THANKS FOR ALL

On behalf of the Parent-Teachers Association I wish to thank every one who in any way aided in making our "Trip Around the World" entertainment such a grand success. We certainly appreciate the interest manifested by our people and regret very much that we were unable to provide for all.

The net proceeds were $114. Those who purchased tickets and were unable to use them on account of lack of transportation may have their money refunded until June 1, by calling on Mrs. Henry Morris or Mrs. Clifford Tennell.

Mrs. Henry R. Morris,
President.

COMEDY, FUN, LAUGH

When? Star Theater, Friday and Rose Day. Three big reels of comedy and one Biograph drama. Alkali Ike in the two-reel feature comedy, "The Awakening of Snakeville." Andy Clark in "Andy Gets a Job," and "The Abandoned Well," Biograph drama. Music by J. B. Hunt. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE INSTITUTE AT CARLTON

An "auto truck" load of ladies from Newberg, with seven contestants from the Newberg and Dundee schools went to Carlton to attend the W. C. T. U. County Institute May 12. Good delegations from Chehalem Center and McMinnville were present. An excellent and helpful program was carried out. Reports from different unions show good work being done. The ladies of the Carlton Union entertained the delegates at the Brooks hotel. A splendid dinner was enjoyed by all.

The most impressive part of the afternoon program was the symposium, "The Medicinal Use of Alcohol." Teaching the truth 1. In the home. 2. In society. 3. Among physicians. Dr. D. D. Young, of McMinnville, gave a very convincing talk. Said it was fast becoming known and proven that there is no necessity for alcohol being used in medicine, to be taken internally, but it is more or less effective in certain cases when applied outwardly.

The evening program consisted of music and the

TEMPERANCE ESSAY CONTEST

Melba Sanders, Eda Cate, Glenn Cate, John Pinkerton and Helen Everest from the Newberg public school, and Olive Flemming and Elva Fortune from the Dundee public school, read essays on the line of scientific temperance instruction. Their essays were well prepared and well delivered and reflected much credit upon their schools and their teachers. The essays were read to demonstrate the work that had been done for the temperance prize essay contests. Eda Cate received first place in the county grammar grade contest, and Melba Sanders the second place. Glenn Cate received first place in the county lower grade contest and Genevieve Dixon the second place. The judges for the county were Mrs. Angie Greer, of Dundee, S. S. Duncan, county school superintendent, and Miss Dora Jaquith, of Newberg. These four papers are entered from Yamhill county in the state contest.

MRS. PORTER PLEASSED WITH HER NEW HOME

Editor Graphic:
I wish to correct a statement made in your paper of last week, where you say Delmar and myself are camping on our homestead. The fact is, we have a very comfortable little house, 18x18, and are living as much at home as most people are in Newberg, and in the most beautiful valley you ever laid your eyes on; most beautiful roads, and I never wanted an auto, so bad in my life. We have natural automobile roads here without any fixing. The beauty and grandeur of this valley is beyond description. Respectfully,
Maud S. Porter,
Port Rock, May 15.

PATHE WEEKLY NO. 35

This will be shown at the Star Monday and Tuesday, May 25 and 26. It contains up-to-the-minute pictures of the stirring scenes enacted by United States marines, troops and battleships in connection with the Mexican crisis. The last chapter of "Who Will Marry Mary" will also be shown. Come and see who marries Mary. Watch for Kathryn Friday and Saturday, May 29 and 30.

WEEKLY INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

Oregon Development News in Line of Industries, Payrolls and Products of Labor.

(Prepared by the State Bureau of Industries and Statistics.)

Salem, May 18.—Five counties from Eugene to Portland have united to develop the Pacific Highway on the east side of the Willamette valley.

A public dock is to be built at Port Orford to cost $6,000.

At the manufacturers' banquet held in Lane county sentiment was unanimous against enactment of any more harassing industrial laws.

A Labish drainage scheme is being worked out in Marion county at an expense of $20,000.

Richland and Newbridge, Baker county, are to be supplied with a mountain water system cost $50,000.

Astoria will spend $280,000 this year on a seawall, and fill in fifty blocks of city property for factories and business.

Coos Bay lumber shipments to San Francisco for the last two weeks of April surpassed all others on the coast—8,240,000 feet.

The Pendleton Tribune says not only the individual but every phase of industrial activity is hampered by too much legislation.

Marshfield city and county officials are planning the construction of a boulevard to the ocean.

The Oregon Power Co. at Eugene is making special rates to induce factories to locate at that city.

A factory at Marshfield has been equipped with machinery to turn out fifty mattresses daily.

Business men in the hop industry representing $25,000,000, and a yearly output of 5 to 6 millions are organizing against prohibition.

Astoria is to get a streetcar line extension of two miles at the hands of the Pacific Power and Light Company.

The Malheur Enterprise says there will be general approval of the members of the legislature who put in their time swatting fool laws.

Judge McGinn holds that a railroad company is not liable for damages done a passenger caused by a wreck in a storm.

Construction of a water system for Coos bay cities costing $150,000 will be started at once and to be completed this summer.

A farmers' co-operative creamery has been organized at Bend. The Presbyterians of Astoria have let a contract for a $5,000 church.

It is expected that trains on the Willamette Pacific will run from Eugene to Tidewater this fall.

