NEWBY-NEWLIN WEDDING

A quiet wedding occurred at Springbrook last Sunday afternoon, when Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Newlin gave their daughter, Clarice J., in marriage to Mr. Ross A. Newby. In keeping with the beautiful day, the interior of the rooms was neatly arrayed with ferns and pretty autumn leaves with a leafy arbor arranged in one corner of the room, where the young people stood while taking the marriage vows.

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock Miss Myrtle Newby, a sister of the groom, struck up the strains of the wedding march, and the contracting parties, led by Rev. Walter H. Wilson, the pastor at Springbrook, took their places in the presence of about forty immediate relatives and friends, and the marriage covenant was solemnized.

A nice array of useful gifts testified to the esteem and best wishes of the donors.

Both of these young people are members of the Friends church at Springbrook, and long time residents of Springbrook community. The groom is a graduate of Pacific College, class of '12. They are to begin house-keeping on the Thomas Miles farm, north of Newberg, where they will be at home to their friends.

COLLEGE NOTES

The local foot ball team was defeated last Saturday on the local field by the fast Pacific University eleven by the score of 21-0. The score could not be said to show the relative strength of the two teams, as the local team had the ball on the visitors' one foot line when the final whistle blew. The last quarter was cut short by agreement of the two captains in order that the visitors might catch the train. The university team showed their superiority in forward passes and end runs, but the college lads were able to advance the ball on line plunges. The Forest Grove aggregation was much surprised in meeting as much opposition as they did. They expected to run up a much larger score.

The Indian entertainment which was given last Friday night in Wood-Mar Hall was quite successful. An interesting and instructive program was witnessed by a good-sized and appreciative audience. About $30.00 was realized as a starter on the new piano fund.

Miss Lewis gave an interesting chapel talk Tuesday morning on California. The main conclusion she reached was that we Oregonians do not sing our own praises enough. "It pays to advertise."

At a called meeting on Tuesday of this week the student body agreed to take part in the "Oregon Dry" parade which is to be held Saturday night down town. A committee was appointed to arrange for a representation.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting this week was held on the athletic field. Several short talks were given. The social committee served ice cream cones.

The annual Halloween social will be held Friday evening, October 30. The committee are making elaborate arrangements and promise a very enjoyable affair.

The foot ball game which was to have been played this coming Saturday with Albany College has been called off by the latter. Manager Miles is trying to arrange to meet the Presbyterians later in the season.

The Agoretton and Trefan literary societies are well under headway for the year. The interest is good, and some very interesting meetings are being held. They are assisting in the monthly concerts which are being given by the music department in the interest of the piano fund.

HIGH SCHOOL.

On last Thursday morning Mr. Woodruff, of the Oregon State Manufacturer's Association, spoke to us on the coming State Manufacturer's Exposition which is to be held in Portland. He outlined the programs for the different days and urged all the students possible to be present.

Last Saturday the foot ball boys went to Forest Grove and played a 0 to 0 game with the Grove H. S. boys. On election day the boys are to play a town team, on the college grounds.

The students interested in the State debate work, are going to have a preliminary tryout, Thursday night.

The High School now has the largest enrollment it has ever had, there being 217 students at the present date.

DUNDEE

R. W. Swink is visiting his brother in Lebanon.

Harry Belt, Republican candidate for circuit judge, was in town on Tuesday.

Nathan Lundquist and family have moved to Sherwood.

There will be a Sunday School Temperance Program in the church or Sunday evening.

Virgil Conlee, formerly of Dundee, and Miss Amanda Johnson, of Grants Pass, were married recently. They will make their home at Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittman are re-joining over the arrival of a boy.

Mrs. Mary Broadwell who has been visiting in Newberg for some time, has returned in time of vote.

Thomas Phelps and family, of Newberg, are visiting Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Alford.

A party of Mazamas came out to Dundee on Sunday and took a walk to the hills southwest of town.

Dr. Bishop who was injured when thrown from the train near Rex on Saturday evening when he and his family were returning from Portland, is slightly improved. Dr. Bishop's little daughter was thrown off her feet at the same time but was standing far enough from the door to save herself.

Mrs. E. S. Greer is spending a few days in Portland.

It is expected that Miss Alice Adams, Republican candidate for county treasurer, will be in Dundee on Friday and will address the women of the city at 4:15 at Groth Hall. In case the date is changed notice will be posted in various places. It is to be hoped that all the women of the district will attend the meeting, regardless of political affiliations, as it is the first time that a woman has been a candidate for a county office in Yamhill County. This time there are two and it would be well to hear their speeches and consider the advisability of giving them support regardless of party connections.

EASTERN VISITOR FEARS FREAKISH LAWS

"How is it possible for the Oregon voter to digest all of the mass of legislation that is to be on your ballot here, so that he can vote intelligently when the election comes," remarked an Eastern tourist who is making a leisurely trip along the Pacific Coast and who has been stopping in Portland for the past week. "I believe in your initiative and referendum in this state, but they are being over-worked and the result will be, I imagine, that they will break down of their own weight."

"One thing that strikes me as a weakness in the initiative law of Oregon, is the fact that any dreamer, any freak, or any man with a grievance, can proceed to put his peculiar ideas on the ballot in the shape of a bill for the people to vote on. This is absolutely wrong and its unfair to the voter to be compelled to differentiate between such a mass of proposed legislation."

"There are measures on the ballot to be voted on next month, that I think are utterly destructive of the prosperity and progress of the state. For instance, there is the Constitutional Amendment affecting tide lands and river foreshore, numbered, I believe, 328 and a companion bill number 330. If these laws are passed, in my judgment, there will be no more factory building in Oregon of those plants that find it necessary to have access to the water front. Washington state will be an immense gainer if the people of Oregon pass these two measures. Prospective builders of saw mills and all kinds of factories that want to get on the water front will simply go over to Washington and build up their industries."

"Then there is the $1500.00 Tax Exemption Amendment. That's a freakish law and will keep people out of Oregon. And the Eight-Hour Law and the law giving work to the unemployed, and a whole host of propositions that seems to me a sane people would never consider."

"I had it in mind that some day I wanted to come back to Oregon and live, but I would hesitate to bring my little fortune into a state where the people abuse such a good thing as direct legislation by loading the ballot with all sorts of cranky, foolish measures."

Ann, the Fan.

Little Anna's father was a baseball enthusiast and had taken her to several games. One Sunday morning they went to church. Anna was not much interested in the sermon until the minister warmed up to his subject and the older men near the pulpit began to shout, "Amen," "Hallelujah," etc. On the way home she looked up at her father and exclaimed, "Say, Pop, who were the men up front rooting for the preacher?"
