Mrs. Joseph Wilson went to McMinnville today to visit at the home of her son, C. B. Wilson, the county clerk.

J. T. Wilson, proprietor of a big second hand store and auction house in Portland was in Newberg on business Wednesday.

W. O. Robertson was out from Portland Sunday, and he and his brother Warren attended the funeral of Jacob Pence, at Dundee.

S. B. Cummins who was over from Carlton Wednesday said the growing wheat never looked better than it does at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dixon and little son were out from Portland Sunday, visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paulsen.

Rev. C. R. Shotto, of Wenatchee, Washington, was here on Friday of last week, visiting his former Iowa friend, Mr. Galt, of the First National Bank.

C. C. Hammerly, at one time editor and publisher of the News-Reporter at McMinnville, is out from Portland canvassing for subscriptions for the Evening Telegram.

O. G. Ballard has returned home from Idaho, where he has been working at the printers' trade, and will work in the auto garage recently bought by his father, W. R. Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Smith who recently sold their West Chelalem farm to a Portland man, left here the first of the week for Port Rock, Lake county, to look at the country with a view of locating.

A. E. Moore and Jasper Bales are in McMinnville today looking after a petition before the county court for the road out west of Newberg, which has been under consideration for many moons.

Eli D. Miller, of Evansville, Indiana, who was here a few months ago doing some furniture work at the sash and door factory, has returned and taken a short lease on the plant of the Newberg Manufacturing & Construction Company. He has a patent which he says he will work on in the interval.

Mrs. Will Vestal is down from Salem on business.

O. G. Bates was down from the county seat on business Wednesday.

Miss Laura Blair came out from Portland to eat Easter chicken pie at the home of her parents.

Mrs. J. C. Colcord spent a few days last week visiting with her sister, Mrs. L. H. Shirley, at Hillsboro.

An old friend of A. P. Wallen, of Springbrook, named Dewey, was down from Dallas last week on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones, of Portland, were over Sunday visitors at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna M. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Shell were out from Portland as Sunday visitors at the R. J. Moore home on south Meridian street.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Ray Pemberton, of Salem, were visitors at the L. M. Parker home from Saturday evening until Sunday evening.

Mrs. James Clemenson and Mrs. Alderman and daughter Olga are up from Portland visiting the E. L. Evans family and other relatives.

H. A. Hyde, although one of the old G. A. R. veterans, has been able to shake off a two-weeks siege of pneumonia and thinks he will soon be as good as new.

Since becoming a farmer H. M. Williams is able to own a dog. At least a pup was perched on the wagon seat with him Monday morning when he left for his new ranch above McMinnville.

Dr. E. P. Dixon is going to move out to his fruit ranch above Dundee, and his brother, Dr. H. C. Dixon, who has had charge of the place, will move into town and take charge of the dental office.

Mrs. H. J. Macdonald and little son, Kenneth, were here from Spokane the first of the week visiting her mother, Mrs. S. M. King, who went with her to Portland on her return Wednesday morning.

Two horse buyers visited Newberg recently and another is billed to come on next Tuesday. The first one bought five head, but the last one who came made no purchases. It is supposed that they are buying for the war market.

Mrs. M. Steurnagel, of Portland, is spending the week with former Minnesota friends, the Behnkes, Northrops and Otis. She and Mrs. Bass's oldest daughter, now Mrs. Campbell, of Ashland, Wisconsin, were partners in a millinery establishment in Tracy, Minnesota, over 30 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoskins arrived home from their California trip on Tuesday and say they had a very enjoyable time. They saw both the big fairs without being crowded for elbow room, the attendance being very slim. Two weeks spent at San Diego gave them a very favorable impression of the buildings and grounds, which they say are very pretty, and while not on so large a scale as the San Francisco fair, caught their particular fancy. Besides visiting their son-in-law, Prof. F. K. Jones and family at Santa Paula, they saw many friends at Whittier and Berkeley.

Chris Smith has gone to Astoria to work in a lumber camp.

Those who attended the Palmer-Palmer wedding at Dundee on Wednesday say it was a very jolly reception they had following the ceremony, something after the old time after-wedding event—and to further follow the custom of other days the Graphic editor was remembered with a liberal supply of cake.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wylie and two young daughters arrived here from Chico, California, on Monday and have located for the present in the A. M. Bray property on North Meridian street. They formerly lived at Star, Idaho, but have been casting about for the past year to find a location where Mr. Wylie can be free from asthma.

