Miss Metta Brown, an instructor in voice at Portland, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Moore over Sunday.

Ed. Piper, the pioneer railway mail clerk, is handling a number of boils, "this side up with care" these days, and is doing his work standing.

Miss Jessie Britt visited last Sunday with her former schoolmate, Miss Clara Vaughan, at Lents, they having graduated from Pacific College in the same class.

Lowell Edwards, of Tillamook, spent Monday in Newberg and in the evening went to Portland to join the rest of the family in a trip to San Francisco to see the fair.

L. M. H. Elliott who is president of a bank at Alba, Missouri, is here in company with his wife and daughter spending a few days at the home of his brother, Milo P. Elliott.

Miss Ida Woods has just received announcement of the marriage of Miss Effie Bell Vantress, who was here a few days ago, to Charles Everett Barker, of San Francisco, on July 25.

Miss Emma Langworthy with her sisters, Mrs. Charles A. Dunbar and Mrs. J. W. Anderson and also Mrs. Lewis Anderson and children started this Thursday for the San Francisco fair.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Matthews, of Pendleton, with the former's sister and little girl from Missouri, made a stop in Newberg Saturday while on their way by auto to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ringrose, of Hancock, Minnesota, who have been visiting at various points on the coast the past three months, are in town this week, the guests of W. H. Hitchen and Mrs. Esther P. Hitchen.

W. W. Hollingsworth was called to LaFayette Sunday to take charge of the funeral of Thomas Dye Cundiff, who resided in Newberg several years ago. He was born in the state of Virginia, and was 85 years of age.

Morris Heacock and family and E. M. Heacock arrived here last Saturday, the former from Tillamook and the latter from Portland, on account of the illness of their brother, Neal Dow Heacock who has been confined to his home for several months.

Earl Baird and Walter Bartlett left last week equipped for a hike on foot over the Coast Mountains. On Tuesday a letter was received from them written at Blaine saying they were feasting royally on fish but that the task of doing the cooking was wearing. They expected to go from there to Pacific City at the seaside.

Everett Heacock who lives in Portland, phoned the news of the arrival of an 8-pound girl at their home this Thursday morning.

A. O. Mosier, of Canyon City, visited here the first of the week with his wife's parents, Rev. and Mrs. George Round. Mr. Mosier is treasurer of Grant county.

The J. Sherman Taylor family were guests at the L. S. Otis home Sunday and the two families enjoyed a picnic at the locks. Mr. Taylor is assistant manager of the Multnomah Box Co. of Portland.

Mrs. Mallissa Jane Murphy, who was here from the East, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd, on Wednesday, at the age of 67 years. The funeral was conducted from the home Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

I. E. Holt took Mrs. Hiram Gould, Vernon Gould, Katherine Romig and Harold Moore down to Portland Monday evening in his machine to hear one of the concerts at The Oaks given by the well known band of John Philip Sousa.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorman, of Indianapolis, Indiana, who are out on a three months' trip, arrived here Sunday morning and are visiting the latter's uncle, L. M. Parker and family. They go from here to attend the California fairs.

The G. A. R. and W. R. C. will have a picnic on Wednesday, August 4, in the city park. All members are urged to come with well filled baskets and bring their families and enjoy the day with us. An interesting program will be given in the afternoon.

Prof. M. D. Hawkins went to Salem one day last week by steamer, taking along his canoe. After visiting with friends in that city and at Rosedale he paddled down the river on the return trip Monday in the canoe, arriving at seven in the evening. He now knows better than ever before how to appreciate Sam L. Simpson's poem, "Beautiful Willamette."

President Pennington wishes it stated, to avoid possible embarrassment on both sides, that the machine recently purchased is of limited capacity, and he cannot accommodate all his friends at once. A garden wheelbarrow, even of the excellent quality sold by Newberg dealers, will not carry very many passengers at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bedle, of Spokane, Washington, visited in Newberg between trains on last Friday, at the Behnke home on North College street. Mr. Bedle was formerly cashier of the First National Bank of Tracy, Minnesota, but for the past three years has held a more lucrative position with the Washington Trust Co.'s Bank in Seattle.

J. F. Pettengill who spent about four months in California, is at home again. He left San Francisco at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning on the Steamer Great Northern and at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening he arrived in Newberg, thus making very quick passage. He says the big steamer ploughs through the breakers, not deigning to ride over them, and consequently does little plunging to upset the stomachs of passengers while making great speed.

Silas Hanson and T. H. Gardner who were working on the roof of the latter's barn out on the farm one day last week received a severe shaking up by a fall. The staging they were on gave way, allowing them to slide about ten feet and then fall twenty feet to the ground. Mr. Gardner was not much hurt, but Mr. Hanson fell on a wagon box face down and was considerably bruised, though he is able to be out again. Considering the distance they fell they were very fortunate in getting off with so little injury.

Miss Nevada Kiethline, of La Porte, Indiana, who is touring the West, is the guest of Rev. Charles O. Whitely and family this week.

The Nebraska-Kansas picnic will be held, August 17 instead of Aug. 10, as advertised in Portland papers. Full report next week.

