Miss Goldie Wilson who has a position in the book-keeping department in the Meier & Frank Co. store in Portland came out home for a visit last Saturday afternoon.

The new Baker theater, built on the site of the old Gem that was burned, was opened Wednesday night. The building is as nearly fire proof as it could be made, and has a very pretty front.

Mrs. Matilda Lindelof, a sister of E. J. Touring, whose death is noted in the Chehalis Center items, is here from Colorado Springs, Colorado, to attend the funeral. The deceased left his property by will to her.

Adam Buehler, a former resident of Newberg, died at the home of his daughter at Richland, Washington, on last Friday of tuberculosis of the throat. Burial was made at Ritzville, Washington, on Sunday.

S. E. Watkins and Allen Johnson are working in Portland where they have contracts for building two dwelling houses. They say there is considerable activity in building in the city although business is supposed to be rather quiet.

The date for holding the State G. A. R. Encampment at Tillamook has been fixed for June 23-25. Col. B. F. Pike, of Newberg, and Assistant Adjutant General Williams, of Portland, have been appointed as a committee on transportation.

Stuart Vaughan, who was for many years actively interested in Washington county politics, he being located on a farm in the Middleton precinct, was down from McMinnville, his present home, on Tuesday. He is tall enough to knock the persimmon in a race for governor, but he seems to have lost his cunning in politics.

J. L. Hoskins received a telephone message Wednesday morning from his nephew, Louis Hadley, who lives on a farm below Dayton between the Yamhill and Willamette rivers, saying he had just lost his barn and all his feed, by fire. Before daylight he went to the barn with a lantern which he hung up inside the barn, as was his custom. He went outside for a few minutes and on his return he found the inside of the building in flames. He managed to get the stock all out without injury. The loss will probably be $700 at least. He supposes an explosion of the lantern caused the fire.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith on Wednesday, a son, Herman Sidwell.

L. C. Simms, state agent of the San Francisco Life Insurance Co. with offices in Portland, is arranging to move to Newberg with his family. Mrs. Simms is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wallace, and the two families will occupy the residence on the corner of Hancock and Meridian streets, formerly owned by Chris Held.

The Van Blaricom grocery was broken into Wednesday night by a burglar who broke a window light to gain entrance. The night watchman passed the store at 9:30 o'clock, finding all right, but on his return at 10 o'clock he found the doors open and an empty sack on the floor. Drawers had been opened but so far as discovered nothing was taken. The prowler was doubtless frightened away before his work was accomplished.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Chas. Wilson presented Miss Frances Elliott in piano recital at her home studio, corner Edwards and Third streets. Miss Elliott gave numbers from Greig, Chopin, Lavalee, Godard and Liszt and many were the congratulations showered upon her at the completion of her difficult program. She was very ably assisted by Mrs. Chas. Morris who sang in her usual pleasing manner. She also gave a musical reading that was much appreciated.

In response to a message from Hilo, Hawaii, giving information of the loss by fire of some of the buildings on his sugar plantation, John U. Smith left here last Monday for Hawaii to look after his interests there. He was particularly well pleased to learn that the captain of the steamer he was to sail on from San Francisco was a friend of his fifteen years standing, which of course will add to the pleasure of the trip. He will probably be away from home a month or more.

Dr. Sarah Ethel Smith, formerly located at Dickenson, North Dakota, has located for the practice of medicine in Newberg and has taken rooms in the city hall building. She graduated from the Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia with the class of 1901, and has since been engaged in practice at Dickenson where she built and conducted a private hospital. Tiring of the vigorous winters of North Dakota she decided to try the more moderate climate of the Willamette valley, and consequently she came out nearly year ago and took the medical examination, then returning to close up her business. In December she came to Oregon prepared to remain and after looking over the field decided to open offices in Newberg.

Of the twenty-six pupils in the Newberg public school who took the eighth grade examination none of them failed and only two were conditioned. Esther Terrell stood the highest with a percentage of 96.7-10, while Archie Bowman was second with a little better than 95 per cent. The average was 90.

