Born to Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Norwood on Tuesday, a son.

Miss Margaret Inglis is visiting with friends in Portland.

S. E. Cummins, of Carlton, was in Newberg on business Wednesday.

Prof. M. D. Hawkins spent the vacation at Seattle and Everett, Washington, and says he had a most enjoyable time.

Miss Hutchens, the milliner, returned Monday evening from McMinnville where she spent the holidays with relatives.

C. A. Williams, Assistant Adjutant General, Oregon G. A. R., is out from Portland today to install the new officers of Shiloh Post No. 77.

Mr. and Mrs. David Martin have both been sick at their home at "The Oaks" out on the Dayton road southwest of Newberg during the week.

Miss Myrtle Bigelow and sister, Mrs. Woods of Molalla, arrived in Newberg Monday for a visit at the home of their uncle, George Emerson.

J. E. Rea who came to Newberg some months ago from Amity where he conducted a grocery store, has opened a new grocery stock in the building on the south side of First street at one time occupied and known as Moore's Drug store.

At the annual election of officers of the Woman's Civic Improvement Club Mrs. E. E. Goff was elected president, Miss Ethel Morris, first vice-president; Mrs. W. W. Nelson, second vice-president; Mrs. H. R. Morris, secretary; Mrs. J. D. Gordon, treasurer.

No, that frame work recently erected at the corner of Blaine and Hancock streets is not a Spaulding Logging Co. round house. It is the skeleton of a silo that is being erected as a sample by a man who is going to demonstrate and build silos in this vicinity.

Col. B. F. Pike went to Dayton last Saturday to install the new officers of the G. A. R. Post. F. C. Mills, J. W. Moore, G. W. Byers and Levi Dobbins went along and they report that the Dayton people were very hospitable, furnishing a big spread of good things to eat, and that they had a splendid time.

Some parties, supposed to be boys, entered the store of J. C. Porter & Co. on last Sunday night by breaking out a pane of glass on the west side of the building. Escape was made through a window farther away from the street. Nothing was missed from the stock except some tobacco and candies.

Frank Zumwalt went to Perrydale to-day to look after affairs on his farm. He remarked that he had word from the fruit inspector who lived on an adjoining farm that his orchard needed attention. Said the trees had been doing duty since 1852 and he saw no reason why they should be molested at this venerable age, but that he guessed he would make firewood of them.

William Faiers, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, is in Newberg visiting for the first time in more than thirty years his uncle, Frank Nephew.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Gause who have been living on the Dixon fruit farm above Dundee for the past two years, have returned to their home in Newberg.

Miss Ellen Gregory went as far as Portland with her sister, Miss Maude, last Saturday, who was returning to her school work in the University of Idaho.

The two telephone companies have finally reached an agreement and the Chehalis Mutual has connection with the Newberg Telephone Co.'s switchboard.

"Out to Win" prohibition club will meet next Tuesday, January 13, at the Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. These meetings are free to all.

Mrs. S. W. Newhouse, of Shady Nook, will go to Portland in a few days to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. John Bross, who is not in good health.

Mrs. D. P. Strait, who has been sick for many weeks, died at her home two miles northwest of Newberg Wednesday night. Funeral services will be conducted at the home on Friday morning at 10 o'clock and burial will be made in the West Chehalis cemetery.

A letter from Miss M. Eunice Lewis says she is enjoying her work in the University of California at Berkeley. Her mother, Mrs. Levi Lewis, of Springbrook, went there to spend a little time and during the holidays they made a sight-seeing tour of the cities around the Bay.

L. B. Chase, of Woodburn, father-in-law of E. P. Hamilton, proprietor of the Newberg Wood Yard, has traded his Woodburn property for the Bontager place on North Main street and the two families will reside there. Mr. Chase is much pleased with Newberg and says it is one of the prettiest little cities on the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Christenson arrived home from Southern California the first of the week and after spending a few days visiting with relatives, got busy packing their household effects for shipment to their new home on the farm at Corvallis. Judging from Mr. Christenson's statement it appears that he did not see anything while he was South that would induce him to leave Oregon.

Rev. George C. Ritchey evidently has convinced the Christian church at large that he is successful in raising funds for church work when he undertakes it. It will be remembered that a few years ago he was successful in a campaign he made to raise enough money to place a missionary boat on the Congo river in Africa. A few days ago he received notice that he had been appointed on a committee of 100 to manage a world wide campaign to raise six million dollars for the various phases of church work, which includes education and missions. He says one party has already subscribed one million, which only leaves five million to be raised. A meeting of the committee is called to meet at St. Louis in February, but he is not able to say now whether or not he will be able to attend.

George King, who recently sold his home located a mile west of town, has bought a cottage of John Illig located on Franklin street.

The sale of Red Cross stamps by the ladies in Newberg netted a little more than $58 this season, which sum was forwarded this week to the proper authorities.

John E. Smith recently made a trip to Mill City, located in the foot hills of the Cascade Mountains east of Albany on the Corvallis & Eastern railroad, where he visited his son Hiram.

Orville Hollingsworth came out from Toledo on business last Saturday bringing the little daughter along to make glad the hearts of fond grand-parents. They returned home Wednesday.

Mr. Allen, who was the first man to start a moving picture theatre in Newberg, was out from Portland Tuesday and was noting many improvements made about town since he went away from here.

