very True.

"Don't you think peace would be promoted if nations could be persuaded to talk things over deliberately before going to war?"

"Possibly. But sometimes the more you talk things over the more you had to fight about."—Washington Star.