D. W. Stainbrook, manager of the C. C. Store, having decided to enter the merchandising business on his own account, has tendered his resignation, and as a consequence the Carters, of Vancouver, who own the stock, have decided to close it out and retire from this field. Mr. Stainbrook says he has two or three points in view, but has not fully decided which he will take for a business point.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edward Lewis, editor and associate editor of the Bryantville, (Mass.) News, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hitchen. They have been touring the Pacific Coast, visiting San Diego, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and San Francisco and other interesting places and will return home shortly via Seattle, Victoria, Vancouver and the Canadian Rockies after a most delightful trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Edwards were out from Tillamook the first of the week on a visit. They said Tillamook county was preparing to spend a large sum of money this season on road work, some of which will be hard surfacing. Tillamook knows how to pull the legs of the owners of timber lands at tax gathering time and this is where the larger part of the "good roads" money comes from.

H. K. Jenkins, of Indiana, the father-in-law of Mr. Tower who bought the M. P. Elliott farm, is here, with a daughter on a visit. He is delighted with Newberg as a "saloon-less" town. The daughter has been a pilot on a steamboat on the lower Mississippi river for fifteen years and is out for rest and recuperation. The boat she handles belongs to the family and they are engaged in the gravel business.

At a meeting of the city council held Monday night W. S. Wharton tendered his resignation as city treasurer, but no appointment was made to fill the vacancy. It was decided to fix the bonds of the treasurer in the future at $15,000, the city to pay half the cost of the premium. N. F. Byers was granted the privilege of adding an upper story to his building on First street occupied by E. W. Mueller, the tailor, who desires an upper chamber for a sewing room.

John J. Sutton, formerly of Newberg, writes from Preston, Kansas, where he went to care for his father who is very sick, that with the exception of being confined in the sick room he is having a big time eating chicken dinners with his friends. He says the farmers there are prosperous and are jubilant over the prospect of a big wheat crop the coming season. He says he is still in love with Oregon and will return, coming by way of San Francisco to see the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Gage, the parents of Mrs. C. R. Duer, arrived here from Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday for their semi-annual visit. Mr. Gage is an enthusiastic baseball fan and he makes it a point to get out each season in time for the opening game at Portland.

As Newberg's authorized dog catcher G. O. Keeney is proving to be a howling success. He says besides turning into the city treasury more than seventy dollars in licenses, he has sent several canines to that bourne from which no "Fido" has ever been known to return.

Mrs. Lydia King who would have been ninety years of age had she lived until August, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna E. Hall, on North School street, at the hour of noon on last Sunday. The deceased was born at Aurora, New York, and was a lineal descendant of the noted Adams family, of the early history making days of our country. Funeral services were conducted at the Hollingsworth chapel on Monday afternoon.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

On Tuesday afternoon of this week Mrs. S. J. Madison gave a very pleasant surprise to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Karen Madison, by inviting several of her friends in to celebrate her eighty-fifth birthday. Many pleasant happenings of other days were renewed in which old as well as young were absorbed until the serving of dainty refreshments.

The guests were Mesdames Soren Nelson, Chris Jensen, John Clemenson, James Clemenson, Eli Evans, Ben Evans, Margaret Thurston, Alderman and the Misses Olga Alderman, Helen Wilma and Adelphe Evans.

CLOSING NUMBER LYCEUM COURSE

Dr. Green at Wood-Mar Hall Friday night, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. Secure your seats at Kienle's Music Store.

DUNDEE

To out-Dundee Dundee is certainly a noteworthy achievement, but that is what happened on Friday at the sale and supper given in Groth Hall.

Dundee is recognized as an unusually friendly community and that characteristic was never more marked than on this occasion, when aprons and needlework for the sale, good things for supper, and decorations for the hall were brought in from all sections of the community. And the gathering itself just one big family enjoying a reunion.

The hall was transformed from a plain lodge room into a reception room beautifully decorated in white, green and yellow and further adorned with the articles for sale. Of the latter the aprons were most in evidence, six dozens of them, for all tastes and occasions. The little, dainty afternoon and sewing aprons were soon all sold out, then the capable salesladies turned their attention to the more ordinary ones, and so successful were their efforts that before the evening was over all their goods had been sold. Several of the gentlemen present were becomingly bedecked in gingham of various hues. Mayor Devore expressed the only adverse criticism heard during the evening when he complained that all the strings were too short. Evidently he is of the opinion that all apron strings should be long enough to tie to some man. The needlework department was unusually attractive in the variety of articles displayed. All the goods from this counter were sold with the exception of a few small ones.

Miss Sophie Groth assisted by some of the high school girls presided over the "shooting gallery" and so popular was this corner that it was the center of merriment all the evening.

