BAN ON CIGARETTES

Good Positions Closed to Young Men Who Indulge in Their Use

With the hope that some boys and young men who read the Graphic may be saved from the cigarette habit, we herewith publish what a number of well known business firms have to say regarding the employment of labor:

Larkin Soap Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

"We do not employ boys in the Larkin office who smoke cigarettes. An applicant addicted to the use of cigarettes would not interest us; but if he seemed to possess qualifications that made him desirable, he would have to decide between the cigarette and the job."

J. B. Blood Co., Lynn, Mass.

"We have found that among the class of men we employ the habit of smoking cigarettes has proven very harmful, making them wholly inefficient. We will not employ one who smokes cigarettes."

Arakelyan Press, Boston, Mass.

"We discriminate against boys whom we know use cigarettes. We do this because we think that cigarette smoking disturbs the mind and makes the person inefficient in his work."

J. A. Houston Co., Boston, Mass.

"Our reason for not employing juniors who are addicted to the use of cigarettes, is that we feel that their habitual use by a young man is demoralizing to his general character."

Panecock Military College, San Antonio, Texas.

"The cigarette unfits the body for physical endurance, incapacitates the mind for attention and concentration, and renders the soul irresponsible to the appeals of truth, honesty and manhood. Among boys the majority of smokers are untruthful and all are unreliable."

Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, Illinois.

"We do not employ young men addicted to the use of cigarettes."

Brown, Durrell Co., Importers and Manufacturers, Boston.

"In hiring boys who wish to learn our business, one of the questions asked is whether the boy uses cigarettes, and if we find that he does smoke we do not hire such a boy. There are business reasons as well as those of a moral basis, to influence business men in discouraging the employment of the cigarette fiend."

United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

"It is against the rules of the Senate for pages to smoke cigarettes, and this rule is strictly enforced."

Golden Rule Mercantile Business, Fairfield, Idaho.

"We will not employ boys who smoke cigarettes because they are not capable of doing good reliable work."

SUNDAY EVENINGS AT THE PARK

The Newberg Ministerial Association met on Monday and arranged a plan of Union Gospel Temperance Services in the park for the six Sabbath evenings beginning July 23rd and going through August. The following committees were appointed:

Music, Rev. Gould and son; park arrangements, Revs. Stannard and Whitely; publicity, Secretary Lee.

The speakers will be provided by the pastors without previous announcement. All Gospel churches of Newberg and vicinity are invited to unite in the movement. Some of the topics to be presented are as follows: "Gospel Temperance;" "The Present Prohibitory Law—the Pros and Cons;" "Danger of the Brewers' Proposed Bill;" "Advantages of the Proposed Prohibitory Amendment."

A large choir is to be gathered from all the churches, and every one is invited and urged to help make these meetings a great blessing.

PREW-SKUNK FARM

George M. Newman and C. M. Flickinger, two Linn county citizens, have established a skunk farm six miles north of the city of Albany, and will make a business of raising these highly perfumed descendants of the cat family for commercial purposes. Their farm is now stocked with 74 of the most beautiful and strongest smelling skunks that you ever looked at or smelled of, 68 of which were captured near Albany, the balance having been born on the farm. The farm has been established about six weeks.

While the undertaking has required considerable work, it has not been fraught with as much danger from an odoriferous viewpoint as might be surmised by the uninitiated, for Mr. Newman says "there is a knack in catching skunks just as there is and are in every other trade or profession" and that in six weeks he had been scented only twice.

All of the polecats have been captured within a radius of 50 miles of Albany. The men have not devoted their entire time to the work by any means, but went into localities where they heard there were skunks and have become experts in tracing the animals. This is said to be the only industry of its kind in Oregon.

When the two men decided to start the skunk farm they were confronted by a large initial expense in securing the animals if they had to buy them because live skunks cost from $15 to $50 apiece. They realized that it would mean too large a financial outlay to buy as many animals as they wanted, so they determined to catch the polecats themselves.

It is the intention of Messrs. Newman and Flickinger to increase their skunk farm gradually until they have 20 one-acre pens and to keep 2000 female skunks. Each of these animals would produce a litter of from 5 to 12 skunks once a year. Each fur brings from $2.50 to $5.00.

Besides the fur value of these animals, the oil which is obtained from them is used quite extensively for medicinal purposes. A properly conducted skunk farm generally proves a paying proposition.—Benton Co. Courier.

