W. C. Emerson was over from Forest Grove Wednesday in attendance at the funeral of G. H. Robinson. He formerly lived in Newberg.

Mrs. Alberry George and little daughter were out from Portland over Sunday visiting with the little one's grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. George.

W. E. Crozer came in from Rosedale this morning to take work in the United States National Bank for a time in order to give some of the fellows in the bank a vacation.

The Newberg Transfer Co. has been running the auto truck, making daily trips to and from Turner during the week, carrying passengers to the big conference of the Christian church.

Rev. Joseph Hall was showing in town to-day some fine samples of Climax plums, one of Burbank's new productions. They are of enormous size, a very nice wine color and of fine flavor.

F. R. Rundell having been born at Chautauqua, New York, and also having been on the ground when the Chautauqua "corner stone" was laid, is easily the Chautauqua nestor for this section.

Sargeant Merit Wells of the Portland police force came out from the city Saturday to spend a couple of days with Mrs. Wells and little daughter, who are visiting at the home of S. A. Mills.

Tom Belcher, for many years a Portland policeman, passed through Newberg on last Saturday morning on the way to his boyhood home at LaFayette to celebrate the ninety-first birthday anniversary of his father.

Prof. Walter Ricks, superintendent of the schools at Pasco, Washington, for the past five years, was here in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Jake Taylor last Thursday. Walter Kirk, a former Newberg man, is chairman of the school board at Pasco.

Mrs. A. T. Blair and her daughter, Miss Laura, who went to Calgary a week ago, write home that Marvin is slowly improving, but that the physician tells them it will be two months before he will be able to come home.

Marshal Graham circulated a subscription paper Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of raising some money to assist George W. Crites, on account of his recent fire loss, and easily collected something more than $200 in cash. He said that people gave gladly.

S. Lewis Hanson, of the Portland force of letter carriers, who is off on a vacation, was here visiting with relatives Tuesday. He is one of the steady going fellows who can be depended on and this was the kind of a record he made when he was a student in Pacific College.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Parker came home from their Morrow county wheat ranch the first of the week where they spent several days. They say harvesting is in full swing over there and the crop fairly good, though hardly up to the reports that have been sent out, as they see it.

Brack Johnson and family arrived here last Sunday from Shasta County, California, and have located near H. A. Hyde on Seventh street. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Hyde are sisters. The Johnsons formerly lived in Eastern Oregon but for several years have been living in California.

Friday morning last, when W. J. Wilson came to his confectionery store, he found a lively tarantula in the window waiting to greet him. It had probably journeyed in a bunch of bananas from farther south. He "corralled" the "vermin" and presented it to the museum of Pacific College.

Eleanor Mitchell had a picnic party last Thursday, July 9, under the trees on the dormitory grounds in honor of her seventh birthday anniversary. Among those who "blew out" the candles on the cake were, Helen and Wilma Evans, Phebe LaPlante, Margery, Randal and Carrol Palmer, Eleanor and Louise Mitchell, Bennie Huntington and quite a number of grown ups. All report having had a pleasant time.

Dr. T. W. Hester and Walter Fortune went on a fishing trip on the Willamette above Wheatland, the first of the week, and say they saw bass in a slough that were entirely too big for the tackle they had with them, though they got two very nice ones weighing three pounds.

Mrs. W. E. Allison on Wednesday received information of the death of her brother, Herman Coy, at his home at Monkland, Sherman County. He was harrowing and a tug broke, causing a double tree to fly back and hit him in the stomach, causing his death. The young man was about twenty-two years old.

President and Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Hull and Alexander Hull headed a big auto truck party that went to Gladstone Wednesday, where they gave a Pacific College program of an hour. They report a successful trip, though the closing of the bridge at Oregon City at night for repairs made it necessary for them to return by way of Portland.

Almost every day one or more men get off the trains coming from Portland and inquire for the Dr. Mallory place across the river, where more than forty men are at work cutting brush and cord wood. Some of the men last a day or two and some longer. The railroad catches them coming and going and of course the employment agency in Portland gets a slice.

A. R. Mills left here Monday morning for the heavy timbered district in the Coast Mountains west of Eugene where he will act as fire warden again during the dry season. He went well supplied with fishing tackle and fire arms and will not lack for fresh meat during his isolation. He says he also finds an abundance of fruit and berries on the abandoned ranches along the streams where the settlers have sold out their timber claims and left.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cottle, of Carlton, who passed through Newberg Tuesday, stopped at the Graphic office for a few minutes' chat. Mr. Cottle was Newberg's first hardware merchant, his store being located on Center street on the present site of Luther Newlin's residence. He sold out to J. B. Mount along about 1890, who built up the business and has continued in the same line ever since. Mr. Cottle has lived at Carlton for several years and is now a member of the city council.

The body of G. H. Robinson was brought to Newberg from Salem Wednesday morning for burial. The deceased lived in Newberg at one time, but for several years had lived in the Hopewell neighborhood. He had been in failing health for several months and his mind failed to such an extent a short time ago he was committed to the hospital for the insane where he died.

John Haywood and Miss Elizabeth Garrett, of London, England, arrived at Dundee last Saturday after a voyage of five days on the ocean and nine days across the continent. Miss Garrett is a niece of Fred Barrell Jr. and the only relative he has in America. She will visit for a while before she takes up any trade. Mr. Haywood is a litho graphic printer and will look for an opening to begin his trade.

Prof. Curtis P. Coe, of McMinnville College, who is the prohibition candidate for congress in this district, made a street talk from an automobile in Newberg one evening last week in the interest of his candidacy. One Jack Frost, the driver of the machine, also spoke for prohibition, and in his reference to prohibition in Kansas "drew fire" from a bystander, a stranger in town who seemed to be very much wrought up over the prospect of Oregon going dry.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the illness, and after the death of our beloved wife and mother.

We are also very grateful for the many beautiful floral offerings.

In All Professions Men are Striving to be More Proficient in order to do more and give better service.

See this lens, it is almost flat, rays of light coming from side or back are reflected from it back into the eyes, thus bothering vision and hurting the eye.

Notice the curve on this lens, it fits up close to the eye, so forms to the eye, gives the eye a larger field of vision and cuts out reflection.

Remember if your eyes are troubling you, you will get better satisfaction from us than in Portland for we have the best instruments, take a personal interest in you, and are right here so you can run in from time to time and have your glasses readjusted.

NOTICE

I have a client (a resident of Portland) who owns a very choice 59 acre tract only $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile from Newberg, also a nearly new, thoroughly modern 10 room house and 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land within the city limits of Newberg. Both of these properties are very desirable and must be sold at once and, in order to effect ready sale will sell at a very low price and give the easiest kind of terms or will consider exchanging the above properties for Portland property or for good mortgages.

Those interested in the above should communicate with the undersigned who will be glad to give full information regarding the properties and will come to Newberg at any time to talk business.