W. E. Crozer has tendered his resignation as assistant cashier of the United States National Bank, the same to take effect the first of March. His reason for doing this is that he is compelled to go to Rosedale to take charge of his large prune orchard, which he has been unable to have cared for by others as it should be. The going of the Crozer family will be deeply regretted by their many friends here, and the wish is general that a turn in affairs may be taken that will enable them to return.

COLLEGE NOTES

On Thursday morning of last week Miss Doris Gregory favored the students and faculty with two violin solos, which were rendered in her usual finished manner. Miss Gregory was heartily applauded and was given a cordial invitation to appear again in the future.

The Men's Literary Society was partially reorganized, January 23, at which time the following officers were elected: President, Rae Langworthy; Secretary, Harold Hinshaw; Treasurer, Delbert Reploge; Vice-President, Harry Haworth. The Vice-President, Emmett Gulley and Prof. Hawkins were named as a temporary literary committee. An impromptu program was rendered consisting of a speech by Ellis Pickett, humorous reading by Harold Hinshaw, music by the male quartet and a free-for-all debate on the question "Resolved, that it would be for the best interests of Pacific College to abolish the co-educational feature."

The college basketball team met defeat at the hands of its ancient foe, McMinnville college, last Friday night on the latter's floor

TO OUR PATRONS

Our business year closes the last day in January. We wish to thank our customers for the liberal patronage they have given us the past year. Our business has shown a decided increase over the previous year. We believe this is due to courteous treatment backed up by dependable merchandise sold at right prices. We look for our next business year, which commences February 1st, to be our banner year. The prospects ahead have a bright outlook and we have bought our spring goods accordingly. Our big shipments will arrive about February 1st and by the middle of the month will have a large stock of all kinds of spring goods on display. We will say to all the good people of Newberg and vicinity it will pay you to get in the habit of trading with us.

The Miller Mercantile Co.

by the score of 40 to 25. The P. C. men handled the ball well, but were not able to keep up with the rapid floor work of the Baptist forwards. A return game will be played later in the season. A crowd of about thirty rooters accompanied the team.

Pacific came back strong the night after her defeat by McMinnville by winning over the Normal team at Monmouth. The boys reported this to be the roughest game they have yet been in, but managed to win the big end of a 34 to 23 score.

Not satisfied with breaking even last week in basketball the local team started this week with another victory, winning over the Newberg Firemen 39 to 17. During the first half the college team piled up a total of 24 points, while a single field goal netted the hose-pullers two points. The playing was fast and clean. Within ten seconds after the beginning of the second half it was evident that Manager Miller, of the Firemen, who was acting as referee, intended to allow considerable roughness, and from that on "everything went." Both teams resorted to rough playing to a considerable extent, though to all appearances the firemen had the best of the "rough-and-tumble" part of the melee. Both teams scored 15 points during this half. In the curtain raiser the college second team won over Fernwood by the close score of 7 to 5.

The sophomores held their class contest Tuesday evening after school at which time Emmett Gulley and Miss Lois Brown appeared as rivals for the honor of representing the class in the local oratorical which will be held Thursday night, February 5. The decision of the judges was in favor of Mr. Gulley. The other classes will choose their representatives in the near future.

Dr. Hester gave the second of the "Life-work" meetings before the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday of this week. He gave an interesting talk on the things to be considered in choosing medicine as a life-work.

Rev. Geo. Round spoke to the Y. W. C. A. at their regular meeting this week.

"Trefian" Literary Society held its regular bi-weekly meeting Wednesday after school. A very interesting program was rendered.

The basketball team will have two games on the home floor this week, the first being Friday night with Pacific University and the other with Columbia University of Portland. P. U. has a heavy team so they ought to furnish worthy material and insure a good contest, while the Catholics are recognized as having one of the best teams among the Portland preparatory schools. Come out and root for the local team and help the boys win both games. Admission to each game twenty-five cents.

Next week is the time for the regular semester examinations, and the time is at hand for hard study in all departments. The examinations will begin Tuesday morning and will end Friday noon. The second semester will begin Monday, February 9.
