The Friends Sunday School held a very enjoyable picnic on the college campus on Friday afternoon of last week. The ball game between the classes of Pres. Pennington and Rev. Chas. O. Whitely resulted in a victory for the latter. The way some of the members of the "spectacle class" made ringers in pitching horse shoes indicated that they had been some pitchers in their prime.

Prof. Walter E. Spahr who took a course at the Summer school at the University of California, returned to Newberg for a short visit the first of the week. On Monday evening he left for The Dalles with the intention of climbing Mount Hood if he should be able to join a mountain climbing party. He expects to spend Friday and Saturday in Newberg and then leave for his home at Centerville, Indiana.

Mrs. Henry McGuire Jr. writes from Dayton, Washington, telling of an accident that befell Lloyd Blanchard, son of Fred M. Blanchard, of Newberg, while working in the harvest field. One of the horses he was driving to a header wagon became frightened at a blast from the engine and struck him with a fore foot, knocking him down. The team ran over him resulting in a broken leg. He is being cared for at the home of Henry McGuire Jr. and is getting along well. His brother Leslie is with him.

Mrs. Frances Matthews, the wife of W. E. Matthews, died at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland last Saturday night, following a surgical operation for internal cancer. Funeral services were held at Friends church in Newberg Tuesday morning, the services being conducted by Rev. Homer Cox, pastor of Sunnyside Friends church, Portland, assisted by Rev. Lindley A. Wells and Rev. Charles O. Whitely. The Matthews family were residents of Newberg a few years ago and the ladies of the Sunday School class of which Mrs. Matthews was a member, attended the funeral in a body. The deceased leaves a husband and one son.

On Tuesday Mrs. N. L. Wiley, of Rex, gave a dinner in honor of her mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Jessup, it being her eightieth birthday anniversary. The ladies in attendance from Newberg were Mrs. L. M. Parker, Miss Ella Macy, Mrs. Frank Gorman, Mrs. Jesse Edwards, Mrs. Henry Ehret, Mrs. Martha Vestal, Mrs. A. T. Blair, Mrs. A. E. Moore and Mrs. E. H. Woodward. It was a surprise for Mrs. Jessup and when the guests arrived, they found her engaged in making a dress for herself. Her health is very good. At the noon hour a big chicken dinner was served and the afternoon was spent very pleasantly in reminiscent conversation.

No Heavenly Rest.

Aunt Dilsey lay very ill and her friends sat around trying to console her with the prospect of soon being with the angels. "Doan' you fret, Dilsey," said one; "befo' long you'll be in de long, happy res' in Heaven."

Aunt Dilsey rose up indignant-ly. "Go on," she exclaimed, "dey ain' goin' to be no res' fo' me! No sooner'n I get thar and set down on a pearly bench St. Peter gwine come roun' and say, 'Git up from there, nigger, an' go ha'nt like er ghos'!"

Deduction.

"Now, Dorothy," said the teacher to a small pupil, "can you tell me what a panther is?" "Yeth, ma'am," lisped Dorothy. "A panther ith a man that makth panths."

When the going is hard the only thing to do is to go harder.
