$1.50 Per Year in Advance

THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1915

Encourage one of the paying industries of the country by attending the poultry show in Newberg next week.

The bravery of President Wilson is unquestioned. He has turned the woman suffrage delegation down the sixth time.

If the officials of the Portland Automobile Show would spend just a little money with the country newspapers instead of trying to work them for free advertising entirely they would get better results.

Possibly we may have to send for a rain maker before the winter is over. The rainfall during the month of December was only 3.22 inches, this being 4.05 inches short of normal for this month, and so far during January the weather man has failed to get down to an old time soaker.

The holiday edition of the Rural Spirit, which is an excellent number, contains an article from the pen of N. C. Maris on "The Boy and the Girl on the Farm" in which he tells how to interest young people, and keep them on the farm, rather than to drift to the city. It is well worth reading.

Without the yellow legged chicken when the preacher comes how the reputation of the family for old time hospitality would suffer, don't you know. Help the hen to hold her place by patronizing the poultry show next week.

The Graphic had intended to publish a list of the names of those who are contributing to the Belgian Relief fund, but so far we have been unable to get anything like a complete list. If the various committees will furnish a written list of those they know who have made contributions we will be glad to publish the same next week.

When practically all the outside help that had been expected to swell the college endowment fund at the close of the campaign failed to show up, it was a sure failure unless the home people took "The Lark and the Farmer" view of the situation and made a second rally, which they did, and the day was won, for the word sent all along the line and repeated over and over again was that this effort must not fail. When the list of those who contributed is read at the big celebration meeting to be held at Wood-Mar Hall on Friday night, it will be seen that a surprisingly large number of people are interested in the future success of Pacific College.

The "Willamette Amateur Athletic Club" has been organized with Bert Miller as president and Chester Zumalt, secretary. The purpose is to interest the boys and young men of the different Sunday schools of Newberg in clean, healthful entertainment. The hall over Porter's store has been rented for a gymnasium and it is expected that when sufficient funds can be raised it will be fitted up in an attractive way to interest and entertain the members. It is a splendid movement and should have the encouragement of all who have the good of the boys of Newberg at heart. The club will hold a meeting at the Baptist church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and an invitation is extended to the boys to attend.

At the breaking out of the Civil War it was a common remark on both sides that it would be but a "breakfast spell," for each thought they could and would lick the other in short order, but a four years' bloody conflict was the result. When the European war suddenly startled the world a few months ago, many of us thought it could not possibly last very long with so many of the big nations involved, but still the killing goes on and money seems to be forthcoming for the prosecution of the great conflict. When the end will come and what the ultimate result will be is mere guess work at this time.

HINTS FOR WINTER HEALTH

How You Should Eat and Care For the Body During the Winter.

By Dr. R. R. Daniels.

It is quite possible to have just as good health during the winter as any other time of the year. All that is necessary is good care. Our eating is of extreme importance during cold weather, since at this time we need more food than at any other season, but at the same time we should avoid overeating. Too much food is productive of even more harm than too little food.

The Heat Producers.

In cold weather we need considerably more fat food; most persons do not eat enough fat. However, in selecting our winter diet, we should avoid foods that are difficult to digest, consequently, we should not use fried foods, but should get our fats in butter, cream, olive oil, bacon and other fat meats. Fats may be added as seasoning to any other foods after cooking, but not before cooking. Sweets are also valuable fuel foods; but like the fats, they should not be cooked into other foods. The sweets we get from fruits, especially dried fruits, are the most wholesome.

Vegetables Are Valuable.

Most persons fail to get sufficient vegetables during cold weather. Green vegetables are as valuable for food as meat and potatoes, since they contain the chemical salts by means of which the impurities of the body are eliminated. If you want to avoid rheumatism, catarrh, and many of the spring disorders, keep your body free from waste material during the winter by eating plenty of vegetables, including raw vegetables, if possible.

Fresh Air.