The O.-W. R. & N. Co. is planning terminals at Pendleton, with shops and yards to employ several hundred men.

Astoria and Portland merchants are co-operating to find a market for the product of the new Astoria flouring mills.

Halibut banks off the Tillamook coast are being investigated.

The southern Oregon and northern California Mining Congress will be held at Ashland early in July to revive interest in mining and minimize the evil effects of the blue sky laws.

Lumber interests and creosote interests are uniting to establish a number of wood block paving plants in Oregon cities that have the raw material and go after some of the street and permanent highway business.

Oregon has abundant raw material, plenty of labor, but must have capital to develop these resources. In the meantime laws that tax the capital and regulate the industry off the earth are suicidal.

Laws that deprive laborers of employment in Oregon are to be supplemented with laws to create a commission to employ the unemployed.

The Simpson Lumber Co. on Coos bay expects to employ twice as many men as heretofore.

Mrs. Amelia Brown of Lane county has invented a sanitary cap for milk bottles that a Denver firm offers her fifty thousand dollars for.

The fight for the use of Oregon stone as trimmings for the new state University administration building is whether the state architect shall select terra cotta or Oregon stone.

Corvallis is to have a new Episcopal church.

North Bend will have a wharf with a quarter of a mile of straight deepwater harbor line.

The port of Coos bay commission has decided to raise $300,000 more on a bond issue for deepening the channel.

It is believed by many that the era of fads, fancies and experimentation in politics and business in Oregon has reached its climax.

J. F. PONTALLIER DEAD

In response to a telephone call from Chehalem Center on Wednesday evening, Hollingsworth & Son, funeral directors, hurried to the bachelor home of J. F. Pontallier, where they found his lifeless body at the spring near his home.

The spring is about three feet deep and two feet across, and contained a depth of about eighteen inches of water. A neighbor in passing through the yard saw the legs of Mr. Pontallier sticking out of the hole, and on examination found life was extinct.

Coroner Tilbury was called from McMinnville, and on making an examination of the body found that the lungs contained no water, which was taken as conclusive evidence that the unfortunate man had been seized with a severe spell of some kind while stooping forward at the spring, and was dead when his head reached the water.

The deceased was probably seventy years of age and unmarried. He had lived at this place for many years and had saved up considerable money.

ANDREW HAGEY BADLY INJURED

On last Monday Andrew Hagey, of Dundee, was so badly injured in a runaway accident that little, if any, hope of his recovery is entertained.

He was driving a fractious team to a tongueless disc harrow on which he was riding, and in crossing over the railroad grade near his home, the harrow ran onto the heels of the horses causing them to run. He was caught by the harrow and dragged some distance, and when picked up was found to be so badly cut in the back that the heart and lungs were exposed to view.

He was hurried to the office of Littlefield & Romig in Newberg where the wounds were dressed, after which he was taken to his home.

A VISIT TO NEWBERG CREAMERY

If you go at it right, agriculture is a very interesting study, especially the side shows connected with it. Wednesday morning the class from the high school, thirty strong, with Prof. Lauener in the lead, paid a visit to the Newberg creamery. Mr. Dorn was very kind, and told us the interesting things in connection with butter making.

When the cream is brought in it is emptied into a large vat for the pasteurizing process. This vat is equipped with pipes placed in spiral form for heating the cream.

The big barrel churn was pretty full of little golden balls of butter, and it certainly looked good. A large tank holds the buttermilk. Mr. Dorn tested a sample of cream to show how it was done, and then went into another room, where the butter is cut and wrapped.

Of course, the business would not have been complete without a few minutes in the cold storage rooms. B-r-r! it was cold. We all decided that people needn't be afraid to buy butter from the Newberg Creamery. M. M. '14.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. O. P. Barrick will open what will be known as the Yamhill Private Sanatorium in Newberg, in the near future. The Sanatorium will be equipped first class and up-to-date in every respect. The services given will be such as to make the Sanatorium an institution worthy of the name and an honor to the city. The prices will be such as will accommodate the poor as well as the wealthy. All will receive first class attention.

All kinds of baths will be given for different diseases. Special attention will be given to the exercise of nervous patients and diabetics and invalid feeding.

Mrs. O. P. Barrick.

SPECIAL STUNTS FOR ROSE DAY

Aside from the program given elsewhere of events for Saturday, it will be well to note the following:

The baby parade is expected to start from the Oregon Hardware Company at 10 o'clock in the morning and the general parade from the public school grounds at 10:30.

In the afternoon there will be a ball game on the college campus between the Chemawa Indians and the college team. Take a day off and have the time of your life.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

You can't be out of doors when you sweep your carpets with a broom. The dirt and dust and germs can't run away and hide when you take the broom down to do the sweeping. You stir these up; they fill the air in the room; you suck them in with each breath you take. That's dangerous. You swat the fly because it does not "wipe its feet." Burn the broom. It is just as deadly as the fly. A vacuum cleaner is an eye protector, a nose protector, a throat protector, a chest protector, a home protector, a health protector. Ask your doctor.

ANNOUNCEMENT

V. V. Gould has purchased the jewelry stock of A. E. Wilson, and is prepared to serve the people with the best in watches, jewelry and repairing.
