Mr. Snipes is active for one of his years and took an interest in getting around while here to see what we have at Newberg.

Gopher and Squirrel Exterminator

Non-Poisonous

Non-Explosive

DIRECTIONS FOR USING

Comet Gas Balls

Light the ball and when it is burning well let it roll down the burrow, then immediately plug the mouth of the burrow tight enough so that no gases can escape.

COMET GAS BALLS act by burning up the air in the burrow and replacing it with poisonous gases. The average burrow contains 1.43 cubic feet. Each Comet Gas Ball will generate sufficient poisonous gases to poison the air in a space containing 10 cubic feet, thus assuring a large excess of poisonous gases.

The gases generated by Comet Gas Balls are not poisonous unless confined, so that should they be inhaled in the open air, no harm will result. Comet Gas Balls are non-poisonous if eaten; they must be burned in a confined space to develop their poisonous properties.

Comet Gas Balls are non-poisonous, non-explosive, inexpensive, and always ready for use. COMET GAS BALLS are positive in action, can be used successfully at any season while the burrows are open, and the Gopher must take the dose whether he wants to or not.