We need more fresh air during the winter than during the summer. Our living rooms should have a thorough airing several times a day, and our bedroom windows should be thrown wide open at night. Woolen underwear, especially the heavy kind, is positively detrimental to health; it renders the skin sensitive to the cold. When we are indoors such underwear overheats the body and causes us to chill more easily when going out of doors. Light, cotton underwear, with heavy outside clothing, is best for winter.

WEST CHEHALEM

Miss Mable Goodrich, of Dayton, is a guest of Miss Margaret Blanchard.

DeVere and Virgil Fendall returned to O. A. C. after having spent Christmas vacation with relatives and friends.

Mrs. A. A. Noble accompanied her mother, Mrs. Helen Prosser, to Salem last Saturday and returned Sunday evening.

Mrs. Emma Patterson and Jack Kiln have been guests the past week at the B. F. Yergen home.

Mrs. Ray and daughter Florence, from Ray's landing, spent the latter part of Christmas week with Mrs. E. G. Fendall.

Miss Ella Macy spent New Year Day with friends in Portland.

Helen Prosser, of Newberg, spent Sunday with Mrs. Joanna Davis.

Miss Ida Leach came out from Newberg and spent the latter part of Christmas week with her friends.

The young people of District No. 10 are busy preparing their program for the 15th of this month, which will be given at the time of the basket social.

S. M. Calkins and family, Miss Ella Macy, Lewis and Victor Amoth were entertained last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Tilda Hesgard.

Prof. Brown, of O. A. C., demonstrated pruning last Saturday in the large apple orchard. He gave some interesting and valuable facts to the men.

E. G. Fendall and family, Mrs. Ray and daughter Florence were entertained New Year Day by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Yergen.

Rev. H. G. Crocker, G. N. Hesgard, George Bush and their respective families were guests of Mrs. Tilda Hesgard last Sunday.

The Misses Ida Leach, Florence and Clara Calkins were entertained Friday night and Saturday at the home of Mrs. B. F. Yergen.

Chehalem Center and West Chehalem played their second game of basket ball in the Newberg High School building last Saturday. Twenty-three rooters accompanied the West Chehalem boys and all had a merry time. The game was very exciting with a score of 21 to 19 in favor of Chehalem Center.

The "Loyal Workers" class held a watch meeting at the church last Thursday evening. Miss Ella Macy was hostess of the occasion. The main feature of the entertainment was the representation of books. Of these many were given and carried out to the point. Miss Theresa Boyd received first prize, with Miss Margaret Smith close second—on guessing the titles of the different books. Forty-three were present. Miss Macy served oysters, salad, cakes and oranges. The watch meeting closed shortly after the ringing of the bell, with many congratulations to Miss Macy and with pleasant wishes and a happy New Year to all.

Don't Abbreviate States.

"Your letter to Napoleon village went wrong, eh?" said the postmaster. "Well, it's your own fault. You should have written out the name of the state in full." "Ah, what for?" snarled the complainant. "I put 'Tenn.' on the envelope. That couldn't be confused with any other state name." "How about 'Penn.?' said the postmaster. "Aren't 'Penn.' and 'Tenn.' a lot alike? Of course they are, and if people want their letters to go straight and prompt they ought always to write states out in full, for 'Cal.' and 'Col.' get confused continually; so do 'Nev.' and 'Neb.' 'N. Y.' and 'N. J.' 'Miss.' and 'Mass.' and 'Minn.' 'Pa.' and 'Va.' 'Me.' and 'Mo.'—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Past His Knowledge.

Having decreed that a woman must be polite to her husband, a learned judge immediately was accosted by one of the sex. "Your decision might fit some cases," she admitted, "but when the husband has forgotten to mail her letters, speaks unseemly of her mother and without warning brings a friend home to dinner." The judge, being a learned judge indeed, had had the presence of mind to adjourn court while the questions were being formulated. "Madam," he rejoined meekly, "I am now but a humble citizen and not entitled to an opinion."—Philadelphia Ledger.