Mrs. G. H. Umbaugh, of Kelso, Washington, who has been visiting her mother and sisters here for two weeks, returned home Wednesday. Her niece, Geraldine Rundell, accompanied her for a month's visit.

Uncle Henry Mills would be glad for the party who visited his chicken house in the still hours of the night on two occasions recently, to return the Plymouth Rocks that have since failed to show up at feeding time.

While playing with some neighbor children Tuesday afternoon Lucile Ehret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ehret fell from a high fence and caught her right arm in such a way that both bones were broken just above the wrist.

Hon. Horace M. Clark and wife, of New Rockford, North Dakota, after a tour of the Southern States and a stop at the Exposition are now visiting with their nephew, Francis A. Morris, and his family for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will visit Seattle, enroute home, via the Great Northern.

Prof. Harlow Lindley, a nephew of Milton Newlin, who is head of the history department in Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana, has been here during the week on a visit, coming north from San Francisco where he saw the fair. On Tuesday afternoon the Newlin relatives gathered at the City Park and held a family gathering and fed on a big picnic dinner.

Pres. Levi T. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards and E. H. Woodward attended a picnic at Peninsular Park in Portland last Saturday evening, given by the Indiana Society, where they enjoyed meeting many former Indiana people. Pres. Pennington made one of his characteristic talks and was roundly cheered for the happy hits he made. Jeremiah Paulsell, of Portland, who is 99 years old, was in attendance and had the appearance of a well preserved man of not to exceed 75. His neighbors say he has the best garden of anyone in their community.

Some time ago C. D. Nairn, who lives in the vicinity of Ballston and who has been known all over the country for the past thirty years as a breeder of Scotch Collie dogs, offered through the Pacific Homestead a prize of a dog for the best written article on the subjects of dogs sent in by boys and girls. Geraldine, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rundell entered the contest by writing an essay and sending it in, and a few days ago she was informed that she had been awarded the prize. On Saturday the puppy arrived and is now getting acquainted with its new owner and the new surroundings.

On Tuesday evening Prof. M. D. Hawkins and E. H. Woodward went to Portland in company with Prof. Harlow Lindley, who is here from Richmond, Indiana, to take a trip up the Columbia in company with George H. Himes, assistant secretary of the Oregon Historical Society who was booked to show the beauties of the up-river scenery to a company of Eastern tourists. Prof. Lindley is doing historical work in connection with the Indiana State Library, and is also a member of the State Commission that has been appointed to make preparation for celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the admittance of Indiana into the Union, in 1916.

Jack Raynard, of Scholls, was in town Saturday exhibiting some fine specimens of wheat grown on his place. It is from seed he secured in eastern Washington and the heads are remarkably large and well filled out. The stalks are more than five feet tall and Jack says the entire four acres he has will average between five and six feet. He predicts it will run 60 bushels to the acre. Specimens will be sent to the San Francisco fair.—Hillsboro Independent.

ACCIDENTS

Perhaps we read of more accidents nowadays than ever happened in the world before. There's a lot of reasons for it. You hear of people drownin' jest 'cause they go foolin' round water clear up over their ears when they can't swim, and you hear of people gettin' run over by automobiles jest cause they don't jump quick enut when a feller toots his horn, and one thing and another till there's great gobs of people gettin' killed off every few days jest by accidents. Why my neighbor Zeb Riddle came near havin' a bad accident last week when he was settin' in his barn milkin'. He was jest settin' there chewin' tobacco and milkin' away on one of his gentlest cows when all of a sudden she whealed away with her right hind foot and kicked old Zeb in the lower jaw. If Zeb hadn't been made of good material it might have killed him. I told him not to take any more chances tho' 'cause the next time it might get him jest right and break his jaw all to pieces, and he'd better get right down there to "The Big Hardware Store" and get some of that Conkey's

Fly Knocker that the boys sell and kill the flies off his old cow and she wouldn't kick him any more. Zeb took my advice and he liked the stuff so well that he sprayed his horses and his old woman and there's no flies on Zeb's ranch now and I'm tellin' you there never will be as long as he shoots a little of that Conkey's Fly Knocker around on things. Zeb and me are goin' to take my old John Deere automobile and go to the Coast one of these days, I went down to Larkin-Prince and got a tank of gasoline last week and one of those 50 gallon tanks with a faucet in it that the boys sell for $3.75, and I bot a supply of fishin' tackle and a lot of campin' stuff off those 5 and 10c counters and a brand new tent and we're all ready to go. Them boys have got the stuff and it don't take a mint of money to get what yer need at that place either. They've got the stuff for the wimmin folk jest the same as they have for the men, aluminum cookin' vessels, that Wear-Ever kind that lasts till you die, and all kinds of little articles on them 5, 10 and 15c counters that the wimmin need around the house. If a man wants good merchandise, at popular prices and wants to be treated right all the time he needn't wear out sole leather goin' any further than Larkin-Prince Hdw. Co. 'cause them fellers know what kind of goods to buy and they know how to treat a feller right, too and that's why they're busy all the time sellin' goods to us fellers.

Notice To Horse Owners.

My German Coach stallion Pylos will be at Sherwood Mondays and Tuesdays, balance of time at Commercial Stable in Newberg. Call and investigate. J. W. Henry.