Miss Ella Nelson who has a position with a big department store in Olympia, Washington, was in Portland last week buying goods for her department and came up to Newberg on Friday for a short visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nelson.

R. B. Lyle returned home from Kleckit county, Washington, last week where he purchased fifty tons of alfalfa hay for the Lone Fir Dairy. He says he has had difficulty in getting good hay for dairy cows here with any regularity, which he says he must have to insure a regular flow of milk.

The heaviest rain of the season fell last Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. There was no wind blowing and it did not rain hard at any time, but it kept everlastingly at it and as a result all the small streams were filled to overflowing and several basements about town were flooded. The atmosphere was balmy and spring-like—just the kind of "winter" weather that appeals to the heart of the long time resident of the Willamette valley.

There are no less than ten cases of smallpox reported among children and young people in the Springbrook neighborhood. It appears that the C. E. Burke children had it first so lightly that it was not suspected what it was, and as they were going to school they spread the disease. Cases are reported in the families of A. R. Mills, Elmer Thorne, L. W. Nordyke, and Grant Heater though none are seriously sick. County Health Officer, Dr. Cook was down from McMinnville Tuesday and agreed with Dr. Hester that it was smallpox. In a case of this kind it is difficult to tell how far the disease will spread, but all the necessary precaution will be taken to hedge it in as soon as possible.

The "Made-in-Oregon" banquet that is to be given by the Civic Improvement Club on Friday evening in the Odd Fellows hall promises to be a unique and pleasant affair. The menu and program will be printed on Oregon made paper and the big spread will be made up of home grown products, cooked and served to the Queen's taste. Besides good music there will be speeches made, not only by home people, but by Thomas S. Mann, president of the Oregon Manufacturer's Association, and Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered. Mrs. Verona Nelson, president of the club, will be toast mistress.

Chester Diamond has located at Harrisburg, where he is now editor of a newspaper, The Commonwealth, which was established a few months ago. Mr. Diamond is a hustler and his Newberg friends will wish for him abundant success.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ego, of Mountain Home, celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary at their home Thursday evening, January 1. The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kruger who also celebrated their ninth anniversary: Mr. and Mrs. George Brickell, Mr. and Mrs. George Emmerson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kutchanek, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Linton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beno and little son, Mrs. Wm. Davis, Mr. John Davis, Mr. F. Vincent, Mrs. M. G. Kutz, of Newberg; mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, of Bridgeville; Mr. Walter Davis, Mr. E. J. Kutz, of Newberg, and Carl A. Kutz, of Salem. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all. Songs were sung, games were played and light refreshments were served by the hostess. Both bride and groom were well and hearty, and if one can judge by looks, married life seems to be a great success with them. Many appropriate and useful gifts were received.

A Guest.

BROTHERHOOD OF AMERICAN YEOMEN

The campaign of The Brotherhood of American Yeomen which has been in progress for the past few weeks, under the directions of District Manager, Yetta Haines, and which has been a great success closed Friday morning, January 2nd, with a large class initiation, about forty new members having been added to the homestead.

Following the initiation came the installation of officers, District Manager Haines acting as installing officer and Mrs. Lottie Hanna as chief Yeomen installed the following officers:

Mrs. S. A. Westfall, hon. foreman; Miss Effie Patterson, master of ceremonies; L. L. Williams, correspondent; Mrs. Nellie Chapin, chaplain; Mrs. Jessie Beatty, overseer; Mrs. Eva Langton, Lady Rowena; Miss Emma Langworthy, Lady Rebecca; I. M. Keiling, guard; Fred J. Kelly, watchman; James Rice, sentinel; Mrs. Florence Sage, musician.

The evening's entertainment closed with a sumptuous banquet being served by the ladies in the beautiful banquet hall.

All present voted this to be the most enjoyable evening ever known in the history of Yeomeny in Newberg and the members look forward to many more during the coming year. For any information regarding the Yeomen, such as literature rates etc., call on Colonel W. A. Westfall, assistant deputy.

COMING PLAYERS TO SHOW HERE MONTHLY

On Tuesday next, January 13, the show known as "The Girl from Eagle Ranch," played by the Columbia players at Duncan's Opera House, Newberg, promises to be the coming event of the season.

These players are on their way south to Eugene, then back to Portland and will return to Newberg again every month, presenting a new and better play to the people of the city.

Miss Garnet Clark, who appears as Florence Curtis, "boss of Eagle Ranch," is a very sweet and charming little actress, who becomes owner of the ranch immediately after her father's death.

Billy Wilson, ranch foreman, is very clever in his own way and later succeeds in winning the heart of the "boss" of the ranch.

Mr. Noble and Miss Rapp as Doctor and Mrs. Arribela Marshall will entertain the public by carrying out the comic side of the show.

Miss Sallee, as Madge, and Joe Renard as Billy Wilson, are fun makers throughout the show.

Louis White, "Moqui" the cattle rustler, and Jack Fair, a Polish scoundrel, as Richard Huntley, will be two very important characters in the play.

"Here's where we smile." Frank Burbank and Violet George will furnish the vaudeville, consisting of popular songs, picture and eccentric dancing, which is always pleasing to an appreciative audience.

Clifford's orchestra will furnish the music throughout the play.
