FACES WITH PIMPLES.

What Causes the Blisters and How They May Be Cured.

Pimples are almost always a result of acne, that disfiguring disease of the sebaceous glands which manifests itself so often in blackheads.

The skin is full of minute glands which discharge an oily substance through tiny pores. Certain internal secretions which become active at the age called puberty stimulate the sebaceous glands to extra activity, and overindulgence in sugar, starch and fat contributes. The orifices of the overcharged pores are attacked by a microbe called the Bacillus acne, which liberates a toxin that causes the outer layer of the skin to try to encyst it with successive layers of cells. These, with the oily secretion of the glands, form in the pores plugs, which are called comedones and which when darkened by dirt from the outside become blackheads.

The skin is now a fertile soil for pimple production. A certain pus forming germ called Staphylococcus alba enters the mouth of the follicle and soon surrounds the comedo with a lake of pus. This is now a pimple, the core of which is nothing but the comedo.

In an address before the John Morgan society of the University of Pennsylvania Dr. Penn G. Skillern gave the following instructions for curing bad cases of pustular acne or pimples: Correct all errors of digestion; see that the teeth and mouth are in perfect order; persuade the patient to chew thoroughly; stop eating sugar, starchy and fatty foods, cutting out all fried food, candy and pastry; correct anaemia by open air exercise and proper diet. If possible have a few exposures to X ray treatment; squeeze out every comedo, puncture each pustule; swab with phenol three parts, camphor two parts. Use a good boric acid soap with tepid water at least twice a day, and at night apply lotio alba, rubbing it in well. Dr. Skillern also urges the use of a properly prepared vaccine made from the patient herself.

The treatment calls for patience, but will clear the most pimply face if persisted in.—New York World.

Postic License.

Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, was talking about a New York poet.

"His poetry is always awkward," Mr. Chambers said. "He drags in words that you can see are there solely for the sake of the rhyme. In fact, he reminds me of a Lake Sunapee epitaph.

"In a little churchyard, overlooking Lake Sunapee, a gray, mossy stone bears this inscription: As sinks the sun with lengthened shadows, So sank and died the good George Meadows."

"N. B.—Deceased's name was Fields, but Meadows is substituted for the sake of the rhyme."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Thoughtful.

There is a restaurant in Berlin whose proprietor deserves the heartfelt thanks of all Americans and Englishmen unacquainted with the German language who venture within its portals. In the midst of a howling wilderness of signs in fearful and wonderful Teutonic, extolling the merits of beers and wines and special dishes, and of people hurling the most irregular German verbs about with reckless abandon, is this sign—a lovely little oasis to the stranger: "Waiter No. 6 speaks English."—New York Times.

Growth of Pity.

No one formerly looked on with any pity or even horror at punishments which are now found too dreadful for description. Men were broken on the wheel, were burned at the stake, were racked, were cut up alive. No one seems to have felt any pity for their agonies. Men were put into noisome prisons, where, with bad air and insufficient food, they died unnoticed and unpitied. It is very different now. Human hearts are more tender.

Queen of America Pearl.

The most valuable pearl ever found on the American continent was that Dr. Jesse Carr picked up in an oyster on the banks of Fox river. It is a perfect specimen and weighs sixty-two grains. Dr. Carr named it Queen of America and presented it to his wife. He took it to Chicago to have it appraised and was astonished when he was informed that it was worth $10,000.

Bad Place to Run in Debt.

People in Siam are cautious about getting into debt. When a debtor is three months in arrears he can be seized by the creditor and compelled to work out his indebtedness. Should a debtor run away, his father, his wife or his children may be held in slavery until the debt is canceled.

GOOD BUSINESS SUGGESTIONS

Trade with the people that wear a smile and give you 100 cents worth for every dollar you spend with them.

Be a booster for your home town and community. If you don't boost, who will?

If you must knock, get a Keen Kutter hammer.

Knowledge is the stuff that wins. No matter where a fellow goes he's valued for the things he knows, not for the things he thinks. Si Dratt says: "He knows it pays to trade at 'The Big Hdwe. Store' he's got reasons too, fellows, if you don't know why ask him.

Si has favored us this week with this picture, and the following explanation.

"Here's a picture of my Brother Bill's two kids and their dog, Fido. I ain't got no kids myself but I kinder wish I did have. I ain't got no wife either.

"But I buy some Christmas presents every year for Bill's kids and I was down town the other day kind of nosin' around 'at Larkin-Prince Hdwe. Co. and say take it from old Si. There's the place to buy your Xmas presents.

"They've got some little velocipedes or centipedes or some kind of three wheel concern there that would last a kid a good long time, and it only costs $2.50, and say that there little Wagner coaster wagon is the niftiest little wagon on the market, and it's got pressed steel wheels, will hold up 600 lbs. and sells for $4.50. Good presents for boys. Now if I had an old woman I liked pretty well I'd get her an aluminum percolator for $3.50 for $4.00? They've got all kinds of aluminum stuff for cookin', or I might get her a new range or a one minute washer and if I didn't like her very good I'd get her a new wash board and tub. Believe me you'll find presents for all kinds of people at 'The Big Hdwe. Store.' Guess I'll buy a Keen Kutter knife and an Ingersoll dollar watch for Bill's kids, and I guess I'll get Maria, that's Bill's wife, a nice pair of Keen Kutter scissors, and I guess I'll buy one of them fancy brass smoking sets for Bill, he's liable to think it's a dish to eat out of they look so fine, but Maria can tell him what it's for.

"You'll just hev to drop in there to really appreciate what them fellers have got, cause hardware stuff is mighty nice for Christmas presents and they've got all kinds of cutlery, brass goods, casseroles, etc., and take it from Si Dratt, you'll get your money's worth if you confine your Christmas shopping to the Larkin-Prince Hdwe. Co. The boy's will treat you right and appreciate your business too."

On the Job.

"Why didn't you send your man to mend my electric bell?"

"He did go, madam; but, as he rang three times and got no answer, he concluded that there was nobody at home."

House Moving.

I have fitted up with new outfit and am ready to move or level up wood buildings on short notice. Will also handle heavy machinery. F. C. Mills.

Latest Model. Style 705.

IVERS & POND PIANO

We have just received from the Ivers & Pond Factory a beautiful Style 705, exact duplicate of the piano in the cut. This style is up-to-date to the last moment, and as exhibited in May, 1910, at the Richmond Convention of the National Association of Piano Dealers, elicited great praise from the many critical dealers and experts there assembled.

This piano is one of the finest ever turned out by the Ivers & Pond Piano Co.; noted for its fine pianos; and its manufacturers tell us it is proving one of the most popular styles they have ever made.

This New Model, Style 705, just brought out, was specially selected for us by factory experts and has a wonderfully rich tone, even scale and responsive action.

If you are a lover of music, whether you expect to purchase or not, we cordially invite you to call and inspect this exceptionally beautiful instrument.

New catalogue mailed on request.