CANNERY MAKES A GOOD START

Although the cannery did not get ready to run until after the rains had injured the cherry crop badly, the first five days after it opened for business made a good showing, the stuff handled being as follows:

Royal Anne Cherries.....	34,880 lbs.
Bing Cherries.....	2,176 "
Lambert Cherries.....	139 "
Black Republican Cherries.....	964 "
White Cherries.....	4,736 "
Loganberries.....	55,768 "
Black Raspberries.....	12,140 "
Red Raspberries.....	1,287 "
Total	88,115 "

ICE CREAM AND BAND MUSIC AT REX

The monthly meeting of the Rex Civic Improvement Club was held in the Rex schoolhouse on Tuesday evening. There was a short business meeting, followed by a program, in which the Fernwood band rendered a number of pieces. After the program ice cream was served.

The program consisted of the following: Piano solo by Miss Mary Jones; reading by Mrs. Eves; song by the girls; recitation by Miss Edna Doree; piano solo by Lewellyn Sanderman; recitation by Mrs. Woodworth; and two songs by the young men's quartette of Rex. After this program everybody went outside to the school playground, where the Fernwood band, consisting of 18 pieces, played four selections, which were very good. The band is steadily improving, and if they keep up the good work it won't be long before they will gain a reputation for themselves.

In appreciation of the kindness of the band to come to Rex and give some selections the young men's quartette had decided to treat the band to ice cream, and also all those present, for which five gallons were frozen by them early in the evening and was furnished after the program in the schoolhouse to everybody.

The evening was wound up by more selections by the band and games on the school grounds. It was voted in the meeting to discontinue having any more meetings until October.

AN IDEAL NATION

The following lines written by Frank B. Pike were read at a recent meeting of the C. E. Society or the Christian church and are published by request.

You ask for an ideal nation,
But where in this world can we look
To find a people or nation
That lives up to the blessed Book?
Oh where can we find a nation
That upholds right, and discourages wrong;
That makes laws to strengthen the weaker
And not laws to weaken the strong?
Oh where can we find a nation
That stands for love and for peace?
And works each day for the motto,
Horrible war must cease.
Oh what of our own great nation
With her emblem of red, white and blue;
Does she to all teach the plan of salvation
And to the God that she trusts in, be true?
Oh why, dear ones of this nation,
Can we not all be loving and true?
And in pride point to our banner,
The glorious red, white and blue.
And say in this land of freedom
Where right and truth will ne'er cease
While the stars and stripes float above
us,
That we stand firm for love and for
peace.
And now, dear Heavenly Father,
We pray, that the Christian's prayer
never may cease
Till we as a people and nation
Stand firm for the truth and for peace.

C. Y. P. U. NOTES

In the near future the executive board are making some plans for some extension service. The first meeting will be held at Rex. The date and details will be published later. Miss Lela Heveland has charge of the Methodist service next Sunday evening and the subject is "Do I honor Christ in my use of Sunday?" This is a good subject for some older people to think over as well as the young people and should not be confined within the bounds of our Methodist Young Peoples' Society for consideration. Miss Ruby Moore will lead the Baptist meeting, considering the topic, "Purity, Temperance and Strength." The Springbrook Society informs us that they had 47 in attendance at their meeting on July 2. This is great for these young people and they certainly display some enthusiasm. Who can beat it? Wake up, reporters, let's have some news for the summer months. Everybody hoot and let's keep up a good lively spirit in the Union all summer and all next winter and all the time. Press Cor.

NEWBERG HAWAIIANS AT SAN DIEGO

The following note, along with others written by one of the Oregon soldier boys, appeared in the Evening Telegram a few days ago:

"Some of the boys found old acquaintances in a family of Hawaiians who are presenting the hula hula and Hawaiian songs at the 'Isthmus.' Their name is Ward and they live at Newberg." We have Irish and Dutch, Missonians and Hoosiers living here, but who can locate the "family of Hawaiians?"

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The W. C. T. U. met at the city park July 12, but owing to so few being in attendance the program, "Health and Heredity," by Mrs. Round, was postponed to August 9th, or it may possibly be given at the next regular meeting, July 26th, when the Union meets at Mrs. C. R. Chapin's, 214 Sheridan street. Please, every member, try to be present. Press Supt., pro tem.

WILL CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Today's Oregonian contains the following news note written from Sheridan, regarding Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Winslow, one time residents of Newberg:

"H. H. Winslow, a veteran of the Civil War, serving in Company F, 89th Indiana, and for three years Mayor of Sheridan, and his wife will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Monday. The same day will be the occasion for a family reunion.

"The Winslow family holds a record for longevity. Mr. and Mrs. Winslow are great-grandparents and there never has been a death in the family. The children are beginning to gather for the reunion. A daughter, Mrs. William Manning, of Tacoma, is here, and two sons and their families arrived today by automobile from California. Ralph F. Winslow is from San Pedro, California, and Glenn Winslow is from Los Angeles.

"The two families traveled together and the trip north was made without mishap and 150 miles a day was averaged."