The candy booth presided over by Miss Gussie Crawford and Mrs. John Herring was a close rival to the shooting gallery in popularity. Water color sketches, mottoes, beautiful baskets, rabbits, and Easter eggs added to the attractiveness of the home-made candy and made this booth one of the prettiest of its kind ever seen. The Girls' Literary Club, whose members are girls from the intermediate grades in school, had an interesting display of needlework that brought forth much surprised and pleased comment. Their wares were all gone early in the evening. The club quilt with its thirty-nine names embroidered upon it and the quilt donated by Mrs. J. P. Powell were sold at auction as were also some of the cakes, pies and other goodies left from the refreshment counter. (Speaking of pies—those lemon pies decorated by a real confectioner were the envy of every woman present. If chickens and gardens, house cleaning and spring sewing are neglected in your home during the next few weeks you will know the reason why. Your cooks will be in the kitchen experimenting with meringue, a la those sale pies.) Everywhere one goes in the community are heard praises for that cafeteria supper. The baked ham, roast beef, escalloped potatoes, baked beans and Boston brown bread, hot cross buns, salads, and all the other good things were offered at a very reasonable price and everywhere were heard expressions of satisfaction concerning the cooking and serving. During the supper hour music was furnished by Messrs. Kienle, of Newberg, who brought out a Victrola for the occasion giving their services for the good of the cause. The thanks of the Dundee Woman's Club is hereby extended to the gentlemen for their courtesy. After supper a short informal program consisting of two piano solos by Miss Bernice Keyes, readings by Miss Alice B. Bingham, two solos by request by Mrs. John Devore, and selections by the High School quartette were enjoyed. The official report of the secretary has not been received but somewhere in the neighborhood of one hundred and twenty-five or thirty dollars will be added to the auditorium fund from the evening's entertainment. The ladies wish to express their sincere thanks to the friends from afar who sent in articles for the sale and to those of their own community who assisted in so many ways toward the success of the evening. Friends from Portland, Newberg, Dayton and LaPayette were present and expressed themselves as well pleased.

Messrs. Bland Herring and Boley Edwards who have been on the sick list, are improving.

James O. Spencer, of Portland, is visiting his sister, Mrs. C. J. S. Greer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robertson came out to spend the week-end with the home folk.

Mr. and Mrs. Swink were Portland visitors on Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Swink had the honor of carrying to Mr. Bowers the Easter box from his Dundee friends and neighbors. Mr. Bowers is recovering from his accident of a few weeks ago, but, owing to the nature of the illness, recovery will be slow.

Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Simms, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Van Blaricom, and Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Van Blaricom were Newberg friends who came to the sale on Friday.

Miss Bessie Leslie, of Portland, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson.

Dwight Alderman and his cousin, Urie Alderman, of Dayton, spent Easter with their aunt, Mrs. Frank Hubbard, of Falls City, helping her to celebrate her birthday.

Frank Keyes went to Salem on Thursday to do a little work on his prune orchard there.

The remains of Jacob Pence, a brother-in-law of Charles Robertson, were brought to Dundee on Saturday. The funeral was held on Easter Sunday and the remains interred in the Dundee cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Hillsinger were in Portland Saturday to meet their son Dwight who has returned from a cruise to European countries. They returned on Sunday and on Monday Dwight again took up his school work. He is attending the college at McMinnville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lehman, of Talent, Oregon, announce the arrival of a son, Delwin Ralph, born on March thirty-first.

Mrs. Cyrene Palmer, of Dundee, and A. J. Palmer, of Newberg, were married at the home of the bride at high noon on Wednesday, April seventh, Rev. Whitely, of Newberg, officiating. The best wishes of all the community are extended to the happy couple.

Prof. Schaffer, who occupies the chair of history at the State University, will lecture at the Dundee school house Friday evening April 9. His subject will be "Oregon and the Pacific Northwest."

WEST CHELALAM

Miss Grace Hopkins is making an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. B. P. Yergen.

Edwin Anderson has been quite sick the past week, but is much better now.

Lewis and Victor Amoth spent Sunday at the home of their sister, Mrs. Tilda Hesgard.

Mrs. Harry Baker and son Ernest arrived home from California the past week.

Mrs. Sherwood, of Portland, is visiting with the Sherwood family of this place.

Mr. Wanless and the Misses Wanless, from the Phin Smith place, were out to church Sunday getting acquainted with their new neighbors.

Ladys Hesgard was a Sunday guest of Ethel Bush.

Dewey Noble is attending district No. 10 again. Her old schoolmates were glad to welcome her back.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Yergen and family, Miss Hopkins, Lois and Kenneth—Pendall were entertained last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Anderson.

The hand boys are going to have a basket social at the school house Saturday night at 8 o'clock. They will give a musical entertainment before selling the baskets. Ladies are requested to come and bring their baskets. Everyone is welcome.
